PROCEEDINGS

OF THE

Church Missionary Society

FOR

AFRICA AND THE EAST.

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY LIBRARY

THIRTY-NINTH YEAR.

CONTAINING THE

ANNIVERSARY SERMON,

BY THE REV. JOHN NORMAN PEARSON, M.A.

LATE PRINCIPAL OF THE SOCIETY'S INSTITUTION.

THE THIRTY-NINTH REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE;

AND

A LIST OF SUBSCRIBERS AND BENEFACTORS.

LONDON:

PRINTED BY RICHARD WATTS, CROWN COURT, TEMPLE BAR.

Published for the Society,

BY J. HATCHARD & SON, PICCADILLY; AND L. & G. SEELEY, 169, FLEET STREET.

1839.

Price, Two Shillings.

Communications on the General Business of the Society to be thus addressed—

"SECRETARIES,
"CHURCH MISSIONARY HOUSE,
"SALISBURY SQUARE, LONDON."

Correspondence relative to Association Meetings, and Sermons on behalf of the Society, to be addressed—

"THE ASSOCIATION SECRETARIES" (in their respective Districts).

All Bills and Orders for Money to be made payable to the Lay Secretary—D. COATES, Esq.

The Office of the Society is open Daily (Sundays excepted), from Nine in the Morning till Seven in the Evening.

One of the Secretaries attends at the Office daily, between the hours of Eleven o'Clock in the Morning and Four o'Clock in the Afternoon, unless particular business should render it necessary for them to be absent.

The Committee meet, at the Society's House, every Second Monday in the Month throughout the Year, at Twelve o'Clock.

SUBSCRIPTIONS AND CONTRIBUTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED AT THE SOCIETY'S HOUSE;

At the Society's Bankers—MESSRS. WILLIAMS, DEACON, LABOUCHERE, and Co., 20, Birchin Lane;

And at the following Places:

MESSRS. HOARE, 37, Fleet Street.

MESSRS. SEELEY, 169, Fleet Street.

MESSRS. HATCHARD & SON, 187, Piccadilly.

In Dublin, by

MESSRS. JOHN DAVID LA TOUCHE & Co.

REV. D. T. K. DRUMMOND, and REV. D. BAGOT.

 The Committee of the Church Missionary Society beg to suggest to the Committees and Officers of Associations, that the most convenient and economical mode of making their Remittances is through the medium of a Banker in the Country to the Society's Bankers, through the Banking-house in town with which the Country Banker corresponds, advising the Secretaries of the payment.

ANNUAL REPORT.

WITH a view to economize expenditure in Printing the Annual Report, the Committee request that Copies not required by the possessors may be returned to the Church Missionary House: and would suggest, whether, in those cases where more than one member of a family is entitled to the Report, one copy of it might not suffice for the information of the whole?

PROPER FORM OF A DONATION TO THE SOCIETY BY WILL.

I GIVE and bequeath the sum of unto the Treasurer for the time being of a voluntary Society meeting in or near London, commonly called or known by the name of "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East:" the same to be paid within months next after my decease, out of such part only of my Personal Estate as shall not consist of Mortgages or Chattels Real, in Trust, to be applied to the uses and purposes of that Society; and for which the receipt of such Treasurer shall be a sufficient discharge.

 Devises of land, or of money charged on land, or secured on mortgage of lands or tenements, or to be laid out in lands or tenements, are void; but money or stock may be given by Will, if not directed to be laid out in land.

At the Thirty-ninth Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Exeter Hall, Strand, on Tuesday, April 30, 1839—

The Right Hon. the EARL of CHICHESTER, President, in the Chair.

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE HAVING BEEN READ BY THE CLERICAL SECRETARIES—

On a Motion of the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Winchester, seconded by the Rev. Francis Close,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, of which an Abstract has now been read, be received, and printed under the direction of the Committee; and that, while the Society feels the serious difficulty of its present financial situation, it derives encouragement in its course from the many tokens which it has enjoyed in the past year of the Divine Blessing upon its proceedings.

On a Motion of the Rev. Henry Raikes, Chancellor of Chester, seconded by the Rev. Richard Burgess,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the activity of the Church of Rome to extend its influence, especially in those countries wherein Protestant Missions are carried on, calls for increased exertion, liberality, faith, and prayer, on the part of Members of our Protestant Church, to extend to the Heathen that system of pure Scripture truth which is so fully embodied in her Articles, Liturgy, and Homilies.

On a Motion by the Right Hon. Lord Teignmouth, M.P., seconded by John Pemberton Plumptre, Esq. M.P.

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Meeting regards with deep interest the present situation of the Islands of New Zealand, both as it respects the Natives and the Mission; and earnestly hopes that Her Majesty's Government may be induced to employ its own agency in devising and executing such measures for the correction of existing evils, as may at once secure the national rights of the Natives, and promote their social and religious improvement.

On a Motion by the Right Hon. Lord Mount Sandford, seconded by the Rev. Edward Bickersteth,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the thanks of this Meeting be given to the Rev. John Norman Pearson, for his Sermon before the Society last evening; to the Right Hon. the President; to the Vice-Patrons and Vice-Presidents; and to all those friends, who during the past year, have exerted themselves in its behalf;—That the following Gentlemen be appointed the Committee for the year ensuing, with power to fill up vacancies;—And, that, considering the financial situation of the Society, the Meeting earnestly calls upon all its members, for such increased exertions in their several spheres as may, through the Divine Blessing, place the Society in a situation successfully to prosecute those important plans of usefulness in which it is so hopefully engaged. (See List, after Vice-Presidents.)

At a Meeting of the Society, held in Exeter Hall, on Tuesday Evening, April 30, 1839—

The Most Hon. the MARQUESS CHOLMONDELEY, Vice-Patron, in the Chair.

AN EXTRACT FROM THE REPORT HAVING BEEN READ BY THE REV. THOMAS VORES, SECRETARY—

On a Motion by the Rev. Charles Hodgson, seconded by the Rev. John Johnson,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That while the Meeting deeply mourns the removal, by death, during the past year, of so many of those who were usefully engaged in promoting the extension of Christ's Kingdom in the Heathen world, it would bow with humble submission to the dispensations of an all-wise and merciful God; and implore Him to prepare and send forth, by His Holy Spirit, other able Ministers of the New Testament, to enter into and follow up their labours.

On a Motion by the Hon. and Rev. Baptist W. Noel, seconded by the Rev. Charles Frederick Childe,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That it affords the Meeting much satisfaction to learn the progress which is making in the different Missions of the Society in establishments for training Natives for Christian Teachers; being deeply convinced, that, under the Divine Blessing, it is through the instrumentality of Natives, suitably qualified, that the extensive propagation of the Gospel among the Heathen is to be expected; and that, adverting to the present circumstances of the Society, the Meeting earnestly calls upon its members and friends to render it that pecuniary assistance which its situation demands; and, still more especially, with increasing earnestness, supplicate a more abundant effusion of the Holy Spirit on all that are engaged in carrying on its operations, both at home and abroad.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR AFRICA AND THE EAST.

I. THIS Institution shall be designated "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and shall be conducted by Patrons, Vice-Patrons, a President, Vice-Presidents, a Committee, and such Officers as may be deemed necessary, all being Members of the Established Church.

II. The office of PATRONS of the Society shall be reserved for such Members of the Royal Family as may honour it with their protection. VICE-PATRONS shall be appointed exclusively from among the Peers, Spiritual and Temporal. The PRESIDENT shall be such Peer or Commoner, and the VICE-PRESIDENTS such Commoners, as may be appointed thereto.

OF MEMBERS AND GOVERNORS.

III. Annual Subscribers of One Guinea and upwards, and if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea, with Collectors of Fifty-two Shillings and upwards per annum, shall be Members of the Society during the continuance of such Subscriptions or Collections. Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upwards, Clergymen making Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, and Executors paying to the amount of Fifty Pounds, shall be Members for Life.

IV. Annual Subscribers of Five Guineas shall be Governors during the continuance of such Subscription; and Benefactors of Fifty Pounds and upwards shall be Governors for Life.

V. Members and Governors of Associations who contribute the above sums shall be considered as Members and Governors of the Parent Society.

VI. The Committee shall have the power of appointing such persons as have rendered essential services to the Society, either Members for Life, or Governors for Life.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May, in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday the 30th of April; when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and Committee chosen.

VIII. A Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society, at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a Quorum, shall be called at any time, at the requisition of the General Committee; or by any Thirteen Members, on addressing a Letter to the Secretary, specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in Three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Rules of the Society shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones established, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London, by a Clergyman appointed by the General Committee. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed, for the use of its Members.

OF THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The Committee shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church; and of all such Clergymen as are Members of the Society. Eighteen Members shall be annually appointed from the Old Committee, and Six from the General Body.

XII. The COMMITTEE shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church), a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, and a Committee of Accounts. Each of the said Committees shall keep Minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same to the General Committee.

XIII. The office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate, to the General Committee, proper persons, as Patrons, Vice-Patrons, and Vice-Presidents of the Society.

XIV. The office of the Committee of Funds is, to circulate information respecting the Society; to adopt proper means of augmenting the Subscriptions and Benefactions; to obtain Collections in Churches and Chapels; and to nominate, from time to time, to the General Committee, suitable persons to act as Agents for the Society in the principal Towns throughout the Empire.

XV. The office of the Committee of Correspondence is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to superintend their instruction, and to correspond with them when sent out.

XVI. The office of the Committee of Accounts is, to see that the Subscriptions are duly received, regulate the accounts, and undertake the charge of fitting out and conveying the Missionaries to their places of destination.

XVII. The General Committee shall receive the Reports of the other Committees, shall appoint the places where Missions shall be attempted, shall direct the scale upon which they shall be conducted, and shall superintend the affairs of the Society in general.

XVIII. The General Committee shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful; the other Committees as often; and at such places as shall be by them agreed on: their Meetings to be always opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable Prayers selected from the Liturgy. Five Members shall be necessary to compose a General Committee; and Three, each of the others. In case of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XIX. The Patrons, Vice-Patrons, and President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Secretaries, shall be considered, ex officio, Members of all Committees.

XX. Governors, being Members of the Established Church, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the General Committee.

XXI. All payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three of the General Committee, in Committee, and the Lay Secretary.

XXII. The Committee shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assisiants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting.

XXIII. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the Committee, annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society; of whom, Three shall be chosen from the General Body. Three shall be a Quorum.

XXIV. The Life Subscriptions, or a sufficient part thereof, to be equal to the Subscriptions of the existing Members for Life, shall be placed in the Public Funds, in the names of Four of the General Committee; who, on their acceptance of the trust, shall sign a declaration of the nature of it, and that they will relinquish the same whenever called upon for that purpose by the General Committee.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXV. In the appointment of Candidates for the Missionary Office, the following course shall be pursued:——The Committee of Correspondence having found a person supposed to be suitable, shall determine by ballot to nominate him to the General Committee. Previous to the day of nomination, each Member of the General Committee shall receive notice of such nomination. On the day of nomination, a report shall be made, by some Member of the Committee of Correspondence, of his qualifications; and the General Committee shall then proceed to ballot for him, unless any Member shall declare that he wishes for further information; in which case the ballot shall be deferred till the next Meeting of the general Committee. In the ballot of either Committee, the agreement of at least Three-fourths of the Members present shall be necessary to his election.

XXVI. A Candidate thus chosen shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVII. If, during such preparation, any Two Members of the General Committee should see cause to disapprove of his principles or conduct, they may submit the subject to a Special Meeting of the Committee; and, if deemed proper, the Committee may appoint another ballot, to determine whether he shall be continued as a Candidate; of which, special notice shall be given to each Member.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself as engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time, which the Committee shall choose: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society. As soon as he quits England, he shall keep a regular Journal of his studies and proceedings; a copy of which he shall send, as often as opportunity shall serve, to the Secretaries.

XXIX. Each Candidate, after due preparation, shall, if not admitted to Holy Orders, be appointed by the Committee to act as a Catechist. If admitted to Holy Orders, he shall be appointed a Missionary.

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the General Committee: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, suitable provision shall be made, to render their remaining days comfortable. The General Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon his designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

Suggested Order of Proceedings at a Meeting preparatory to the Formation of an Association in aid of the Church Missionary Society.

1.—Mr. will move, and Mr. will second, a Resolution, "That be requested to take the Chair."

2.—The Chairman will briefly state the object for which the Meeting is assembled, and then call on the Rev. to offer up the usual Prayer to Almighty God, for a blessing on the proceedings of the day.

3.—After prayer, the Chairman will make such further observations as he may deem necessary, and then call on Mr. to move the First Resolution.

FIRST RESOLUTION.—Moved by Seconded by

That this Meeting fully recognises the duty incumbent on Christians to employ all suitable means for the propagation of the Gospel throughout the world; and hails, with thankfulness to the Great Head of the Church, the labours of the CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY in its various Stations in Heathen Lands, and among decayed Christian Churches.

SECOND RESOLUTION.—Moved by Seconded by

That an Association be now formed, and entitled, "The Church Missionary Association;" and that the following be its Officers and Rules:

PRESIDENT. VICE-PRESIDENTS.

TREASURER. SECRETARY.

COMMITTEE:

RULES.

I. Annual Members of this Association shall be all persons subscribing annually One Guinea or upward, or, if Clergymen, Half a Guinea; and also such persons as shall collect in its behalf One Shilling or upward per week.

II. Life Members shall be Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upward, or, if Clergymen, such as shall contribute Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, and Executors paying bequests of Fifty Pounds.

III. Annual Governors shall be Subscribers of Five Guineas per annum.

IV. Life Governors shall be Benefactors of Fifty Pounds.

V. Members will be entitled to receive the Annual Reports of the Parent Society, and to vote at its General Meetings: and Collectors of One Shilling and upward per week will receive a copy of each Monthly Number of the "Church Missionary Record." Governors will be entitled to receive the Reports; and, if Members of the Established Church, to vote at Committee and General Meetings of both the Association and the Parent Society. Clergymen will have the same privilege as Governors. Contributors of 1*d.* a week and upward will be entitled to receive the Parent Society's "Quarterly Paper."

VI. The objects of this Association shall be, to call forth the zeal of well-disposed persons, and particularly those of the Established Church, in support of the Church Missionary Society; and to recommend proper persons who may offer themselves as Missionaries to the Parent Society—to disperse as widely as possible Missionary information—to promote the formation of Branch Associations—and to procure Collections and other Contributions.

VII The whole of the funds so obtained, after deducting incidental expenses only, shall be remitted to the Church Missionary Society, in aid of its designs.

VIII. A General Meeting shall be held annually, on such day as shall be fixed by the Committee; when a Report of the Proceedings of the Association sball be read, and an account of its receipts and disbursements presented, duly audited.

THIRD RESOLUTION.—Moved by Seconded by

That the success which, under the Divine Blessing, has attended the Church Missionary Society, in its efforts to make known the Gospel of Christ among the Heathen, is a loud and providential call for increased exertions, for devout thanksgiving to Almighty God, and for continual prayer for a more abundant outpouring of the Holy Spirit, to render the means employed successful.

FOURTH RESOLUTION.—Moved by Seconded by

That the new and enlarged openings for Missionary exertion, in different quarters, demand our best energies to make known the blessed Gospel of Christ to Heathen and Mahomedan Nations.

A

PREACHED AT ST. BRIDE'S CHURCH,

FLEET STREET,

ON MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 29, 1839,

BEFORE THE

BY THE

REV. JOHN NORMAN PEARSON, M.A.

LATE PRINCIPAL OF THE SOCIETY'S INSTITUTION.

SERMON,

&c. &c.

MALACHI, I. 11.

IN EVERY PLACE INCENSE SHALL BE OFFERED UNTO MY NAME, AND A PURE OFFERING.

THERE are two phenomena of the moral world which severely task the faith of religious minds. One is, that so large a proportion of the globe should not even be nominally Christian: the other is, that Christendom itself should be so corrupt, and so scantily endued with vital godliness. That a scheme so admirably contrived, as the scheme of Christ's pacification, to exhibit Jehovah in the brightest glories of his goodness, should not yet have been even reported to millions of the human race; and that so much impurity should cleave to that Church, which is the body of Jesus Christ; is among those hard problems, the solution of which will probably be deferred, until mankind have reached a higher stage of religious proficiency. Attempts may be made to reconcile our minds to these difficulties in the moral administration of the world, by showing that the system of nature lies open to similar objections; and that much physical energy runs to waste, in abortive productions, and through counteracting forces. Now, if God permit those causes which tend to natural good to be defeated by maladies to which sin has subjected the material creation, we may reasonably expect that he should suffer moral evil, the corruption which is in the world through lust, to throw obstacles in the way of his moral government, and to hinder that large diffusion of spiritual good, which the means ordained seem adequate to produce.

But analogies of this kind are more ingenious than conclusive. They silence rather than satisfy; and go but a little way toward answering the inquiry, why so extraordinary an engine as the Gospel of Jesus Christ should be left to work under circumstances of great disadvantage, instead of being armed with irresistible power, to subdue at once all things to itself. They do not abate our astonishment that the spiritual temple should be so incomplete, when we call to mind the foundation on which it is rising, and the power that is employed in its construction.

Yet, although to attempt fathoming the abyss of God's judgments were an arrogant folly, it is nowise inconsistent with religious humility to track His footsteps, so far as Revelation lends us its light. When we consider the slow progress that Christianity has made; that it has perished in many places where once it flourished; that the strongest barriers oppose its introduction into some of the most populous divisions of the globe; that, throughout a large extent of the Christianized world, the pure faith of the Gospel is deformed with gross errors and idolatrous inventions; and that even the purest Churches, if thoroughly tried, would turn out not a little drossy; when we consider all this, we are constrained to lay our hand upon our mouth, and to abase ourselves before that Supremacy, which disdains the presumptuous demand, What doest thou? It should be enough for us, that the Lord is in heaven, while we are upon earth; and that His thoughts and ways are proportionably elevated above ours. In the mean time, our faith may find comfort in such reflections as the following. First, That it is the prerogative of an Infinite Being to be deliberate and slow; whereas haste and precipitation are the characteristics of a limited nature. With God, a thousand years are as one day: and it were needless for him to accelerate his measures, since he can create opportunities; and his eternity, wisdom, and power, are securities that his purposes will never be anticipated or defeated. Secondly, That much may be going forward, by secret and unnoticed processes, conducive and preparatory to the developement of Messiah's kingdom. Thirdly, That God has consulted his own glory, in thus far contracting the supply of his Spirit; since he has thereby made apparent the insufficiency of moral means, of the strongest objective inducements, although accompanied with common grace, to overcome the repugnance of the human heart to the humbling doctrines and self-denying precepts of the Gospel. And, Fourthly, That, contrasted with the state of thick darkness or glimmering twilight between which the world has been so long divided, the glory of that cloudless day will be the more conspicuous, when the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.

These are some of the reflections with which a Christian may put down unbelief, when it is ready to exclaim against the slackness of the Lord to fulfil his promise. But the Prophecies have a specific virtue, to revive our drooping faith. To them we must look, as to lamps shining in dark places; their several meanings being cleared up by reciprocal illumination, and a mighty splendour cast into futurity by their combined rays. By the anticipations of faith, the Church may be said to draw upon the patrimony assigned for its adult age, in order to support and cheer it during its minority. The particular text which I proceed to unfold contains a sublime annunciation of that triumphant era, when Messiah shall have dominion from sea to sea, and shall establish his throne, not so much on the necks, as in the hearts of his enemies.

It is usual with the Prophets to describe the dispensation of the Gospel by terms and analogies taken from the Mosaic Ritual. Thus, in the chapter before us, after severely animadverting on the Jews for their scant and beggarly offerings, their reluctant and heartless religion, the Prophet suddenly turns off, in a noble apostrophe, to the contrast which shall be presented in those golden days, when Christ shall have introduced a better covenant, displacing the dead letter of the Law by the lively ministration of the Spirit. Neither should it escape us, that the words "shall be" are interpolated throughout the verse, in our common Translation. Expunge them, and you have this illustrious era brought before you, as actually present. In the vivid and graphical sketches of Prophecy, the interval is swallowed up, which divides us from the crowning triumph of the everlasting age; and we are transported, as in a moment, into the midst of a spiritual priesthood, and are bearing a part in those sublime adorations, which will pour in from every quarter in future days, and will mount up together, like a cloud of sweet incense, to the presence of the Holy One of Jacob.

In discussing our text, I shall, with Divine help, explain,

I. THE PREDICTION, THAT INCENSE SHALL BE OFFERED TO THE NAME OF JEHOVAH.

II. THAT A PURE OFFERING SHALL BE PRESENTED TO IT.

And, III. I shall APPLY THE WHOLE TO THE FUTURE AND PREDESTINED GLORY OF MESSIAH'S KINGDOM.

I. The first circumstance to which our attention is directed, as characteristic of the latter times, is, that incense shall be offered unto the Name of Jehovah. Now, I hardly need observe, that this representation is figurative, and not to be taken in the letter: for the typical actions and ordinances of the Tabernacle were to be abolished (as St. Paul proves, in his Epistle to the Hebrews) in order to make way for a spiritual dispensation. They were pledges and symbols, which disappeared when the realities involved in them came forth, just as blossoms are cast off by nature, as useless or hurtful, when the latent fruit they were designed to shelter has protruded.

We shall, nevertheless, find our account in exploring these sacred mysteries. The symbol is often more level with our capacities than the thing symbolized: and we may arrive at a more exact acquaintance with the Christian scheme, by comparing it with the significant adumbrations of the Law, than we could by examining it in itself; as lofty structures are most easily measured by their shadows.

To those who have bestowed any serious thought on the peculiarities of the Levitical institutes, the observation must be familiar, that those sacrificial rites, by which Christ, the great Head of the Church, is eminently typified, do likewise parabolically instruct us in the character, duties, and privileges of his mystical members. Thus the animal sacrifices, which were carefully inspected, to see that they were sound both without and within, carry a subordinate allusion to imputed and to inherent righteousness, to that which is upon all, and to that which is in all them that believe; while they point, in their first design, at the perfect satisfaction of Jesus, the Lamb without blemish and without spot. The like double interpretation applies to the perpetual fire upon the altar; and to the rites of purification, through which the healed leper was restored to the congregation of Israel; and the principle will be found to hold good in numerous instances. Our present concern, however, is with the frankincense, a precious perfume, curiously compounded, after instructions from God himself; and which, besides being always poured upon the meat-offerings, was daily burnt, by itself, on the golden altar. Thither it was brought by the officiating priest, after being kindled at the fire of the altar of burnt-offering; a fire (be it remarked) which came down from heaven, and was never allowed to go out. The altar upon which the smoking censer was placed, stood just before the vail; through which its fragrant fumes would be wafted into the holiest place, the antitype of which is the heaven of heavens; and into this most sacred chamber, the censer itself was taken by the High Priest alone, and only once in the year. — Leaving it to your private thoughts to adjust these particulars with the points of correspondence in the evangelical scheme, I would merely remark, that this rare incense, which it was a capital crime to imitate, denotes, primarily, the intercession of the Saviour. He hath given himself for us—as St. Paul declares, in allusion to this ordinance—an offering and a sacrifice to God, for a sweet smelling savour:—and what can we substitute in place of His merits, without incurring fatal hazard?

It is further observable, that while (in Rev. viii. 3) the incense is emblematical of those mediatorial merits by which the prayers of the saints are made pleasant to God, in ch. v. 8, of the same Book, it symbolizes the prayers themselves. Whence may we not infer, that inasmuch as true believers are incorporated into Christ by the righteousness of faith, their intercessions for the Church and for themselves are in some sort identified with his. On the fragrant wings of his piacular advocacy are our feeble prayers borne aloft, and wafted into the heavenly sanctuary: and though issuing from a source defiled by nature, yet, by virtue of this mediatorial transmission, they find acceptance with Him, who is of purer eyes than to behold evil. Unworthy as the gifts must ever be in themselves, they are sanctified by the altar on which they are presented, and by the holy blood wherewith they are mystically sprinkled.

Before passing on to another part of my subject, I would mention, that the word here rendered incense is, in the original, the past participle of a verb which means to fume; and may properly denote any sacrifice which, being consumed by fire, was carried up in smoke. Its spiritual meaning, accordingly, should not be restricted to proper acts of worship, but should be held to comprise all those holy works which are the products of a spiritual nature,—those sacrifices of righteousness, with which God is well pleased. Adopt this large sense, and translate the passage, 'In every place, whatever is fumed shall be brought near unto My Name;' and what less is represented to the mind, than the universal reign of evangelical righteousness? That immortal Jubilee bursts upon us, when the willingness of the sinner, whether Gentile or Jew, to approach the Lord God with a full dedication of body, soul, and spirit, shall correspond with that freedom of access which the Gospel has conferred. The wall of partition is broken down. The vail is rent in twain, from the top to the bottom. Let the contrite sinner draw near boldly, and he shall not be turned away. Yea, and he will draw near; for he shall be drawn, by grace itself, to the Throne from whence all grace is dispensed.

We must now attempt to elucidate that remarkable phrase, Offered unto My Name.

If we take this expression in its most superficial sense, as indicating a sacrifice accepted by God, because offered with such apprehensions and feelings as became the worshipper in relation to the great object of worship, we must still admit it to point at God, regarded in Christ Jesus. For since the Gospel was promulged, no service can be grateful to the supreme Father, but such as is presented on the basis of the Covenant established with mankind in the second Adam. There is, however, strong presumptive evidence for believing that this denomination of Jehovah is no meagre expletive, but conveys a direct and explicit allusion to Christ the Mediator. To offer prayers and praises to the Name of Jehovah seems to imply, in many passages of Scripture, not merely the presentation of worship to the Triune God indefinitely, but the honouring of him by a definite, though more or less distinct, recognition of Christ, as the only way of access to the Father. That this appellation of God is strictly associated with the character he sustains in Redemption, may be inferred from a passage in the Sixty-third of Isaiah, compared with one in the Twenty-third of Exodus. For Isaiah, in that solemn commemoration of the mercies of God to his chosen people, evidently alludes, under the name of the Angel of God's presence, to the extraordinary Being sent of God before the pilgrim Israelites, with an assurance that His Name was in Him. After declaring that JEHOVAH was their Saviour, the Prophet immediately follows up this declaration with ascribing their salvation to the Angel of His presence; and then studiously repeats, that is was He, Jehovah, who redeemed them. Thus is the supreme God identified with that pre-eminent Angel in whom His Name was, and who came forth from him for the very purpose of completing the redemption of Israel from its slavery in Egypt. Accordingly, we shall hardly seem precipitate, in concluding that this form of speech, the Name of the Lord, is a designation of the Godhead, with particular reference to the undertaking of the second Person in the blessed Trinity to emancipate his Church from the yoke of sin and Satan, of which the Egyptian bondage was a figure. Again, in Deut. xii., Jehovah directs some specific place to be consecrated to Himself, wherein he engages to cause His Name to dwell;—an expression which strongly corroborates our opinion, that the Name of Jehovah implies some great and singular manifestation of himself, as to his nature, his proceedings, or his purposes. In no other place, no house but this, which is set apart for the habitation of His Name, were sacrifices and offerings permitted;—a house, be it remembered, all glowing with symbolical emblazonry of the salvation by Christ, and in which the worshippers' devout attention was particularly directed to the Ark, with its mercy-seat, that pregnant emblem of Him who is given for a covenant of the people. In this dwelling-place of the Divine Name abode the Schechinah, the radiant token of the incarnation of the Word, and his tabernacling among men,—the mystical effigy of the only-begotten of the Father, whose glory was recognised by John and the other Apostles, as appertaining solely to the Mediatorial source of grace and truth. And our Lord himself seems to authorise the explanation we are proposing of the phrase in question, when he declares himself to have manifested the Name of the Father:—I have manifested Thy Name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world;—that Name, so mysterious and holy, so long enshrined in the imagery of the Tabernacle, and so earnestly inquired into by prophets and righteous men of old, to whom it was partially disclosed, as fraught with saving virtue;—that Name (and be it ever blessed!) is secret no longer, since God hath revealed his counsel in Christ of reconciling the world unto himself.—And who, my Brethren, who should be competent to explain that Name, but the wondrous Being, whose person and offices are its true interpretation?

On this interesting topic I have further to remark, that we have no slight ground for supposing that the elder patriarchs used this phrase, the Name of the Lord, with the same reference to God in Christ reconciling the world to himself. They appear to have understood the Name as a sacramental term, by which Jehovah exhibited himself conversing with guilty man through the promised Intercessor, the Word made flesh. You will hardly reject, as fanciful, the conjecture, that pious Noah called his second son 'Shem,' which is the Hebrew for name, just because he foresaw in him the progenitor of that Great One who should come in the Name of the Lord. And, to mount up still higher, do not Seth and his contemporaries appear to have recognised their future Deliverer under the same title? The verse on which I found this opinion is Gen. iv. 26: And to Seth, to him also there was born a son; and he called his name Enos: then began men to call upon the Name of the Lord.—Now, attend to the meaning of the word 'Enos.' It is the Hebrew appellation for man; but, primarily, signifies a poor, diseased, and abject creature; and is therefore most significant of man's wretchedness and moral impotence, in that he is far gone from original rectitude, and prone and prompt to evil, estranged from God the spring of goodness and felicity, and born to present trouble and endless woe. Considering the expressiveness of this name, 'Enos,' and how customary it was for parents, in primitive times, to give their children names allusive to some circumstance by which they were powerfully affected, or significant of some fondly-cherished hopes, there is nothing extravagant in the notion, that Seth, the head of a family which seems to have been dignified with the patriarchal priesthood, named a son with reference to that primal sin, of which the disastrous effects were becoming more and more apparent. And then, even then, when groaning under a lively impression of the miseries which the fall of Adam entailed upon his offspring, did pious men of old unite to invoke the Name of the Lord,—to remind Jehovah of his promised salvation by the seed of the woman, and to cast themselves by faith on the atonement of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

II. Let us proceed to consider the latter part of the prediction, that a pure offering—a clean Minchah—shall be everywhere presented to Jehovah.

We have considered the offering of incense to imply the benign effect of our Lord's pacification, in rendering the worship and service of mankind acceptable to Jehovah. And surely the pure offering will express the sanctification of the Church, and of each individual believer,—and the consequent purity of those offerings which are brought near to Jehovah by the spiritual household.

I shall exhibit this thought under two aspects.—In the pure offering which is everywhere brought near to the name of God, I see, first, the enlargement and amelioration of the collective Church, together with the purification of public worship from those defects which now adhere to it. And, secondly, the improved character of individual Christians in that golden era into which the prophet carries our minds.

First: Let us fix our thoughts on the future and extraordinary extension and purity of the Church.—And here we are led to contemplate the entire extermination of the lewd and sanguinary rites of Paganism. Nor is it altogether unlikely that this passage insinuates the abolition of bloody sacrifices, through the oblation of that one great Victim, who, by actually putting away sin, hath annulled all symbolical immolations. Henceforth we are to render only unbloody offerings,—the sacrifices of thanksgiving, which Hosea emphatically styles, the calves of our lips. Even material incense, and the minchah, are superseded by the spiritual oblations of Christianity. Prayer is appointed for incense; and instead of the evening sacrifice, is the lifting up of holy hands, without wrath and doubting.

Moreover, that we are warranted to contemplate the catholic Church as one magnificent offering to Immanuel, is plain from Ephesians v. 25, &c.; wherein Christ is said to have loved the Church, and given himself for it, that he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word;—that he might present it to himself a glorious Church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy, and without blemish. Many now are Church-members, attached to the visible body, without being in union with the invisible Head. The Church teems with nominal Christians, self-deceivers, and hypocritical pretenders. But from these it shall hereafter, even within its visible pale, be wholly or extensively purged. What an august edifice will that be, my Brethren, which shall not only possess a corporate and federal holiness, but shall be intrinsically holy in all its component parts! How excellent must be that community, of which every member is washed, and justified, and sanctified! I can well believe that the heavens will bow down to unite themselves with such a Church; that angels will resort to it delighted; and that God himself will make it his rest, and joy over it with divine complacency. What an epoch will this Church have reached, when, in telling the members of its several congregations, you enumerate none but such as belong to the Church of the first-born, which are written in heaven; and when these congregations will be in every place, and will include in their countless rolls all the rational creation;—when there shall, in a transcendent sense, be neither Jew, nor Turk, nor Gentile; no scoffers and unbelievers; no hollow mercenary adherents, with Christ on their foreheads, and mammon in their hearts; but the whole world shall constitute one temple to Jehovah, and every heart be an altar.—Contrast this sublime picture with the spectacle now presented by the world; and you will sigh to find yourselves separated from its realization by a gulf which the eye of faith can hardly traverse. In many vast regions of the earth the name of Jesus is unknown, and not a third part of its inhabitants has been baptized into His religion. From that scanty portion deduct those whose Christianity is all comprised in the act of baptismal dedication,—those who are totally ignorant of the religion they profess, and those whose knowledge is unmixed with faith,—the bold blasphemer, the flippant sceptic, the froward heretic, the punctilious Pharisee, the Sadducean rationalist. Subtract these multitudes from the Church of the Redeemed; and along with them, all sensual, covetous, and careless livers—those who, by a mournful emphasis, are children of this world;—and how few remain to Christ!—Almighty Saviour, where are thy Redeemed? Oh! where are those whom thy Spirit hath renewed—the scattered remnant, who keep Thy word, and do not deny Thy Name,—and who shall walk with thee in white, among the chosen, and called, and faithful?—On surveying this dark scene, my Brethren, our hearts would sink within us, were they not supported by the prophetic assurance, that, in due time, this disproportion, between the friends of our Lord and his enemies, shall be reversed. For then, saith the Lord,—in the time appointed for the solemn assembly,—will I turn to the people (it should be peoples) a pure language, that they may all call upon the Name of the Lord, to serve him with one consent. In that day shall there be one Lord, and his Name one. God in Christ shall alone be adored with an uniform and unanimous worship; and there shall be no more the Canaanite in the house of the Lord of Hosts.

Secondly: Another circumstance, constituting the adult Church a pure offering, will be this, that its worship will be no longer debased with fiction and mummery. There will be an end to the forgeries and impostures, to the counterfeit wonders and multiplied idolatries, of the Church of Rome. The doctrines of transubstantiation, indulgences, masses, penances, purgatory, and supererogation, which are the main pillars of that corrupt hierarchy, will fall to the ground; and with them will be abolished the adoration of images, saints, and angels. These tares, which almost choke the good seed, will be utterly rooted out. No more grievous burdens, no superstitious exercises, and austerities, will be imposed on Christian worshippers; but the incense they bring, will be such as the Founder of our Religion himself hath prescribed.

Thirdly: The Universal Church will be free from Sectarian distinctions. At present, its true and lively members are split into various societies—not to say, factions,—and are sadly disunited in spirit. But party denominations, and paltry jealousies, the antipathies of acrimonious hearts, and the misunderstandings of infirm heads, will be succeeded by perfect concord of heart and mind and tongue, because knowledge and love will be mature. In the evening of the Gospel-day, whose earlier periods are neither clear nor dark,—so much are error, sin, and sorrow, mixed up with truth and holiness and comfort;—in the evening of that day will the Sun of righteousness scatter every cloud, and shine forth with more than noontide warmth and brightness.

Fourthly: We may also anticipate a considerable retrenchment of ecclesiastical ordinances, even such as are now most valuable and important. Some regimen must be always necessary for the conduct and usefulness of social worship. But the constitution of the Church in its maturity will doubtless be more simple than that of the best establishment now existing. The essentials of religion will then have outgrown the help of its accidentals. Many forms and formularies, which are highly beneficial for the nonage of the Church, might cramp and disfigure its maturity. Of no small use as stays and braces to keep together the frame of our temple in its unfinished state, they would be deformities after its completion, when it shall stand self-balanced, through the exactness of its symmetry and its thorough consolidation.—But to proceed:—

The religious worship of that brilliant age, to which we are looking forward, will have a peculiar purity, owing to the improved character of individual Christians. You will observe, that under the Legal dispensation an animal was reckoned impure, either if it were not of the sort which Jehovah had appropriated to his altar, or if, although of a legitimate kind, it were diseased or blemished. In these ceremonial regulations, the proper character of a Christian worshipper is not obscurely hinted. He is to present himself as a victim to the altar,—a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God. Though extrinsically clean, and consecrated to God through Jesus the Mediator of the new Covenant, this consecration will avail nothing, unless he be made inwardly and subjectively clean by Divine grace. God requires truth in the inward parts: and when the heart is hollow and unsound, our prayers are turned into sin, and our sacrifices become an abomination. The statements on this subject, in the first Chapter of Isaiah, are singularly awful and impressive: and, on the other hand, the Prophets discover lively exultation, when launching their thoughts into that triumphant period of the Church, during which its members shall be all righteous.—You will permit me just to glance at a few particulars, in which the superior sanctification of Christians, throughout that prosperous era, will qualify them for offering a more excellent worship than we can.

1. They will have attained a much higher illumination. We now know but little, and that little imperfectly. We are full of strange fancies and incorrect notions about God, his nature, his word, his covenants, and the ways of his providence. We are sadly in the dark about what we ought to pray for; and are unconscious or forgetful of numberless mercies, for which we ought to render thanks. In some sense, the very light that is in us is darkness; so dull, perverse, and indistinct is our apprehension. But with the citizens of the new Jerusalem there shall be no night; no stubborn prejudices, nor weak credulity; no visionary theories, nor confusion of thought, nor erroneous expression; but every idol of the heart and mind shall be abolished. They shall know the Lord Jesus, and the Father in him; the eyes of their understanding being enlightened, to see him as he is. And since the faith, love, and joy of sanctified hearts must be proportionate to their divine knowledge, the worship of the earthly Zion will then bear a noble likeness to the adorations of the highest heavens.

2. The conscience will then be thoroughly pure and undefiled.—A good man's conscience is seldom so completely tranquillized, that he can maintain an intercourse with the Father of spirits disturbed by no doubts and misgivings. His confidence sinks, at times, under the oppression of guilt; and fresh sins excite anew the terrors that had been quelled. A consciousness of some wilful disobedience, some carnal propensities, contracts his heart, and infects his offerings. Oh happy, happy state, when that worship, which is now so much debased by a spirit of bondage, shall be refined and elevated by the free spirit of adoption; and when the assurance of hope will shed a rich and grateful unction on the sacrifice and service of our faith! You have felt this blessedness, my Christian friends, in its infancy; think what it will be in its perfection.

3. There will be none, we may presume, of that double-mindedness and self-delusion, with which the purest minds of this silver age are more or less alloyed. Who can say that his religion is mixed up with no secular motives and by-ends, that it never wavers and temporizes, nor takes a tinge from worldly considerations? Do we never feel less than we express; nor ever shrink, through cowardice, from expressing what we feel? Do we carry a single eye to the glory of Christ, and the interests of his kingdom? There is more of carnality than pious people are willing to imagine, in their love to Jesus Christ, their zeal for his service, and the hopes they cherish of his second coming. But the religion of the saints, in the period contemplated, will be marred by none of these defects. They will never impose upon others by a form of godliness, nor be themselves deceived. Their worship will flow from an ingenuous spring of devotion to the Lord; and they will walk before him in simplicity and godly sincerity.

4. We are led to expect a state of perfect exemption from the dross of earthliness; from that listlessness and distraction, of which Christians so often complain, as turning their religious observances into vanity and sin. How often, amidst public worship,does the heart turn aside, if not to worldly recollections and projects, yet to speculations, which, by having a religious tincture, divert us the more effectually from the duties of the occasion! A single word catches our fancy, breaks the thread of our devout attention, and hurries us away, through a series of mental associations, to such a distance from the service in which we are outwardly engaged, that for some minutes we are lost to all that is sounding in our ears. Have you never groaned, my Brethren, on looking back at the conclusion of a Sabbath, to observe how little it has been sanctified, and how flat and spiritless have been your religious exercises? Have you never found, even when you most counted on a spiritual banquet, that wandering thoughts, like the fabled harpies, have rushed in upon your devotions, tainting the heavenly food set before you, and robbing you of your proposed repast? Rejoice, therefore, that there approaches a sabbatism, from which all these disorders shall be excluded. The royal priests of the finished Temple will never have to lament, that God's love and truth are denied the tranquil occupation of their hearts by the struggles of exorbitant appetite and undisciplined intellect. God will purely purge away their dross, and take away all their tin. The kingdom of Christ will be developed in their bosoms, in its purity and fulness; and to them it will not be less easy than delightful to have their conversation in heaven.

I have yet something to add, in the way of encouragement and exhortation:—

(1.) The promise of the text is most encouraging. It levels mountains,—dries up rivers,—exalts valleys,—makes crooked places straight, and rough places plain,—restores the outcast Jews to the temple of Jehovah,—carries the torch of Revelation into the fastnesses of heathen idolatry, and scatters unscriptural superstitions with the clear shining of vital Christianity. God foreshews these great events, by the mouth of his Prophets; and the good which God foreshews, he has ordained. Yet a little while, and his Son shall be anointed King in his holy hill of Zion, with the Heathen for his inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for his possession. The Spirit of grace may be expected to pour down in floods; of which the showers, that fall on us from time to time, are pledges and earnests. For, behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that the ploughman shall overtake the reaper; and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed; and the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt!

(2.) Since such promises are given for our direction and encouragement, what manner of persons, dear Brethren, ought we to be? If the blessed Trinity be incessantly employed in this work of universal regeneration, shall we not help it forward, as humble yet zealous instruments, with the best faculties that we have?

Assuredly, it is nothing less than our bounden duty to co-operate, to the utmost of our power, with the several Societies, whose aim it is to make the name of Jesus to be known, and precious, among those who are strangers and adversaries.

And here let me draw your particular attention to the Society, for which it is my grateful office to plead this evening. To pass lightly over its claims on your benevolence, would be to omit what is due, not so much to the Society itself, as to the supreme Head of the Church, whose servant it is, and whose ambassador I am. Nearly forty years are past, since it commenced its pious labours for the evangelizing of mankind. Do you ask what it has accomplished in that period? Enough, my friends, for thousands and tens of thousands to call it blessed. It has won its arduous way to many a commanding height, and there planted its engines for reducing the heathen world to the obedience of the Gospel. It has opened a passage into many a region of the empire of darkness, through which that holy light is pouring in, which is sure to brighten more and more into perfect day. Of its triumphs, indeed, we have less to report, at present, than of its conflicts. Yet, is it a small matter to have gained a number of central stations, whence even now its zealous emissaries make constant aggressions on the thick array of idolatrous superstitions; and are preparing to lead forth, whenever the Captain of God's host shall give the word, a well-trained levy of native converts, to carry far and wide the victorious cross, and to bring in willing captives to Immanuel?

And, Brethren, may we not indulge a hope,—it is a hope very dear to my heart,—that in the van of that battle, which shall establish Messiah's rule over every kindred and tongue and people and nation, the banner of this Society will be foremost? Blessed Lord, if the petition be that of genuine zeal for thy glory, and not of pride and self-seeking, vouchsafe us this high distinction. Give us to be the leading combatants in that warfare, which shall place all the kingdoms of the earth at thy footstool, and not to be repelled by multiplied difficulties and reverses. Ours be the honourable service;—be Thine the merited crown.

But I must summon you, my friends, each of you individually, to the help of the Lord against the Mighty. In his holy place, he sits, and waits, to see what exertions you are willing to make for His cause,—what sacrifice, of time, and ease, and money.—Did I say that I was pleading for the Church Missionary Society? I retract that expression. Oh, no! it is not for a religious Association, which is only the agent of the Lord Jesus Christ. It is for the Redeemer himself, that he may see of the travail of his soul and be satisfied, that I am bold this evening to make a great demand upon your bounty. With deep concern I inform you, that the finances of our Society have this year fallen below the last year's income, by more than £10,000; while the expenditure has risen to nearly as much above that income. The receipts are short of £72,000; the outgoings exceed £90,000. Help us, then, to make good this deficiency. Do what your benevolence, what your conscience may dictate. Whatever you really think you ought to contribute in this great exigency, after weighing the case on just and Scriptural principles, give that: I crave no more. This only I will say, that we must be lavish indeed, before we can exceed what Christian duty seems to claim towards promoting that blessed consummation, when, from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same, the Lord's Name shall be great among the Gentiles, and in every place incense shall be offered unto His Name, and a pure offering.

Lastly: Be it our concern, in our own persons, to forestal, in a manner, the sabbatical era, by an extraordinary purity of heart and conversation; and by keeping our souls wound up to that pitch of holy expectation, which becomes those who are hastening unto the coming of the day of God. Above all, let us make continual prayer to the Holy Ghost, that he would hasten that blissful consummation, for which Christians do well to look out, with an eagerness beyond that of midnight watchers for the break of morning.

Come down, O Lord, and giver of life, upon them that sit in darkness and the shadow of death; and open their eyes to the glory of Immanuel, that in thy light they may see light! Inspire all those who know thy name with a zealous compassion towards the wretched multitudes from whom the Gospel of life and immortality still is hidden! Extend the boundaries of the Church; and purge it from earthly leaven, till in every place incense is offered unto the Name of the Lord, and a pure offering!

And we especially beseech thee, O Spirit of holiness, to impress the Divine image on every heart in this congregation! Cause each of our bosoms to be a temple devoted to thy service, and hallowed by thy presence! And in the glorious day of the manifestation of the sons of God, when such as are begotten of thine incorruptible seed shall be gathered into one, may we all be recognised for thine, to the praise of the glory of thy grace, through Jesus Christ our Lord! Amen!

REPORT.

REPORT,

&c. &c.

It is with feelings of deep and solemn interest, that the Committee lay before the Society the Thirty-ninth Report of its proceedings. While the events of the past year call forth devout thankfulness to Almighty God, for manifold tokens of His favour and blessing, they awaken feelings of chastened sorrow, in reference to valuable Labourers removed to their heavenly rest. The present financial situation of the Society is also a source of much solicitude to the Committee, as it tends to impede and embarrass its operations at a moment when the most encouraging opportunities of extending them are multiplied. It is not to be concealed, moreover, that there are signs in the present times, of an aspect, which bode addition to the perplexities and difficulties always incident to such a work as that in which the Society is engaged. On the other hand, the interest taken by the members of our Church in the great object of the Society is enlarged, and the obligation on Protestants to impart to the Heathen the Gospel of the grace of God is more extensively recognised and more deeply felt. The path of duty to the Society is therefore plain. Encouraged as the Committee are by the blessing which has for nearly forty years rested on its labours of love—and never, perhaps, in a larger measure than in the past year—the call of Christian obligation is unequivocal and loud—GO FORWARD.

STATE OF THE FUNDS.

The state of the Society's finances, as already noticed, is such, as to occasion the Committee serious anxiety.

In pursuance of the course proposed in the last Report, the whole of the expenditure of the Society has been carefully revised by the Committee. The large amount of this expenditure, spread over so wide a surface as it now is, and incurred under such a great variety of circumstances, renders it a matter of difficulty to control and regulate portions of it; while these very considerations impose on the Committee the obligation to watch over the whole with unceasing care and solicitude. The Committee have the satisfaction to state, that their investigation, which has been carried into the minutest details of expenditure, has led to the conclusion, that, both at home and abroad, it is conducted with considerateness and economy. They trust, however, that their examination has led to some suggestions calculated still further to economize, and advantageously to regulate, the expenditure.

The Committee add, that their inquiries have convinced them of the advantage which resulted from the appointment of the Finance Committee of 1829. The regulations recommended by that Committee have been steadily acted on; and the result has been, that the Committee were able to prosecute their present investigations, with facility, into the minutest details of expenditure.

The expenditure of the past year has exceeded that of 1837-38. On the other hand, the receipts have fallen far below those of last year.

The Income and Expenditure on account of the General Fund stand as follows:—

Expenditure	91,453	9	1

It thus appears that the expenditure of the year has exceeded its income by no less a sum than £20,146. 9*s*. 5*d*.

In order to explain more clearly the financial situation of the Society, an analysis of the Receipts and Disbursements of the year is necessary.

The Home Expenditure is less than that of the preceding year. In 1837-38, it amounted — exclusive of building, repairs, painting, &c. at the Institution—to £17,216. 12*s*. 4*d*. In 1838-9 the amount was £17,181. 7*s*. 4*d*. The excess, therefore, in the expenditure of the past year, lies wholly in its Foreign branch—the Missions.

The Missions' Expenditure in 1837-8 was £68,800. 1*s*. 11*d*. In 1838-39, it was £74,272. 1*s*. 9*d*., being an increase in the year of £5,471. 19*s*. 10*d*.

The Income of the past year, as already stated, was £71,306. 19*s*. 8*d*.—that of the preceding year £82,701. 11*s*. 8*d*. —The decrease of income in the year was, therefore, £11,394. 12*s*. 0*d*.

The excess in the Expenditure was provided for by sales of Government Securities. The consequence was, that, at the close of the year, this fund for meeting fluctuations and defalcations in the income of the Society was reduced to little more than £7000.

The Missions in which the most considerable increase of expenditure occurred in the last year, over the preceding one, are the following:—

	£	s.	d.
West-Africa	2170	6	4
New-Zealand.....	3527	13	10
West-Indies	4949	16	6
	10,647	16	8

The increase of expenditure in the West-Africa Mission has arisen from the Society's having been compelled to take upon itself the erection of buildings for the residence of Missionaries, which the Government had engaged to provide.

In New Zealand, the excess is to be traced, partly to the general enlargement of the Mission, and still more to the destruction of property consequent on the late wars in the Southern District.

The very serious amount of expenditure in the West Indies has been occasioned by the solicitude of the Committee to render the agency of the Society as effective as possible, in the great crisis of the transition from a state of slavery to a state of freedom. In pursuance of this design, no fewer than forty individuals, including females, went out, from the Society to the West Indies, within the last five years. The cost, too, of buildings, as well the School-houses, aided by Parliamentary Grants, as those for other purposes, has exceeded the estimated amount.

The Income of the year has fallen short of that of the year before, £11,394. 12*s*. The decrease occurs chiefly under the following heads:—

Benefactions	5432	18	7
Legacies.....	3551	9	5
Associations	3348	8	1
	12,332	16	1

The amount received from the Parliamentary Grant this year was £1000 more than in 1837-38; which, to that extent, diminished the defalcation in the last year's income.

The amounts from Benefactions and Legacies must always be variable and uncertain.

With regard to Association Contributions, it is found that the above deficiency arose from incidental circumstances. Several large remittances, and others of a smaller amount, which in regular course belonged to the year 1838-9, did not reach the Committee until after the 31st of March, the day on which the year's accounts are closed. These remittances amount, in fact, to something more than the sum deficient. The increased issue of Publications for the use of Collectors and Contributors, and the Collections after Sermons and Meetings, support the conclusion, that the Associations are, on the whole, in a healthy and progressive state.

The facts relative to the Society's financial situation, which have been stated, impose on the Committee the duty of urging economy, in every branch of its expenditure, with increased earnestness. It will also be their duty closely to watch the state of the income, and the course of circumstances, in the current year; so as to be prepared to take measures for contracting Missionary operations, in some quarter, should so painful an alternative be eventually forced upon them by a deficiency of funds.*

FUND FOR DISABLED MISSIONARIES, THEIR WIDOWS AND CHILDREN.

The Contributions to the Disabled Missionaries' Fund amounted in the year to £724. 6*s*. 5*d*. As the claims on this fund are augmented in proportion as the operations of the Society are extended, the Committee strongly recommend it to the sympathy and support of the Members.

PATRONAGE.

Among the members of the Society whose removal from this earthly scene by death the Committee have to deplore, are, the Hon. and Most Rev. His Grace the Archbishop of Tuam. The Society enjoyed the patronage of this eminent prelate for nearly nineteen years.

During the year, the Right Rev. the Lord Bishops of Norwich, Madras, and Australia, were appointed Vice-Patrons of the Society; and the Rev. J. N. Pearson, the Rev. Thomas Woodrooffe, and the Rev. J. H. Woodward, Honorary Life-Governors.

SECRETARYSHIP.

The attention of the Committee of Correspondence having been drawn to the consideration, whether any improvements might be advantageously introduced into that branch of the business entrusted to their charge, appointed a Sub-Committee to investigate the subject. This having been carefully done, it appeared that, since 1830, when two Secretaries were charged with the general business of the Society, the number of Missionaries had increased from 53 to 91; and the number of European Catechists—independently of a considerable increase of Native Agents—from 48 to 78; and that the expenditure upon Foreign Missions had risen from £30,374 10*s.* 11*d.* to £74,272. 1*s.* 9*d.*; and that from these causes, and from the general enlargement of the Society's operations, the correspondence had been greatly increased, and might be advantageously extended still further. On these grounds, the Sub-Committee reported, that, in their opinion, additional assistance was required in the Secretarial Department, and recommended the appointment of a third Secretary, being a Clergyman. This recommendation was adopted by the Committee of Correspondence, and subsequently by the General Committee. The Rev. Thomas Vores, of Chelsea, has, in consequence, been appointed Secretary of the Society.

* Since this Report was delivered, a Statement on the Financial situation of the Society has been published by the Committee, which is printed in the Appendix I.

DECEASE OF MISSIONARIES.

It has pleased Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom, to remove, by death, the following individuals from the scene of their labours, during the past year:—Mrs. Graf, wife of the Rev. J. U. Graf, who died of fever at Freetown, after premature confinement, on the 13th of March 1838;—the Rev. John Charles G. Knorpp, who died of fever, at Benares, on the 29th of March 1838; and Mrs. Knorpp, who died from over-exertion, in attending on Mr. Knorpp during his illness, at the same place, on the 2d of April following;—the Rev. Thomas Browning, who died at sea, on his voyage home from Ceylon, on the 7th of July;—Mrs. Youd, wife of the Rev. Thomas Youd, who died at Barbadoes, in April 1838, from the effects of her confinement;—Mr. Joseph Nevey Williams, who died of fever, at San Fernando, in Trinidad, on the 23d of May 1838;—Mr. Samuel King, who died of fever, at the same place, on the 25th of August;—Mr. Henry Robert Withy, who died at Barton Isles, Jamaica, after three weeks' illness, on the 19th of September;—Mrs. Betts, wife of the Rev. William K. Betts, who died at Kingston, after about three weeks' illness, on the 4th of November;—Mrs. Weeks, wife of the Rev. John W. Weeks, who died at Regent, of spasmodic attack, on the 10th of January last;—and the Rev. Edmund Corner, who died at Kingston, after a short illness, on the 11th of January last.

RETURN HOME OF MISSIONARIES.

Mr. Walter Croley left Sierra Leone on the 6th of May 1838, on a visit home; and arrived in London on the 28th of June.

The Rev. Charles Pinhorn Farrar, and Mrs. Farrar, left

Bombay on the 1st of November, on a visit home; and arrived in London on the 7th of February.

The Rev. Joseph Knight left Kandy for Madras, on a visit to England, with the sanction of the Committee; sailed from Madras on the 1st of July; and, after suffering shipwreck on the coast of Africa, reached London on the 22d of December. The Rev. George C. Trimnell, and Mrs. Trimnell, left Point de Galle on the 28th of November 1838, on account of ill health; and arrived in London on the 23d of April.

The Rev. David T. Jones left Red-River Settlement, on account of ill health, on the 11th of August; embarked at Hudson's Bay on the 31st of that month; and arrived in London on the 17th of October.

DEPARTURES AND ARRIVALS OF MISSIONARIES.

South-Africa Mission.—Mr. Wallace Hewetson, and Mrs. Hewetson, arrived at Port Natal on the 11th of March 1838. Mr. Robert Philips, with Mrs. Philips, sailed from Gravesend on the 17th of June last, to join the Rev. F. Owen, as Surgeon and Catechist; and reached Port Elizabeth on the 10th of October.

Mediterranean Mission.—Miss Maria C. Wilcox reached Malta on the 4th of May 1838; and, on the 29th of the same month, left that place for Syra, where she arrived on the 1st of June.

North-India Mission.—The Rev. John N. Norgate arrived at Calcutta in March 1838. The Rev. Christian Theophilus Hœrnle and Mrs. Hœrnle, and the Rev. Frederick Edward Schneider and Mrs. Schneider, embarked at Gravesend, for Calcutta, on their way to Agra, on the 15th of June 1838: they arrived there on the 26th of October; and left for Agra on the 9th of November.

South-India Mission.—The Rev. William T. Humphrey landed at Madras on the 13th of June 1838. The Rev. John Charles Barclay, and Mrs. Barclay, embarked at Portsmouth on the 14th of August last, for Madras; and arrived there on the 18th of December.

Western-India Mission.—The Rev. George M. Valentine landed at Bombay on the 13th of June 1838. Mr. John Stuart Struan Robertson, and Mrs. Robertson, embarked at Gravesend on the 26th of September, for Bombay; and arrived there on the 28th of January last. The Rev. Cyrus Stone, formerly a Missionary of the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions, has been received into connexion with this Society.

Ceylon Mission.—The Rev. John F. Haslam and Mrs.

Haslam, and the Rev. Henry Powell and Mrs. Powell, embarked at Gravesend on the 17th of August, for Ceylon; and arrived at Colombo on the 7th of January last. Mr. John A. Bulmer embarked at Gravesend on the 2d of January last, for Ceylon. The Rev. Francis William Taylor, and Mrs. Taylor, embarked at Gravesend on the 11th of February, for the same Mission.

Australasia Mission.—Mr. Octavius Hadfield, and Mr. William Porter, landed at Sydney on the 1st of July 1838. Mr. Porter arrived at Wellington Valley on the 21st of that month. Mr. John Mason, and Mrs. Mason, embarked at Gravesend on the 9th of March last, for New Zealand.

West-Indies' Mission.—Mr. Henry Taylor and Mrs. Taylor arrived at Jamaica in March 1838. The Rev. Richard Panton embarked at Blackwall on the 16th of November, for Jamaica, to resume the duties of Secretary of the Corresponding Committee in that island. Mr. Panton landed at Kingston, with Miss Elliott, who sailed with him, on the 11th of January last. Mr. Thomas Gilbert and Mrs. Gilbert, Mr. Ephraim J. E. Hawkins, and Miss Fox, embarked at Gravesend on the 9th of October, for Trinidad; and arrived at San Fernando on the 24th of December last.

ORDINATION OF STUDENTS.

Nine of the Society's Candidates have been admitted, by the Bishop of London, to Deacon's Orders, and three to Priest's Orders, in the course of the past year. One has been admitted to Priest's Orders, and one to Deacon's Orders, by the Bishop of Calcutta; one to Deacon's Orders by the Bishop of Australia; two to Deacon's Orders by the Bishop of Jamaica; and one to Priest's Orders, and one to Deacon's Orders, by the Bishop of Barbadoes.

INSTITUTION.

The Principal, in his Annual Report to the Committee of Visitors of the Institution, thus expresses himself:—

Of the general state of the Institution, in the most important particulars, it is very gratifying to the Principal to express a high opinion. For the last two or three years, the system in operation has proceeded with scarcely any jars or interruption;—indeed, with a justness, and a noiseless facility, the effect, we believe, not more of time and experience and habit, than of a Christian spirit universally prevailing, and increasingly influential. The machine cannot but work well, so long as holy humility and love are the unction of its wheels.

He has reason to be satisfied with the application and general progress of those entrusted to his care. The Committee will learn with pleasure, that the Bishop of London has borne honourable testimony to the talent, industry, and proficiency of the young men sent up from this Institution, last Christmas, for Colonial Orders.

Ten Students have been received into the Institution during the year. Six—three Ordained, and three Catechists—have departed to their respective Stations. Two have been removed by sickness, and two from other causes. Twenty-four still remain under preparation in the Institution.

In conclusion, it is remarked:—

The Principal cannot venture to express his many emotions on relinquishing a post which he has been permitted to hold from the commencement of the Institution to the present time. Yet he cannot think it right to conceal how forcibly he has been touched by the testimonies of affectionate and grateful regard, which his beloved Pupils have bestowed upon him, in the prospect of his removal. For the degree in which it has pleased the Almighty to prosper his exertions, he is deeply thankful; and his prayer is, that a still greater blessing may accompany the labours of his Successor. He retires with a deliberate conviction, that whatever objections may lie against an Establishment like this for Missionary Education, the advantages of it greatly overbalance the inconveniences; and he sees no reason to doubt, that, by some further improvements, which may be gradually introduced, it will become a still more powerful engine, through that blessing, without which nothing is strong or holy, of accomplishing the great and certain purpose of God in the salvation of the Heathen World.

RETIREMENT OF THE REV. JOHN NORMAN PEARSON FROM THE PRINCIPALSHIP OF THE INSTITUTION.

The Rev. J. N. Pearson having been last autumn appointed to the Incumbency of Tunbridge Wells, resigned the office of Principal of the Society's Institution at Islington, which he had held from its commencement, in January 1825. On recording Mr. Pearson's resignation on the 8th of October last, the Committee thus expressed their sense of the value and importance of his services:—

That the Committee record, with feelings of deep regret, the Rev. J. N. Pearson's resignation of the office of Principal of the Society's Institution, which he has filled for a period of nearly fourteen years with distinguished ability and with eminent advantage to the Society; and that the Committee tender to Mr. Pearson, on retiring from his official connexion with them, the expression of their cordial esteem and regard; and assure him of their earnest prayers, that in the new sphere of labour on which he is about to enter he may abundantly experience the Divine Blessing, in his own soul, and in his future Ministry.

Communication having been had with the Lord Bishop of London in reference to the Principal of the Institution after Mr. Pearson's resignation of the office, the Bishop expressed a high opinion of the results of Mr. Pearson's labours, as manifested in the Examinations for Holy Orders of the candidates presented to him by the Society. His Lordship remarked, that he had been much struck with the comprehensiveness of the theological knowledge acquired by the Students, and with the judiciousness of the mode in which it had been imparted to them by Mr. Pearson; and added, that the Society's Students had been among his best candidates.

APPOINTMENT OF THE REV. CHARLES FREDERIC CHILDE TO THE INSTITUTION.

At a Special Meeting of the Committee, held January 28, 1839, the Rev. C. F. Childe, late Head Master of Walsall Grammar School, was appointed Principal of the Institution.

NUMBER OF MISSIONARY LABOURERS.

In the course of the past year were sent forth, Seven Ordained Missionaries, Five Catechists and Artisans, and One Surgeon. Eleven of these being married, the total number of individuals sent out is Twenty-four.

The total number of Labourers at present engaged in the service of the Society, as Ordained Missionaries, Catechists, or Artisans, amounts to One Hundred and Seventy-nine; exclusive of Native Teachers, and the Wives of the Married Labourers.

ASSOCIATION PROCEEDINGS.

The circumstances in which the Committee found themselves placed, toward the close of the last year, both as it regards the finances of the Society and the progressive extension of its Missions, imposed upon them the duty of employing the most effective means in their power to increase its income. For this purpose, some addition to the Association Agency appeared to them indispensably necessary. Such additions have accordingly been made; and an arrangement adopted, by which each of the Association Secretaries is located in the country, with the charge of a specific district assigned to him. The Agency of the Association Secretaries will thus, it is conceived, be brought more advantageously to bear on the whole of the country, in furtherance of the Society's objects. The Committee have the satisfaction to find that this arrangement has proved generally acceptable to the Associations.

The Committee have to renew their grateful acknowledgments to those Clerical and Lay friends, who, during the past year, have acted as Deputations to the Associations. Without the continuance of the kind and valuable services of the friends of the Society, especially of its Clerical friends, in acting as Deputations, and also by promoting its interests in their respective neighbourhoods, the pecuniary resources of our Church cannot adequately be brought forth in support of an Institution, whose distinctive character it is to convey to the Heathen the Gospel of the grace of God.

During the year, forty-five new Associations have been formed.

PRINCIPLES AND PROCEEDINGS OF THE SOCIETY.

Inquiries having frequently been made respecting the relation of the Society's Missionaries to the Bishop, when located within the diocese of a Bishop of our Church, a Clerical Member of the Committee was induced to draw up a statement on that and analogous topics, illustrative of the principles and operations of the Society. This Paper so correctly exhibits the views of the Committee on the points to which it refers, that, with the consent of the writer, they have printed it as an Appendix to the Report.*

MISSIONARY MAP.

During the year, the Committee have published a Map of the World, distinguishing the Stations of all Protestant Missionary Societies.

Mission Establishment:

7 Missionaries.	1 Translator.
8 European Catechists.	24 Native Teachers of all Classes.

With thankfulness to Almighty God, the Committee report the steady progress of this first-established of the Society's Missions. Its general state will be seen from the following extracts from the communications of the Missionaries.

CHRISTIAN INSTITUTION.

The Christian Institution, designed to train Natives as Christian Teachers, continues under the charge of the Rev. G. A. Kissling. He thus describes its state at the end of September last:—

Two of the Students have received their appointments as Assistant Schoolmasters, during the quarter;—one to labour at the Society's School at Hastings, and the other at Regent. Two have been admitted into the Institution, and several more are shortly expected. Their present number is fifteen.

In imparting instruction, I have made it a chief point, to instil into their minds the principles of the Christian Religion, and to afford them some guide when they leave our circle. I have dictated to them several heads, in reference to which they have to find passages from the Holy Scriptures, and to write them underneath; as, for instance, the names and attributes of God—Man's first estate—his fall—salvation through Christ Jesus—the Christian's duty to God, his brethren, and the world—comforts under afflictions, &c. I have found this a very profitable exercise: while it gives them a very comprehensive view of the doctrines of the Bible, it leads them also into a more practical acquaintance with that blessed Book itself, and makes it clearer to their minds.

One of the Youths in the Institution, valuing the advantages which he there enjoys, was deeply affected at the state in which he feared that his father was living in the interior. Under these feelings, he addressed to him a Letter, in his own simple style, of which the following are extracts:—

Remember in what state you now are. You have left your first love. Remember, therefore, from whence thou art fallen, and do thy first works; or else He will come unto thee quickly, and remove thee out of thy place—out of the body—except thou repent. If you will not remove from that country, to some Christian country, I am sure it will not be good for you at last. I have heard that the people in that part are dealing in slave-trade, and that you have some hand in it. Though, if this be true, you may be making captives of men, remember, that Satan has made captive of your soul. No doubt you are old now, and shall soon come to the grave. If this be the case, remember that prayer in Isa. lxv. 20, The sinner being an hundred years old shall be accursed. Will you not think on all these things, and flee again to Christ for shelter, whom you have departed from? Impress these things on your heart, my dear father; pray to the Lord to take away your heart from following the pleasures of this world, which is but for a moment. Money is nothing: it shall and must come to nothing soon. Don't you mind having much money. Gold to the Lord is but sordid dust. I have not forgotten you in my prayers. I always pray to God to turn you from this sad end; to make you come to yourself, and say, like the prodigal son, I will arise and go to my Father.

After referring to his own situation in the colony, in the first instance, the Youth proceeds:—

As for myself, when I saw the state of things in the house of a countrywoman, and that I was coming to ruin—I went to no school—the little instruction I had received, I had nearly forgotten—I ran away from the woman, and went to Mr. ——, and told him all about me. He, being a kind man, said, that, as I was his countryman's child, and also because I wish to learn, he would take me to his house. I was in his house a good while; till a good Missionary pitied me, and took me to live with him. I was with him for nearly two years; when I came to the Christian Institution, where I am now; and I hope, by the blessing of God, I may be here, and soon become a Labourer in His vineyard.

He adds:—

I am sure you can do many things for God's glory in that part where you are. You might take the children of these people, and endeavour to teach them some English. You speak the language very well, and on Sundays you can collect as many people as you can, and explain to them about Christ;—but you have made yourself to be blinded by them in spiritual things.

He concludes:—

O my father! if these things do not strike your heart, the very first time I have taken up my pen and ink to write to you, my beloved father—I say, if these things do not strike you, I don't know what will. Remember these things, if you love me dearly.

Effects of the Christian Ministry.

Of the beneficial effects of the Christian Ministry, the Missionaries relate many encouraging instances. The Rev. G. A. Kissling writes, Jan. 28, 1838:—

I baptized this day, after the Second Lesson in the Morning Service, four children of one family. The peculiar circumstances of this family beautifully illustrate the truth of two passages of the sacred scriptures; viz. Heb. iv. 12, The Word of God is quick and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword; and Rom. v. 20, Where sin abounded, grace did much more abound. Both——, and also——, now his wife, were living for a length of time in open violation of the commandments of God; but about eighteen months ago the man used to come occasionally under the sound of the Gospel; the Truth came home to his heart; and he came in great distress to learn what he must do to be saved. The woman with whom he was living soon followed his example. By my advice, marriage was solemnized between them soon after: they continued eagerly to embrace the means of instruction, and were both baptized by the Rev. J. U. Graf, on August 3, 1837; and this day they dedicated their whole family, by the same holy Ordinance, unto the Lord their God, whom they now serve in simplicity of heart. It was a most pleasing sight:—a girl of eight years, another of four, a boy of two, and a little infant of one year, were brought into the congregation of Christ's Church. Profound silence prevailed while the Service was performed; and almost every countenance showed that the case had deeply affected their minds.—May it lead others, who live in sin, to do the same!

Of Regent, the Rev. J. W. Weeks writes, March 21, 1838:—

The church on Lord's-Day mornings, since the commencement of the dry season, has been filled, even to the doors; and often many have been obliged to remain outside. The attention observable in the whole congregation during Divine Service is very gratifying; and it is with sincere pleasure that I have witnessed the regular attendance of the young people, colony born, whom Mrs. Weeks and myself had for several years under our instruction, when in charge of Regent Schools.

Mr. Weeks thus relates the hopeful death of an African under his charge:—

June 28, 1838—One of the Helpers came this morning, requesting me to visit two sick men of his class. "One," he said, "has hard sick" (is very ill). I scarcely knew how to leave Mrs. Weeks, who was also very ill; but the call appeared to be of so much importance, that I went immediately to see them. The first was ill of the dropsy, and had been suffering from that complaint for the last two years: he is now swollen to an incredible size. His mind was composed: he spoke of the love of Christ to sinners; and then remarked, "My body, I know, is only dust; but my soul is precious, and it is in the hands of my Father: medicine now can do me no good; man cannot help me: only God can help me, and in Him I trust."

Sept. 14, 1838—I visited the poor sick man, whom I have mentioned before as suffering from the dropsy. I have been much gratified, every visit I have paid him; but to-day he was in a delightful and heavenly frame of mind: he spoke with such holy confidence and earnest assurance of an interest in Christ, as to leave no doubt on our minds that he was a Christian indeed, and was ripening fast for glory. His pain was so great, at intervals, as to interrupt his conversation for some minutes. After one of these paroxysms, he said, "My sickness and pain of body is better for me than health. God has done me great good, by sending me this long sickness, which has made me think much upon Christ's trouble for us poor sinners; and now I trust in my Saviour—all in Him, in Him, one, no more." After I had engaged in prayer, which he seemed much to enjoy, he thanked me for my visit. I left him with the impression that he would not live many days longer. Early the following morning I received the intelligence that he had been released from his sufferings during the night, to enter, we doubt not, into that rest which remains for the people of God.

On the 13th of August, Mr. Kissling writes:—

A Christian friend requested me to call upon a man who had for a long time been lingering on a bed of sickness. He is an old resident of this colony, and now suffers excruciating pains from a particular complaint, of which he can hardly expect to be cured. Finding that he spoke the English language very well, I observed that his present sufferings suggested three things to my mind: 1. That our Lord and Saviour endured much more, when He offered Himself as a sacrifice for our sins. 2. That our afflictions on earth were infinitely less than we had deserved: and, 3. That if their object were obtained, namely, the sanctification of our souls, the promised rest in Heaven would taste sweeter than if we had not had them at all.—Here his eyes brightened: he raised his furrowed countenance, and said, "Sir, I believe that God is love; that, in great compassion to our souls, he drew the plan of salvation, and sent His Son into the world in the fulness of time. I believe that Jesus Christ is God—that He became man, and suffered an ignominious death on the cross, to atone for our numerous sins. I believe that this Book is the Word of God, not only because it speaks of Him, but because it is the very word which proceedeth from His mouth, and is the power of salvation unto every one that believeth. And now I look and long for the coming of the Saviour, to loose my soul from the body of clay, and take it to Himself. Still, I desire to wait with patience the hour he sees fit."—He now lifted up his hands, and ejaculated, "Lord! I am ready to depart."—The power, clearness, and ease, with which he made this confession, quite astonished me: I thought, "Here I have to learn, instead of teaching. How little do I possess of the heavenly-mindedness of this poor but happy man!" He lives in a solitary place, almost neglected and forgotten by man, subsisting on the charity of a few friends, lying on a bed of straw, his blessed Bible by his side, and the peace of God in his heart!

The Rev. F. Bultman having related the administration of Baptism to forty persons, adds:—

I not only sincerely hope, but have great reason to believe, that, in each of their hearts, God has begun a work, which no man shall hinder, but which shall be completed in glory.

The following instance of the sympathy of the people at Hastings with the Rev. J. F. Schön, on the death of his wife, places their character, and the influence of the Gospel on their hearts, in a very favourable point of view:—

Indeed, I ought to mention this to you too, that the people of Hastings, and particularly the members of our Church, have endeared themselves very much to me, by the sympathy which they have always evinced. They made all things ready for the funeral, in a decent and becoming manner: and when I inquired after the expense, I was told, that they had agreed not to take any thing of me; and it was only upon my pressing them, that they would accept payment for such things as they had to buy themselves. Their simple and affectionate way of speaking to me has often proved a great consolation to my heart. A man told me: "Master, plenty time I want say one word to you; but no can open my mouth; my heart always tell me, he know better, and no can tell him nothing. Master, the time trouble catch me, me go to you: you speak to us of Jesus, and of the Resurrection, and that can make our hearts glad. Master, this no can comfort you? Your wife no lost, your child no lost: they that believe in Jesus never die."—How comforting, to hear one, who was but a few years before an idolater, thus speak of the consolations which the Gospel affords!

A circumstance related by Mr. Schön affords encouraging proof that the seed sown—sown perhaps in tears—is found after many days:—

June 16, 1838—A woman from York, formerly belonging to Regent, came to me, to request me to receive her as a member of the Church, and to allow her to receive the Lord's Supper at this place, because she had no opportunity to receive it at York. I was thankful to see that she had not lost the relish for spiritual things, though deprived of spiritual privileges.

Value attached to the Scriptures by the People.

After detailing the sale of copies of the Scriptures to the people in the eight years ending May 1838, amounting, with the exception of a very few gratuitously issued, to 2860 copies, Mr. Kissling proceeds:—

As soon as they have learnt to put letters together to form syllables, and syllables to form words, they are anxious to get a Bible, and, if attending our Places of Worship, a Prayer-Book also. Nor is it from mere curiosity that they desire these valuable volumes. Many, I am sure, use them in private as well as at church; and when assembled around their family altar, as well as by the side of the sick, and on their visits to their heathenish countrymen. Some time ago, a man came to my house, and inquired after a Bible with large print. I showed him the Small Pica with marginal references. He at once paid down the full price; saying, "I shall read for hours in it, when I am by myself." I observed, that he should read the Word of God to his family also. He replied: "So I do, Sir, at family-prayers, when my apprentices attend; but when all is silent in the house, when my people are at rest, and I am in my chamber, then I like to read; and, by the assistance of the Holy Spirit, the Word of God becomes like meat and drink to my soul. Such are the salutary effects attending the reading of the Scriptures, in one case. Who can tell what will be produced in others, by the 2860 volumes issued to the people in this colony, during a period of eight years?

Sierra-Leone Church Missionary Association.

During the year, the Committee have had the satisfaction to receive the sum of £66. 11*s.* from the Sierra-Leone Church Missionary Association; making a total, since its formation, of £1762. 4*s.* 9*d.*;—a pleasing indication of the influence of the Gospel of Christ in the hearts of the Liberated Africans and their offspring, a large proportion of the above sum having been contributed by them.

Native Agency in the Mission.

Mr. Kissling, in June 1838, thus relates the employment of youthful Natives in their Sunday Schools:—

I wish our friends at home could have a sight of these schools. I am sure it would interest them, to see apprentices, both male and female, and husbands and wives of thirty, forty, and fifty years of age, form a circle around their little teacher, perhaps not more than ten or twelve years old, learning the Alphabet, Steps to Reading, saying simple Catechisms, or reading in the Primer, and the Parables and Discourses of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Many of the people have by this means been kept from profaning the Day of the Lord; some have been brought to a concern for the welfare of their souls; while the better instructed of our communicants have an opportunity afforded of making themselves useful to their fellow men, and gaining knowledge in spiritual things for themselves.

In reference to their labours among the Young, Mr. Kissling further remarks:—

It is true, we cannot speak of many glorious results. Still, so much is evident, that they are gradually advancing in Scriptural and other useful knowledge. Death may close our eyes ere they see the blessed seed spring fully up, which we are now sowing; but those who follow us will reap the harvest; and, at last, both he that soweth and he that reapeth will find abundant cause to rejoice together.

Re-occupation of Kent.

In the course of the year, Kent has been re-occupied as a Missionary Station. It is situated at the southernmost extremity of this peninsula, about 40 miles from Freetown, and is considered as one of the most salubrious spots in the Colony.

Timmanee Translations.

'The importance of fixing the most considerable of the African Dialects has long engaged the attention of the Committee. In the autumn of 1837, they engaged the services of Mr. William Cooper Thomson specifically for this department. The dialect selected to begin with, was the Timmanee, toward which the Rev. C. L. F. Haensel's attention had been directed during the latter part of his connexion with the Mission. To the acquisition of this dialect Mr. Thomson diligently applied himself, on his arrival in the colony. The result of Mr. Thomson's labours, at the end of September last, he thus recapitulates:—

The following is a Summary of what has been done since last Quarterly Meeting:—Grammar and Vocabulary, adapted to the First Catechism and Hymns, already printed; Genesis as far as the Tenth Verse of the Eleventh Chapter, Eight additional Hymns, and the First Psalm, translated; and upward of two hundred and fifty new words added to the Dictionary, and a considerable number of new idioms collected.

Mr. Thomson adds:—

It may be satisfactory also to learn, that the Morning and Evening Services, and other Prayers, with the Catechism and Hymns, have been in constant use at Yongoroo, for the purposes of Public Worship, every Lord's Day for the last three months. I am informed by the Natives, who frequently visit me here, that the attendance, especially on the Lord's Day, is good.

On a visit to Yongoroo, Mr. Thomson states—

I have much pleasure in being able to say, that many of the children can repeat the first page of the Catechism, and three or four of the little Hymns: indeed, I have often heard the little girls singing the third, "Bouneh" or "Joyful," while engaged in beating out their rice.

Extension of the Mission beyond the Limits of the Colony.

It has long been the view of the Committee to extend the Mission into the interior, so soon as the state of the Mission would admit of it. From the increase which the Committee have been able to make in the number of the Missionaries, and the exemption from severe sickness which, through the favour and blessing of Almighty God, they have for several years enjoyed, the Committee hope to be able now to carry that design into effect. Several of the Missionaries have expressed their wish to engage in this extension of the Mission, and some excursions beyond the boundaries of the colony have already been made. The reception which they met with, from the people, was encouraging.

Cost of Buildings.

By an arrangement entered into with Her Majesty's Government, some years ago, it was stipulated that the Government should provide Buildings, and the Society Teachers. An adequate supply of Buildings, however, not having been made for the residence of the Missionaries and Catechists, their health was endangered, and in some instances, it is to be feared, materially injured. To avoid this serious evil, the Committee have found themselves compelled to erect several dwelling-houses, which has, especially in the last year, very considerably augmented the expense of the Mission. The disposition of the people themselves to share in the expense is thus noticed by Mr. Weeks, and affords a gratifying illustration of the interest which they take in the maintenance of the Gospel among them :—

The Communicants and Candidates of Regent have rendered me very great assistance, in point of labour, for the Society's new house. They brought up 700 barrels of lime from Freetown, and 1900 barrels of sand from the sand-beach, free of any expense. The distance of Regent from either place is six miles.

The Buildings, too, for Public Worship are quite inadequate to the wants of the colony, and many of them in a dilapidated state.

Deaths of Labourers.

Though the Committee have, of late years, had much cause for thankfulness to God for the improved state of Sierra Leone with regard to health, they have now to mourn the removal, by death, of the Wives of three Missionaries—Mrs. Graf, Mrs. Schön, and Mrs. Weeks. The consolation of the Committee and their bereaved Husbands is, that they died in faith, and have entered into the joy of their Lord.

SOUTH-AFRICA MISSION.

COMMENCED 1837.

Mission Establishment:

1 Missionary. 1 Surgeon. 1 Catechist.

THE earlier proceedings in this Mission are recorded in the last Report. Since that period, its progress has been suddenly interrupted, and the Missionaries have been obliged to quit the Zoolu Country and return to the colony. The immediate cause of this disastrous result was, hostilities between Dingarn, the Zoolu Chief, and a large party of Dutch Boors who had emigrated from the Colony. The detail of these events is contained in the Church Missionary Record for October and November last. A considerable number of the Boors were treacherously massacred by Dingarn. The occurrence is thus related by Mr. Owen:—

Feb. 6, 1838—A dreadful day in the annals of the Mission! I shudder to give an account of it. This morning, as I was sitting in the shade of my waggon, reading the Testament, the usual messenger came, with hurry and anxiety depicted in his looks. I was sure that he was about to pronounce something serious: and what was his commission? While it showed consideration and kindness in the Zoolu Monarch toward me, it disclosed a horrid instance of perfidy —too horrid to be described—toward the unhappy men who have for these few days been his guests, but are now no more. He sent to tell me not to be frightened, as he was going to kill the Boors! This news came like a thunder-stroke to myself, and to every successive member of my family as they heard it. The reason assigned for this treacherous conduct was, that they were going to kill him: that they had come here, and he had now learned all their plans. The messenger was anxious for my reply; but what could I say? I was fearful, on the one hand, of seeming to justify the treachery; and, on the other, of exposing myself and family to probable danger, if I appeared to take their part. Moreover, I could not but feel that it was my duty to apprise the Boors of the intended massacre; while certain death would have ensued, I apprehended, if I had been detected in giving them this information. However, I was released from this dilemma, by beholding an awful spectacle. My attention was directed to the blood-stained hill, nearly opposite my hut, and on the other side of my waggon, which hides it from my view, where all the executions at this fearful spot take place, and which was now destined to add sixty more bleeding carcasses to the number of those which have already cried to Heaven for vengeance. "There," said some one, "they are killing the Boors now." I turned my eyes, and, behold! an immense multitude on the hill. About nine or ten Zoolus to each Boor were dragging their helpless, unarmed victim to the fatal spot, where those eyes, which awaked this morning to see the cheerful light of day for the last time, are now closed in death. I laid myself down on the ground. Mrs. and Miss Owen were not more thunderstruck than myself. We each comforted the other. Presently, the deed of blood being accomplished, the whole multitude returned to the town, to meet their Sovereign; and, as they drew near to him, set up a shout which reached the Station, and continued for some time.

Mr. Owen and his family were exposed to serious personal danger in the midst of these bloody proceedings. He writes:—

At this crisis, I called all my family in, and read Psalm xci.; so singularly and literally applicable to our present condition, that I could with difficulty proceed in it. I endeavoured to realize all its statements; and though I did not receive it as an absolute provision against sudden and violent death, I was led to Him who is our refuge from the guilt and fear of sin, which alone make death terrible. We then knelt down, and I prayed; really not knowing but that, in this position, we might be called into another world. Such was the effect of the first gust of fear on my mind. I remembered the words, Call upon me in the day of trouble, and I will hear thee.

He was heard; and the Lord delivered them from all their fears. Dingarn allowed them to depart to Port Natal, though not without stripping them of much of their property. They arrived there on the 11th of March. Here he found Mr. Hewetson, appointed to assist Mr. Owen as a Catechist in the Mission, who had arrived at Port Natal on the 4th of that month.

Mr. Owen thus acknowledges the gracious interposition of a merciful Providence in rescuing them from the imminent peril to which the whole party was exposed:—

We cannot but acknowledge the gracious Providence which has brought a ship into the harbour—the brig "Comet," Capt. Haddon; which was bound first for Delagoa Bay, but put in here, from contrary winds, about three weeks since. She would long since have sailed; but the Captain has been very dangerously ill, and the vessel consequently detained. We sleep on board, every night; and are thus favoured with unexpected security, in case of any midnight attack. We have lost all our cattle, in common with the other inhabitants; but, thank God! our lives have been preserved. If the gracious providence of our God had not sent a ship into the Bay, Mrs. and Miss Owen, with Mrs. Hewetson, must, as well as ourselves, have lain concealed in the bush; but we are now safe in the ship.

The Rev. F. Owen and his family, with Mr. Hewetson and his family, arrived at Port Elizabeth, in Algoa Bay, on the 22d of June.

Mr. R. Philips, a Surgeon, accompanied by Mrs. Philips, who had been appointed to this Mission, reached Port Elizabeth on the 10th of October.

The course to be taken by the Committee, with regard to this Mission, will depend on the progress of events in that part of Africa.

Mr. Owen and his associates, by the Committee's latest advices, were residing at Sidbury, near Graham's Town; occupying themselves in such objects of usefulness, in the Ministry and Schools, as their present circumstances permit, and waiting the issue of events.

Revised Version of the Arabic Scriptures.

The Rev. C. F. Schlienz has been much employed, since his return to Malta, in February 1837, in preparatory arrangements for entering on the contemplated revision of the Arabic Version of the Scriptures. In pursuance of this design, he visited Egypt in March 1838. The results of his visit are stated by Mr. Schlienz, in October of that year :—

During the greatest part of my stay in Egypt, I had continual opportunity for exercising myself in the speaking of the Vernacular Arabic—for holding intercourse both with Mahomedans and Christians, and especially with the Christian Clergy of Egypt—for acquainting myself with their social, intellectual, and religious state—for considering and discussing with them measures for their improvement—for obtaining MSS. which may be useful in the preparation of a New Version of the Bible into Arabic—for exerting myself in behalf of the acceptance and usefulness of this work, as well as of others, issuing from our Press—and, finally, for bringing with me a promising Young Man, to be in future the Society's Arabic Translator at Malta, in the person of Hanna Gauli.

It was Mr. Schlienz's original intention to have gone from Egypt to Syra, to prosecute researches in that country, in furtherance of this important undertaking. His progress, however, was arrested by a severe attack of sickness, which obliged him to return to Malta in September last. The Committee have the satisfaction to state, that Mr. Schlienz's health is entirely re-established; and that he has been enabled to resume his usual duties, aided by Messrs. Brenner, Badger, and Weiss, Europeans; and Messrs. Phares and Hanna Gauli, Asiatics.

Conversion of a Roman-Catholic Missionary.

A Roman-Catholic Missionary from the College de Propagandâ Fide, of the Capuchin Order, named Di Menna, embraced Protestantism at Malta, at the beginning of last year. Though he encountered considerable persecution, at the hands of his former communion in Malta, he has hitherto remained stedfast, and is at present engaged in preaching to the Maltese in Italian.

Protestant Church in Malta.

The Committee have long been solicitous to see a Protestant Church erected at Malta, and have had repeated communications with Her Majesty's Government on the subject. Obstacles, however, delayed the execution of the design till the late visit of Her Majesty, Queen Adelaide, to the island. The subject having been brought under her notice, she warmly patronized it, and eventually took upon herself the entire expense of the erection of the Church. The first stone was laid by Her Majesty, on the 20th of March.

GREECE MISSION.

COMMENCED 1828.

Mission Establishment:

2 Missionaries.	1 Schoolmistress.
1 Schoolmaster.	13 Native Teachers.

The Missionaries employed in Greece, are, the Rev. F. A. Hildner and the Rev. J. T. Wolters.—Miss M. C. Wilcox is placed in charge of the Female High School, and M. Sanderski in that of the Youths' High School.—Dr. Korck's connexion with the Society, as Translator, which was for a limited period, ceased at the end of last year.—The following details of the Mission are collected from the Journals of Messrs. Hildner and Wolters, and Miss Wilcox, for the year 1838.

State and Progress of the Schools.

Attempts have been made, during the year, to interrupt the progress of the Schools; but hitherto, through the favour of Divine Providence, without success.

In the beginning of February, last year, the principal Greek Female Teacher left the School, on her marriage. Mr. Hildner remarks, that she had been with them more than three years, and had the whole time given great satisfaction, "by her Christian conduct and diligence." Her influence on the girls under her charge had been great and beneficial.

At the end of March 1838, the Local Government School-Commission examined the Schools, and expressed their satisfaction at the progress of the scholars. On the 1st of October, two members of the School Commission again attended the School, at the giving of the prizes awarded to diligence and good conduct. The prizes consisted of New Testaments; Chrysostom on Galatians, and on Reading the Scriptures; Summary of the New-Testament History; New Syra, or Greek Hymns; on Education of Boys; Jessy Allan, the Lame Girl; New Alphabetarion; Ladder of the Greek Language; Atlas; and several little Tracts for Children.—Mr. Wolters states, that some of the Scholars, who had received the New Testament as a prize at a former Examination, asked for the Old Testament; saying, "I have only got the New Gospel (New Testament): the Old Gospel (meaning the Old Testament) I do not know yet."

Mr. Hildner thus describes the instruction given to the Scholars on the Lord's Day:—

April 29, 1838—The Sunday School had a tolerably good attendance. I addressed the Girls of the High School, and endeavoured to bring some truths of the Gospel home to their hearts: they seemed to be attentive. May the Lord bless the word spoken in weakness! The arrangement on Lord's Days, with respect to religious instruction, is, that every Teacher, in his respective school or class, shall give religious instruction; always, however, under my direction. I then generally pass from one school or class to the other; and remain as I find it necessary, in order to hear and see if every thing is done properly, and to assist: then I take one or two classes, sometimes united, sometimes separately, and enlarge, in the presence of the Teachers, on the portion of Scripture already read and explained, or choose another suitable part upon which to ground my exposition and address to the children. At the commencement of the School, I usually assemble the Boys from the three departments into one room, and before the prayer sing a hymn with them; and at the close of the lessons I do the same in the upper departments of the Girls.

On the 1st of June, Miss Wilcox arrived in Syra, to take charge of the Female High School; and M. Sanderski at the same time entered on his duties in connexion with the Schools.

Mr. Wolters mentions, that one of the Girls in the High School had committed to memory the New Testament, from the 12th chapter of the Epistle to the Romans to the end of the Revelation. She is now diligently employed in learning the other part, beginning with the First Chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel.

On visiting the Infant School for Girls, at the beginning of December, he remarks, that the Teacher "is not satisfied when the children are able to repeat their lessons well; but she also explains to them, in a simple manner, what they have learned."—Mr. Wolters thus describes M. Sanderski's Examination of the Boys of the High School, on the history of Christ's suffering, death, and resurrection:—

> The manner in which he spoke, and the practical observations which he connected with the sacred history, were indeed edifying. The elder scholars answered satisfactorily every question that was proposed to them.

In reference to the Girls' High School, Miss Wilcox states:—

> Nov. 3, 1838—When I review the past, and consider that I have only been here five months, I am led to acknowledge, with gratitude, the progress of the Girls in those branches of education in which I am able to instruct them. The English class is gradually making progress.
> Nov. 10—What a mercy is it, that I am able to record from week to week the goodness of God, in permitting us thus to proceed without any apparent opposition! But I fear we may not hence infer that no enmity is entertained by the people. There are very many parents who are glad to have their children attend all the lessons given in the school, excepting those which embrace religious instruction:

the average number of Girls, who assemble for this purpose on the Lord's Day, is from 150 to 200. I have noticed this week increasing progress in the Drawing Classes: forty Girls are now taking lessons in this branch of education. The conduct of two or three gives me reason to hope that the love of Jesus is being wrought in their hearts; while I feel that very many are hindered from a total surrender of their hearts, owing to the idol, dress, which is displayed on the Lord's Day, and on Feast Days, more than at any other time.

Mr. Hildner thus describes the state of the Schools at the close of the year:—

Dec. 31—It is with feelings of gratitude to God, and deep humiliation before Him, that I look back to this ninth year of my labours at this station. I feel, perhaps more than ever, most unworthy of the least of all His mercies, and of all the truth which he has shown to me, his unprofitable servant. Our work has proceeded quietly and steadily, without impediments from Government, Clergy, or people: and though some fears were entertained in the beginning of the year, yet neither the School Establishment, nor the other Missionary labours, have suffered the least interruption. Serious changes, indeed, as to the Greek Teachers in our schools, have taken place, which have caused some difficulties, and made European help more necessary; yet, even in this respect, we proceed in the prospect of daily improvement. Two scholars from the Seminaries have entered as Teachers, and there is hope that several others will soon be appointed. The appointment of M. Sanderski to the School Establishment will, I trust, also tend to the improvement of the two Seminaries. The number of the children in the different Schools has increased from 500 to 630. A considerable number of Scriptures, and religious Tracts and school-books, not less than in former years, has been circulated among grown people and children; mostly, however, by our Schools. The truths of the Bible, and salvation by Christ, have been faithfully taught and preached; mostly, indeed, to the children and young persons in the Schools, but also to adults: moreover, two more European Labourers have been added to our Missionary circle; so that the work in our hands may be carried on more efficiently and extensively. I feel very thankful that a new year with such new and favourable propects is before us. May our Lord and Master assist every one of us, in giving himself wholly and conscientiously to His work; and mercifully grant, that, by our labours for the salvation of souls, His Name may be glorified!

ASIA-MINOR MISSION.

COMMENCED 1830.

Mission Establishment:

2 Missionaries. 1 Translator.

In the last Report, the successful opposition of the Greek Church to the Mission Schools was mentioned. This opposition still continues; so that the Missionaries have been unable to resume their school-labours, and the Greeks have been almost entirely withheld by the Ecclesiastics from attending their ministrations. Under these circumstances, the Missionaries fully stated to the Committee the difficulties of their situation, and sought their instructions as to their future course. From these communications, the Committee came to the conclusion, that it is not practicable for the Missionaries, at present, to carry on that branch of the Mission which relates to the establishment of Schools, and that there is little opportunity of administering religious instruction to the adult Greek population. The Committee were, at the same time, extremely reluctant to relinquish the Mission, until every effort had been made to discover a sphere of usefulness for the Missionaries in connexion with it. They had themselves suggested their being employed for a season in itinerating in European and Asiatic Turkey, with a view to ascertain whether sufficient opportunities of usefulness exist, in conversations with the people, and in the distribution of copies of the Scriptures, and other books and Tracts, to render it advisable to continue the Mission. This course of proceeding having received the sanction of the Committee, the Missionaries are about to enter upon it.

Turkish Translations.

The Rev. P. Fjellstedt was diligently prosecuting the study of the Turkish language, with a view, eventually, to a revision of the Turkish Version of the Scriptures. He was, in the mean time, employed in the preparation of elementary religious and educational works in Turkish. On this branch of his labours he writes, January 7th, 1839:—

> Every circumstance seems to indicate, and every body anticipates, that great changes must soon and inevitably take place in this country; and then an effectual door may be thrown open to the whole influence of the Gospel of Salvation: therefore the directions of the Committee to prepare books, and to be ready for such changes, are certainly founded upon very mature reflections.
> During the last year I have prepared, with Yousuf Effendi, the following works:—

1. A Treatise on the Moral and Social Duties of Man, with a new translation of the greater part of the Book of Proverbs. 2. A Treatise on Natural Theology. 3. The First Part of a large work, a System of Divinity. 4. The Evidences of Christianity, for the Use of Mahomedan readers. 5. A Short Refutation of the Korân. 6. A Christian Catechism. 7. A Grammar of the English Language, for the Use of Turkey. 8. An Arithmetic. 9. Commencement of an English and Turkish Dictionary.

Hindrances to the Gospel among the Turks.

Mr. Fjellstedt thus notices, July 11th, 1838, the mighty obstacles which oppose the reception of the Gospel by the Turks:—

We are visited by Turks from time to time, and have interesting conversations with them. Even a party of Turkish women has made us a visit in our house: one of whom could read, and seemed very happy in obtaining a copy of the New Testament. One of the Turks, with whom we have intercourse, does not seem to be far from the Kingdom of God; and if any plan could be devised for giving him Christian instruction without danger, and afterward of supporting him somewhere in safety, he would come forward with joy;—but here is the great mountain, which obstructs the way of the Gospel in this country.

Prevalence of Infidelity.

During the course of the year, Messrs. Jetter and Fjellstedt had made repeated journeys in Asia Minor; where they had found many opportunities of useful conversation with the people, and of distributing the Scriptures and other Books. It was deeply afflicting to discover, that while superstition exerts its baneful influence over one class of nominal Christians, infidelity exerts an influence not less baneful over another. The works of Voltaire, and other similar ones, the Missionaries remark, find their way everywhere.

"It is truly lamentable," they say, "that those who cannot bow down before senseless images, &c., not having the means of learning the truth as it is in Jesus, generally obtain the infidel books alluded to, and so become downright unbelievers!"

EGYPT MISSION.

COMMENCED 1826.

Mission Establishment:

2 Missionaries. 6 Native Teachers.

General Course of Proceedings.

The course of the Missionaries' labours is thus described by the Rev. W. Krusé, March 21, 1838:—

Our work here continues to prosper. Divine Service, in English, has been this year better attended than formerly, owing to the many travellers that pass through Egypt to and from India. In my Seminary, I have, at present, 13 pupils; namely, 3 Copts, 2 Greeks, 5 Mahomedans, 1 Abyssinian, and 2 Protestants—one of whom is an English Boy, and the other was formerly a Slave, now liberated, and baptized according to the rites of the Church of England. Many Copts and Mahomedans have applied to be received into the Seminary; but I could not receive them. However, instruction has been offered to all of them as day-scholars, which offer some have accepted: others would not come, as I could not receive them into the house. There are now 14 day-scholars in the Seminary, most of them Mahomedans: the whole, boarders and day-scholars, amount to 27; of whom, 12 are Christians, and 15 Mahomedans. It is remarkable, that now so many Mahomedans apply for instruction, without making any objection to being instructed in the Christian Religion. When a Boy enters our Seminary, the first thing, besides the usual daily instructions, is, to learn the Lord's Prayer by heart, then the Creed, and Ten Commandments; after this, a small Catechism of the Christian Religion; then a larger one, and a Catechism of Scripture. All these have been learned by heart by the elder boys, who have been here now two years. I catechize them on Lord's-Day afternoons, and am much pleased with their answers.

State of the Schools.

On the 25th of June last, an examination of the several Schools took place. It was attended by the Rev. H. Tattam, now prosecuting Coptic researches in Egypt. Mr. Tattam thus expressed to the Missionaries the gratification which he felt at what he had witnessed:—

Before I either eat or drink, I must express to you the great gratification which I have had in attending at all your Schools, and observing the whole routine of instruction imparted; and allow me to say, that I am not only gratified, but satisfied, with all I have seen. I know, in some measure, the difficulties with which you have to contend, and the discouragements which you at times experience; but the sight which I have to-day witnessed, of so many children receiving Christian instruction, and being made acquainted with the way of salvation, must, at times, cheer and encourage you. Some of the seed may be sown by the way-side, some on a stony ground, and some among thorns; but assuredly some of it will be found to have been cast on a good soil, and will at length bring forth good fruit.

That God may more abundantly bless and prosper your labours, is my most sincere prayer.

Education among the Turks in Egypt.

Mrs. Lieder, late Miss Holliday, has obtained access to the females of the Pacha's family, for the purpose of imparting instruction to them. They consist of the eldest daughter of Nazly Hanum, the youngest daughter of Geineb Hanum, the wife of Ibrahim Pacha, the wife of Ibrahim Pacha the younger, the wife of Tassoam Pacha, the wife of Abbas Pacha, the wife of Ismael Pacha, and the wife of Ahmed Pacha. Another incident, scarcely less remarkable, is an intimation from Hekekyan Bey, the Pacha's Minister of Instruction, that the Pacha thought of committing the education of Mahomet Ali Bey, and his little brother, to the Clergyman expected at Alexandria to occupy the church built by the English residents at that place.

ABYSSINIA MISSION.

COMMENCED 1829.

Mission Establishment:

3 Missionaries. 1 European Artisan.

Expulsion of the Missionaries from Abyssinia.

The Rev. L. Krapf, having been appointed to this Mission, reached Adowah toward the end of 1837. At that time the Mission was encountering considerable difficulties, excited by the Priests, and the avarice of the Governors. On the 2d of March 1838, M. Abadie, a Frenchman, accompanied by an Italian Priest, named Padre Giuseppe, arrived at Adowah. M. Abadie had left an elder brother at Massowah, on the Red Sea, who subsequently joined him at Adowah. The object of these persons appears to have been to revive the Roman-Catholic Mission in Abyssinia. The Rev. C. W. Isenberg remarks, writing from Jidda, April 26, 1838:—

> The arrival of these two gentlemen very much contributed to raise the clamour of our enemies against us much higher than it was before; and one week after, Oobieh, who till then had protected us, declaring that he was not able to resist our enemies any longer, delivered us into the hands of the chief of them; viz. the Alaka Kiddan Mariam, of Madhan Alam, and Wussen, the Governor of Adowah; commanding us, by them, to leave Adowah, and to quit the country.

After ineffectual endeavours to induce Oobieh to change his purpose, the Missionaries were compelled to obey this unrighteous command. Mr. Isenberg remarks:—

> We were turned out of a country into which we had considered ourselves happy to have been called to proclaim the Gospel in the midst of a fallen Church, and concerning which we thought we had several indications implying that the time of its salvation was near. Our hearts were rent, and our minds depressed; and it was only the reliance upon our Invisible Friend and Protector that kept us upright, and gave us power to sustain this trying dispensation.

The Missionaries reached Massowah, March the 29th, and Jidda, April the 22d. From thence, Messrs. Isenberg and Blumhardt proceeded to Cairo, where they arrived on the 24th of June last.

Efforts of the Papacy to regain its Ascendancy in Abyssinia.

It appears, from the communications of the Missionaries, that Messrs. Abadie and the Italian Priest penetrated to Gondar. At that place the younger Abadie and the Italian Priest were left; while the elder, with two Abyssinians—one of them the nephew of Deftera Multar, who has become a proselyte to the Popish faith—returned to France, in order to procure a reinforcement of Romish Missionaries for Abyssinia. It was also understood that the parties left at Gondar had opened a communication with the King of Shoa, in order to extend their influence in that direction.

These facts afford additional evidence of the activity of the Papacy to extend its baneful influence, and especially to counteract Protestant Missions—a principle now openly avowed in the policy of the Romish Church. A loud call is thus made on the members of our Protestant Church, for increased means and efforts in support of the Missions of the Church of England among the Heathen; and especially for increased prayer to the GOD of all grace, that He would turn to foolishness the council of His enemies, and prosper the RIGHTEOUS CAUSE!

Measures for Re-entering Abyssinia.

Mr. Krapf, being unwilling to relinquish the hope of re-entering Abyssinia from another quarter, determined to make the attempt to do so by Zeila, which lies without the Straits of Babel Mandel, in lat. 11° 20′ N. long. 43° 5′ E. He was led to contemplate this attempt in consequence of the Missionaries, while at Adowah, having been invited by the King of Shoa to visit his country. Mr. Krapf accordingly proceeded to Mocha; where he arrived on the 28th of May. Here he met with a servant of the King of Shoa, who encouraged him to prosecute the design which he had formed, and gave him much information as to the best method of proceeding from Zeila to Marfood—not marked on the maps—the present capital of the King of Shoa. The kingdom of Shoa lies to the southward of Amhara, and, according to Salt's Map, is comprised between 9° and 11° of North latitude, and 38° and 41° of East longitude. The journey from Zeila to Marfood is long, difficult, and perilous. The route is through Hurrur, lat. 9° 40′ N. and long. 42° 35′ E.

From Mr. Naylor, the British Consul at Mocha, Mr. Krapf met with a friendly reception, and the promise of every assistance in his power.

While Mr. Krapf was employed in collecting information at this place, he was attacked by dysentery; which reduced him so low, that he was compelled to return to Caïro, where he arrived on the 27th of September. Mr. Isenberg and Mr. Krapf seriously deliberated on their future course; and came to the conclusion jointly to engage in the attempt to reach Shoa by way of Zeila and Hurrur. Should they fail in their object with regard to Shoa, it was their purpose to make their way, if possible, to the tribes of heathen Gallas, who are spread over the country to the southward and eastward of Shoa.

Mr. Isenberg, writing under date of Jan. 14, 1839, thus expresses his feelings with regard to the undertaking upon which he was about to enter:—

I beg to recommend ourselves, and our important and difficult undertaking, to your Christian affection and your most fervent prayers. We are bearing our souls in our hands, committing them to Him who has redeemed them with His precious blood, and who alone can preserve them unto the end. We believe that He has called us to His work: we therefore follow Him, and I trust we shall not be disappointed. If, however, our feeble efforts should be again frustrated by the Powers of Darkness counteracting us, and even if we should be called to sacrifice our lives to His cause in Shoa, without seeing the desired effect produced, His work will go on; and we shall glorify Him in the Church triumphant, for having allowed us to contribute our small portion to pave the way for the Gospel to that country.

Mr. Krapf, Jan. 20, 1839, after remarking, that they are convinced, that if the attempt to reach Shoa were now neglected, the door might long be closed to a Protestant Mission to that country, proceeds:—

We can say, that we do not undertake this arduous way in order to get honour, or to augment the treasures of science, but only for the glory of our God, and the salvation of immortal souls: though we shall never be careless of the augmentation of science, in so far as our chief object may allow.

Shoa and be able to begin our work. We are of opinion, and suppose the Committee will be of the same, that we must have in view, primarily and chiefly, the people in Shoa; and then the numerous tribes of Gallas, particularly those who are subject to the King of Shoa. We shall have to teach the young people by way of instruction, and the elder by way of preaching, either in conversation or in a regular Divine Service. Preaching, in the course of travelling, will perhaps promote our cause very materially. In general, one of us should be particularly engaged with preaching, that the knowledge of the Gospel may be known as far as possible. We regret that we cannot take with us more than about 100 copies of Amharic books, as we are compelled to avoid much luggage. With respect to the Gallas, we intend to beg the King of Shoa, in course of time, for permission to go to their country, in order to preach the Gospel among them. I cannot imagine that he will refuse this request, and his protection. Perhaps the Lord will give a more-opened door with the Heathen, than with the hardened nominal Christians. If we cannot go ourselves to this people, your Committee will, we trust, send some Brethren to enter into this new field. In case the king should become cold toward our cause or labours, or in any way a removal from his country should be produced, I, for my part, do not intend to give over the Abyssinian Mission; but should be inclined to penetrate to Gondar, or any place in the south-western parts of Amhara; or, if the Lord should seem to direct, to penetrate to Catta and Emarea, where Christians are said to be. The Lord grant that all who love Abyssinia, who work and pray for this country, may not become tired in their endeavours, but firmly remember the words "Tandem bona causa triumphat," which are always sounding in my ears. This Mission has, as it seems to me, an aggressive character; where we must remember those words of Christ—He that endureth to the end, shall be saved. Though we may not be allowed to see the harvest, yet we have grace to sow. I repeat the expression of joy which your last Letter, as well as the foregoing, excited in my mind; learning by it, that the Committee will not desist from the Mission, till every attempt to do good to this country shall have been made.

Colonel Campbell, the British Consul-General at Caïro, had procured for the Missionaries a firmân from the Pacha of Egypt; and had given them Letters to the Consul at Mocha and the King of Shoa, strongly recommending them to their protection and favour. Mr. Gliddon, the United-States Consul-General, had given them a Letter, recommending them to the friendly offices of all captains of United-States' vessels with whom they might meet. Mr. Krapf concludes his Letter with an aspiration, in which our Christian friends will cordially unite—

May the Lord of Sabaoth be our guide, our preserver, our strength, our light, and our life! May His grace remain with our spirits and with yours!

Hopeful Death of an Abyssinian Youth.

When the Rev. S. Gobat was obliged by ill health to leave Abyssinia in the autumn of 1836, he was accompanied by Hadara, an Abyssinian Youth. Hadara was placed in the Beuggen Institution, near Basle, in May 1837, with a view to his being prepared for usefulness as a Christian Teacher on his intended return to his own country; but it was providentially ordered otherwise. In July last, he became unwell. The disease proved to be consumption. Its progress was rapid; and he terminated his earthly career on the 23d of December, being about twenty-three years of age. The instruction which he received from Mr. Gobat, and during his residence at Beuggen, was accompanied by the Divine blessing. Mr. Gobat writes respecting him:—

During the last weeks of his life, he was continually engaged with the doctrine of satisfaction through Christ, and justification by faith; with the application of it to himself, especially during his sleepless nights; and continually cited, with rapture, such passages as these:—He hath made Him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him: 2 Cor. v. 21. Who His own self bare our sins in His own body on the tree: 1 Peter ii. 24.

Mr. Gobat adds:—

He fell asleep, while his surrounding Brethren were commending his soul to his Saviour by prayers and thanksgivings.

This first-fruits of the Abyssinian Mission is a cheering token of the Divine favour, notwithstanding the darkness of its present prospects.

In consequence of the breaking up of the Mission, and the earnest call for additional Missionaries in India, the services of the Rev. C. H. Blumhardt have been transferred to the North-India Mission.

CHINA MISSION.

COMMENCED 1837.

Mission Establishment:

1 Lay Agent.

General Proceedings.

THE immediate object of the Committee, in sending out Mr. Squire, was, that he might acquire the language of China, and gain information bearing on Missionary operations, with regard to that country and its vast population. These objects Mr. Squire has diligently prosecuted. While remaining at Singapore, as the most suitable point for facilitating the attainment of their objects, Mr. and Mrs. Squire employed themselves also in the study of Malay, and in plans for the religious benefit of the Malays, by means of Schools and Bible and Tract Societies, as well as in giving oral instruction as circumstances permitted. In the year 1838, Mr. Squire visited Malacca, Rhio a neighbouring Dutch settlement, and Penang. In September last, having made some proficiency in the Chinese language, he proceeded to Macao, in order to take a nearer view of China.

Scripture and Tract Distribution.

Mrs. Squire, in January 1838, thus describes the opportunities at Singapore for Scripture and Tract Distribution:—

Singapore is just the wide sphere of usefulness which we expected. The arrivals of shipping average 200 in a month. This month and the next the junks will come in from Siam and China, and present openings for the distribution of books. In the absence of other means, such as entering China and conducting Missionary effort within the Celestial Empire, this is a very important feature; and though to indiscriminate distribution I am no friend, yet I do anticipate that good will silently and effectually thus be done. In our motley population, very many channels of good are open and accessible. In the past year, we have been permitted to distribute Scriptures and Tracts in fifteen languages, exclusive of Chinese;—of the former 511, including 24 English Bibles and 63 Testaments, chiefly sold; and 3835 Tracts.

Writing in May last, Mr. Squire says—

In March and April I visited all the junks, and supplied their crews, just on the eve of their departure for their respective ports in China. May the blessing of the Lord accompany their perusal! They were received with the greatest readiness; and although I do not, from this simple circumstance, argue any thing more than a natural curiosity, yet it is a matter of great thankfulness that they do not reject them, or look on the donors with coolness and suspicion. The character of the Chinese, religiously considered, is indifference, not superstition and bigotry. The promise is, My word shall not return unto me void; and we rest in faith on the promise.

In August of that year, Mr. Squire writes:—

You will be glad to know, that, at the close of the first year, we have much cause to be thankful for the measure of success vouchsafed to our little Auxiliary and Ladies' Association. We were the Secretaries, in our respective departments; though now others have come forward, to carry on the work. Our collections for the year have exceeded 1000 Spanish Dollars; and about an equal number of Scriptures or Parts have been issued, to those who can read, in twenty-one different languages.

Opium Trade.

The influence of opium, in demoralizing the Chinese, exceeds in its horrors the effect of dram-drinking in Europe. Speaking of the opium-shops, Mr. Squire states:—

Never perhaps was there a nearer approach to a hell upon earth, than within the precincts of these vile hovels, where gaming is likewise carried to a great extent. Here every gradation of excitement and depression may be witnessed, from the maddening laugh, through a state of stupefaction and inanity, down to the utter prostration of strength and energy, for which these people—the Chinese—are so remarkable.

He adds:—

Truly it is an engine in Satan's hands, and a powerful one; but let it never be forgotten, that a nation professing Christianity supplies the means; and further, that that nation is England, through her possessions in Hindostan.

Writing at a subsequent period, August 14, 1838, Mr. Squire recurs to this pernicious traffic. By the vigilance of the Chinese Government, it had in a great measure been driven from Canton; but it was understood that small vessels, of forty tons' burden, were being built, for the purpose of conveying the opium from the outside anchorage to the various ports on the East coast, or on board junks lying off the harbours, according to a preconcerted plan.

During the past year, he says—

Many small vessels have been thus employed; and it has been found to succeed so well, that there is now to be a systematic plan. One little vessel, as above described, has already passed this place, on her way to China; and others are hastening on to carrry the seeds of death and destruction from the territories of Christian Government into Heathen lands. What measures the Chinese will now take, it is impossible to say. They have been out-manœuvered completely; and instead of our being smugglers in one port, we are now employed in this disgraceful trade throughout the coasts of the empire: and I fear it is too prolific a source of gain to the Chinese Authorities, at the various towns where it is landed, to expect that they will do more than publish a few bombastic edicts or prohibitions; which have only one effect, that of stimulating the interested to offer higher bribes, which at length find their way into the pockets of these declaimers of morality and virtue.

He adds:—

I cannot but think that public opinion at home will exercise some influence in favour of its abolition: and were expressions given by means of Societies now existing, and public meetings held for the special purpose, it must be productive of good.

Mode of carrying on Missionary Operations in China.

China itself still appears to be inaccessible to Missionaries beyond the limits of Canton and Macao. Mr. Morrison, writing on this subject to Mr. Squire, from Canton, Dec. 5, 1837, states:—

I have said that there is at present no prospect of residing in China. China is not open; neither does the coast afford the means of doing good, to the full extent that has been represented. Voyages up the coast, otherwise than in opium-ships, can be made only at an enormous expense; for to trade is next to impracticable. And, at present, were such voyages to be made frequently, the Government would be roused to such a state of activity, as would for a time debar men from all utility in the country. I speak of the present: I know that it is not ever to remain so. I know, also, that we are not to sit down idly, until the face of affairs shall alter. But I would have men go about their work, not blindly, but with their eyes open to the difficulties that beset them, and their judgment awake and active.

A similar opinion is expressed by Mr. Squire, writing from Macao in November last. It is not, however, to be inferred, that little is practicable on behalf of China. Mr. Squire thus explains his views on this head, in the Letter from Macao above mentioned, Nov. 10, 1838:—

I confine my remarks to China Proper; and do not embrace the subject of Missionary labours among the emigrants in the Straits or Netherlands India, or the labours of the Press, which are invaluable; but we have hitherto neglected to occupy the openings which present themselves within the bounds of the empire at Canton and Macao: and, although it would be far from the truth to say that China is open, in any sense of the word, yet it is equally matter of fact, that we have not embraced the opportunities of locating, where we can do so with little difficulty. Having touched on this point, I am led to notice present prospects; which, as regards Missionary efforts, are comprised in few words. There appear to be no serious obstacles in the way of the Missionary settling in this spot, or in Canton; and this is further confirmed by the fact, that four Labourers connected with Societies in America are now so located; viz. two at Macao, and two at Canton. Their labours are confined to the people in the immediate vicinity of the latter place; but the towns and villages situated among the islands and bays near Macao present a wider range for speaking to the people, and the distribution of Bibles and Tracts, independently of the coasting junks which visit the inner harbour. Nor do I think, if the Missionary acted with that degree of wisdom and discretion which should especially characterize all his proceedings in China, until it pleases God to open a wider door, that he would suffer molestation, or find serious hindrance to thus prosecuting his work.

Mr. G. T. Lay, Agent of the Bible Society in China, writes to the Committee from Macao, on the 9th of the same month:—

We can reside at Canton, and at Macao, upon the borders of China, without any personal risk whatever; and converse with and visit as many Chinese, at their own homes, as we please. At a rough guess, we may say, that there is half a million to whom we may have access; and, besides that, persons from every part of the empire, who always show the greatest complacency when they meet with a foreigner who can address them in their own dialect.

There are certain limits which we cannot pass at present; but there is a wide field for doing something within those limits. May God Almighty stir up the hearts of my countrymen to occupy what we have, instead of seeking for what we have not! Every nook and corner swarm with inhabitants, who listen to the accents of their mother-tongue, when they drop from the lips of a foreigner, with admiration, and catch the drift of his meaning with marks of the liveliest interest.

The views conveyed by Mr. Lay, in this Letter, are highly deserving of consideration. It is printed entire, in the Appendix *.

May it please God, in the exercise of His power and mercy, to open a great and effectual door for Christian Missionaries into the heart of this vast empire!

NORTH-INDIA MISSION.

COMMENCED 1816.

Mission Establishment:

15 European Missionaries.
1 Native Missionary.
2 Indo-British Missionaries.
3 European Catechists.
59 Native Teachers.
1 Printer.

THE appointment of the Rev. F. Wybrow to the Secretaryship of the Corresponding Committee was mentioned in the last Report. His health having in a measure suffered, he left Calcutta, on a visit to the Missionary Stations in the Upper Provinces, on the 12th of October. On the 22d of January he wrote from Agra, that his health was perfectly restored. He was to leave for Delhi the next day.

CALCUTTA.

Eagerness of the People to obtain Tracts.

Mr. Wybrow mentions in the following terms the eagerness of the people to obtain Tracts:—

* Appendix III.

Nothing could equal the eagerness with which the crowd assailed Mr. Sandys and myself for Tracts. Had not the horse, drawing our buggy, been a docile beast, the pressure of the tumultuous and eager crowd would have ended in some very fatal accident. They snatched the Tracts from us, in their eagerness to get them; and could not be persuaded, when our stock was exhausted, that we really had no more to give.

The Demoralising Character of Heathenism.

The fearful character of Heathenism is too faithfully depicted by the following fact, related by Mr. Wybrow:—

Kalee, Catechist, who was a man of good caste and family in his former state, was one day accompanying me in my buggy; and, in the course of conversation, excited my astonishment and horror as he described his Heathen state, by telling me, that I had seated, beside me, one who had murdered his own mother. "Kalee, Kalee!" said I, "alas! how was this?" "In the days of darkness," he replied, "when my father died, and my poor mother was bound to the pile with his dead body, I lighted, according to the custom of my caste, the fire which consumed her to ashes."

Yet, adds Mr. Wybrow:—

Kalee is now a companion whom I can love; who has, I trust, indeed given his heart to the Lord; who bravely preaches the Gospel, and delights in the truth as it is in Jesus.

The Head Seminary.

The contemplated establishment of a Head Seminary at Calcutta has been mentioned in former Reports. The special object of this Establishment is, to train Natives of hopeful piety, and suitable qualifications in other respects, to be employed as Catechists and Missionaries in the North-India Mission. Every succeeding year more deeply impresses the Committee with the importance of Establishments of this nature in all the Society's Missions, at the earliest period that the state of things in the respective Missions will admit. In none of the Society's Missions is the need of an Institution of this kind more urgently felt, than in Calcutta, where the advancement of many of the Natives in general knowledge and intellectual improvement is more decided than in either of the other Presidencies. The senior Student of the Institution, the Rev. James Innes, has been set apart by the Committee, to take charge of the Institution. It is intended that Mr. Innes should proceed to his destination in June next*.

* In a Charge delivered to the Clergy of the Diocese of Calcutta, July 6, 1838 —which has been published in this country since the Report was delivered— the Fruits of the Ministry.

The Rev. T. Sandys relates, June 21, 1837 :—

This evening, 14 Adults, and a little Girl, daughter of one of them, were admitted into the Church of Christ, by Baptism. Most of these persons have been receiving instruction, preparatory to baptism, for a considerable time past; and I have reason to hope that they are sincerely desirous that they may have grace to adorn their Christian profession by a holy and consistent course of conduct.

On the 29th of the same month, he states :—

Our Candidates for Confirmation, 34 in number, assembled early at the Mission House; and after imploring the grace and blessing of Almighty God, that they might sincerely and unreservedly devote themselves to His service—that they might ever after remain mindful of the promises and vows made at their baptism, and now renewed in the presence of the Church, and live a Christian life agreeably thereto—they proceeded to the Cathedral; where they, as well as many other young people, both European and Native, were confirmed by the Bishop; who also delivered a very impressive and appropriate Address to them.

On the 1st of April, 1838, Mr. Sandys administered the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper to upward of 50 Native Communicants.

In a Report on the state of the Mission at the close of last year, Mr. Sandys mentions, that the number of Communicants in connexion with his Ministry was about 90. After mentioning the death of four adults in the course of the year, he adds—"They died resting on Christ as the only hope of salvation."

The Baptisms in the Mission, during the half year ending June 30, 1838, amounted to 183; of whom 65 were adults.

The Want of Missionaries.

The want of additional Missionaries is strongly urged, both by Mr. Sandys and the Corresponding Committee.

Mr. Sandys, after a detailed statement of the want of Missionary aid, in order to the efficiency of the work, says, November 13th, 1838 :—

the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Calcutta, after referring to the Martinière Institution at Calcutta, thus favourably notices the Society's Seminary :—

"The Head Seminary projected by the Church Missionary Society here—and to be followed, as I hope, by similar Institutions in other parts of India—will be still more effective to this end [the training of Native Teachers]. Such Establishments for Preparatory Missionary Education are wanted most urgently, and shall be embraced and encouraged by me with the warmest affection. I shall rejoice to see a succession of Native Youths, of piety and talent, educated as Catechists by them; and some of superior promise transferred, as Students for Holy Orders, to Bishop's College.'

"Four or five Missionaries find abundant employ in effectually carrying out the various branches of labour connected with our Mission Establishments in and about Calcutta."

Mr. Sandys' appeal is thus supported by the Corresponding Committee:—

The Corresponding Committee cannot forward the accompanying Letter from Mr. Sandys without bearing their confirmatory testimony to the necessity of strengthening the Calcutta Branch of the Mission. They have long, as you are aware, been of opinion, that this city, where the native mind has been so widely awakened, from the torpor of centuries, by secular education, and where, from the number of the Missionary Schools at which the truths and principles of the Gospel are taught, the preacher or reasoner has some common intellectual ground with his hearers, affords a very favourable field for the operations of the Society; and they earnestly trust, therefore, that it will be found practicable to afford Mr. Sandys some part, at least, of the aid which he solicits.

The supply of another class of Missionary Agents is urged in the same Letter:—

On the general subject, the Corresponding Committee do not think it necessary to add any thing further to Mr. Sandys' earnest and forcible representation. But the want of efficient Schoolmasters is so great, and one which it is found so utterly impossible to supply in this country, while it seriously cripples the operations of the Mission and distracts the Missionaries from their more proper labours, that the Corresponding Committee cannot neglect this opportunity of urging it most earnestly upon the attention of the Parent Society.

BURDWAN DISTRICT.

Bishop of Calcutta's Visit to the Burdwan District.

The visit of the Lord Bishop of Calcutta to Kishnaghur is thus noticed by the Rev. H. C. Krückeberg:—

July 25, 1837—At six o'clock A.M. I went to one of the Society's Bengalee Schools at KISHNAGHUR; where the others were ordered to collect, for the purpose of being examined by the Bishop, who arrived exactly at seven o'clock. The Examination commenced immediately. The Bishop was exceedingly kind to the Boys; which so much inspired them, that they shouted forth their answers with uncommon vivacity; not minding, though they renounced their own creed by the answer which they gave;—as, Question: "Who is the Light of the world?" Answer: "Jesus Christ."

After an hour and a half, we proceeded to the English School. On the road, the Bishop seemed determined to profit something by us in the Bengalee Language. He asked phrases in English; and we repeated them in Bengalee, and declined and conjugated until we reached the English School.

After breakfast, the English-School Boys were called in. The Bishop was much gratified with the progress which the Boys had made in secular knowledge, and in the knowledge of Christianity.

After this, another Bengalee School, which was not in time in the morning, came in; and then the Christians, who were about eleven in number. The Bishop gave them an address in English; Mr. Deerr translating it into Bengalee. His Lordship thought this little beginning of a Bengalee Congregation highly important.

July 26, 1837—At five o'clock A.M. the Bishop left the Station, in the steamer. I went with him to CULNA.—On the way down, the Bishop studied Bengalee with me; and put down a number of Bengalee sentences, which he asked the children in Culna. On our arrival here, we could not get bearers for the palanquin as soon as necessary. The Bishop made no ceremony; but walked up to Mr. Alexander's house, which is about half a mile from the river. All the children had assembled about the bungalow, which was soon filled with them. There were not so many Hindoos present, as was the case in Kishnaghur; but it passed off with great credit to the children and their Teachers.

The Bishop seemed also struck with the freedom with which the Boys answered the questions against their own religious system.

August 1837—In the early part of this month, we had the pleasure of a visit from the Bishop at this Station, BURDWAN. His Lordship preached twice in our Bengalee Chapel, in a simple and most impressive manner. He examined, in successive order, the English and Bengalee Schools, entering most carefully into the details of the acquirements of the scholars: and the examination being over, he dismissed each department with an affectionate address, exhorting them to a faithful application of the knowledge which they had received, particularly of the Word of God. The Teachers and scholars were impressed with the feeling and earnest manner in which the Bishop pointed out the immense difference between idol worship and the pure soul-renewing doctrines of Christianity.

The day before his Lordship left, he held a Confirmation, at which nine young Native Christians made a public confession of their faith in Christ. The ceremony was very impressive.

We had also a Public Examination of our Orphan and Infant Schools.—The Bishop appeared particularly pleased with the Infant School. It numbers now 36 children: the majority belong to our Native Christians, and the rest are orphans. The kind and affectionate manner of the Bishop, and the deep interest which he evinced in the prosperity of our Mission, was very encouraging to us.

Fruits of the Ministry.

The Rev. J. J. Weitbrecht finds much encouragement in his labours at this Station. In September last, he remarks—

I usually preach to crowded congregations in the Bazaar Chapel. In the evening, between 80 and 100 Hindoos are always in attendance. I sometimes feel a great opening: my heart is drawn out in compassion for these lost sheep; and my addresses are, with few exceptions, listened to with silent attention, sometimes eliciting the approbation of those who seem to be more accessible to the truth than the others.

Mr. Weitbrecht thus relates the hopeful case of a Youth who had been taught in the English School:—

Kalee, one of our English scholars, came to me, and declared his desire to become a Christian. His friends, who had heard of his wishes, threatened him. This led him to resolve upon the decisive step at once. However, his mind has been drawn toward the Truth for a long time, and he has counted the cost before hand.

Of Kalee, at a subsequent period, he states:—

Kalee, our Catechist, assists me in preaching. He preaches with affection and great earnestness; and will become a valuable Helper, by gradually acquiring a more enlarged fund of Divine knowledge.

In January of last year, Mr. Weitbrecht relates the hopeful death of a Youth taught in the Burdwan Schools:—

During my absence, a Christian Lad, named Abraham, died on our premises. He had been ill for a long time; but lately he had begun to walk about, and we hoped for his recovery, when he was again laid up to rise from his bed no more. Mr. De Rozario informed me that his last hours were truly delightful: his conversation evinced a power of grace which is but rarely witnessed among young converts. He exhorted his schoolfellows and friends to seek Jesus more earnestly: he prayed much, acknowledging his unworthiness in the most humble expressions; and gave a cheering testimony of his firm reliance in the atonement of Christ, through whose righteousness he hoped to obtain an entrance into heaven.

He concludes:—

Abraham was always an interesting and intelligent boy; but little did I know before of the work carried on in his heart. His happy death is very encouraging, and a pleasing token that the seed sown is often growing up unobserved by human eyes; and on death-beds we are sometimes permitted to discover sheaves ripe for the eternal garners.

Illustration of the Progress of Knowledge among the Hindoos.

The following fact, related by Mr. Weitbrecht, strikingly illustrates the progress of knowledge among the Hindoos:—

Nov. 15, 1837—Set out at day-break, and rode along the eastern banks of the Dammoodah. About 9 A.M. I reached Selimabad, and took up my quarters at the cutcherry of Moonsiff Nogur Chowdree.

It is a simple mud-wall building, open to the eastern side. In an adjoining hut there was the Moonsiff's cot, a chair, and little almirah, which contained his library: it consisted of Scott's Bible, some volumes of Sermons, Hume's History of England, the Korân, Locke's Essays, and a few smaller works. Who would expect such a library in the cottage of a Hindoo, who has neither renounced his caste, nor shown any substantial proofs of his dislike to the religion of his fathers? This young man was educated in our Mission Premises.

Utility of Mission Schools.

Though few, comparatively, of the children educated in Mission Schools, embrace Christianity, the advantages, in various ways, of the knowledge acquired in these schools, comes to be more and more valued by the parents.—Mr. Weitbrecht thus closes his Journal for the year 1837:—

Dec. 1, 1837—Many Natives do certainly highly appreciate the advantages derived to their children from their education in the Society's Schools.

Spirit of Inquiry at Kishnaghur.

A spirit of inquiry, to a considerable extent, has lately been manifested in the Kishnaghur Branch of the Burdwan Mission, of a very hopeful kind. Time is necessary to ascertain its real character. Experience has taught the Committee to rejoice with trembling, even under the most satisfactory indications of a work of grace among a heathen population.

BENARES.

Deaths of Labourers.

The Committee have to lament the death, at this Station, of the Rev. J. C. G. Knorpp and Mrs. Knorpp. They were removed from the scene of their earthly labours, the one on the 29th of March 1838, and the other on the 2d of April following. His Brother Missionary, the Rev. C. B. Leupolt, who attended him in his sickness, thus relates its termination:—

He exhorted the servants, spoke to me in German, and then said, "Come, Lord Jesus! come quickly!"—Being asked how he felt, he replied: "Peace, peace, peace is in my soul; a bright light shines before me."*

* The Bishop of Calcutta thus notices Mr. Knorpp's death, in the Charge above referred to:—

"One death, also, has occurred among our number since we last met, which has left a deep impression of sorrow on every heart, from the piety, meekness, love for souls, diligence and skill in acquiring the native languages, devotedness to his work in life, and eminently holy and peaceful faith in death, of the individual to whom I refer."

Of Mrs. Knorpp, he states:—

She was evidently aware of the approaching crisis, and requested me to destroy all her papers after her death: and then she exclaimed, "I die—I die! I trust the Lord will pardon me, and receive me to Himself."

He adds:—

Her countenance in death bespoke the peace which must have filled her soul at her departure; and she seemed to smile at my tears.

Fruits of the Ministry.

It is with melancholy satisfaction that the Committee record the following extracts from Mr. Knorpp's last Journal:—

A respectable Hindoo, who had been quietly listening for two hours, now fully entered into a most interesting conversation. He appears to be a man in earnest search after the Truth. From his statements, he appears to have given up idolatry, and the doctrine of Pantheism, as unworthy of God. How to receive forgiveness of sins, and to live a holy life, were the main topics of conversation. He requested me not merely to go and preach in the streets, but to visit respectable men in their houses. "There are many," he said, "who believe your doctrines and your book to be true, and wish to act accordingly."

On the 17th September, 1837, Mr. Knorpp administered Baptism to Kesar Gir, the son of a Brahmin, and adopted as son and heir by a Gosain of Benares, a man of large property. Kesar Gir drew up the following statement of his reasons for embracing the Christian Religion, which he read before the congregation:—

I was brought up in the Hindoo Religion, which has established thirty-three millions of false gods; and was kept in this darkness of ignorance of the True God until I read the Gospel; by the reading of which I was convinced of the divine origin of Christianity, and the falsehood of my religion. I examined the Christian Religion; and found that this is the only true one, pointing out a sure way of salvation. I did not find Christ a deceiver, as all the Hindoo Incarnations; for the True God does not practise deceit and sin as they did; and therefore no salvation can be expected from them, nor from the Hindoo religion, where God is made the author of sin. When I read of the life and actions of Christ, I found nothing but goodness and holiness; and was convinced of His divinity, and faith in Him was produced in my heart. I was convinced that I could only find salvation through Him; and, as I have seen the Hindoo religion to be nothing but a construction of lies, I forsook it, and all the gods I formerly served; and believe now on Jesus Christ, and His true Religion: and for the forgiveness of my sins I look to Him alone, for He has suffered for my sins also, and made an atonement; being convinced, that without shedding of blood there is no forgiveness.

Kesar Gir received the name of Timothy. He is about twenty-four years of age.

Among those who have embraced the Gospel, Mr. Knorpp mentions a Hindoo Widow:—

On the 21st of December, 1837, a Hindoo Widow was united by Baptism to our Congregation in the Lines. She is a young woman, about twenty-four years of age, and of an intelligent mind. She had become acquainted with the Christian Religion through the Native Christians in the Lines, and manifested a desire to forsake idolatry. Two respectable men, the one a Fife-major and the other a Drum-major of the regiments here, introduced her to me for Christian instruction. She consequently came daily to my house, and received instructions in the truths of the Bible; and, as I judged her prepared for the holy rite, Baptism was administered on the above-mentioned day. I was much pleased with her progress in divine knowledge; and she evidently felt, on the day of baptism, something of the Divine Grace vouchsafed to humble believers on such holy occasions.

The trials and dangers of converts to Christianity, from among the Heathen, are thus feelingly pointed out by Mr. Knorpp:—

Whoever knows a little of this country, is sufficiently acquainted with the temptations that assail our Native Inquirers and Christians, regarding the Female Sex. There is outward and inward temptation, which they have no grace to withstand; and Satan is busy enough to do all in his power to make them fall. The peculiar circumstances in which a Missionary is placed, make the work consequently so much more difficult and trying. His hopes are frequently frustrated, when most promising. Has he received a few as a seal of his ministry from among the Heathen? Then he must ever be upon his guard, like a watchman, that he may not lose them again, by being drawn away by their own lusts, and the temptations of their former companions and associates. No one knows the trials of a faithful Missionary, and no one can sufficiently sympathize with him. Had he not a gracious Saviour, before whose Throne he may come, with all his cares and anxieties, there would be no possibility of bearing up under the trials of his faith, and of keeping his hand on the plough. May the Lord not forsake us, by the reason of our unworthiness, and the many mistakes and omissions of which we are guilty, in His righteous and holy cause! May the sympathy of our Christian Brethren and Sisters at home be more excited toward this country, so full of idolatry, vice, and all manner of abominations; and may they pray more for the latter rain—the gracious out-pouring of the Holy Spirit on all flesh!

Missionaries' Trials.

The trials of the Missionary, in the exercise of his ministry, are thus described by Mr. Knorpp:—

May 30, 1837—I had to fight against wild beasts in human shape, this morning. Several Brahmins united to defend the greatest blasphemies against God, whom they declared to be the worker of all vices and crimes. One might faint in the conflict, and despond of every hope of success in a city where 25,000 Brahmins, full of all subtlety, cunning, and viciousness, are daily labouring against the efforts of seven Missionaries. It is heart rending, to see the state of this city. The only consolation for us remains in the daily practice, to strengthen ourselves in the Lord, as David did.

Bishop of Calcutta's visit to Benares.

The following details of the Bishop of Calcutta's visit to Benares, and of the support and comfort which it afforded to the Missionaries, are collected from Mr. Knorpp's Journal:—

At the beginning of October, our highly-esteemed Bishop resumed the thread of his Visitation; which was broken off in March, at Allahabad.

This was, indeed, a blessed season to us, which will never be forgotten! His Lordship went several times with me to the city, inspected our three Chapels, and addressed himself several times to the assembled crowds, in Hindoostanee. Our Free School and the Orphan Seminary were examined likewise by the Bishop, as well as Mrs. Smith's Orphan Female School; and he expressed his great pleasure and satisfaction at all he saw. I accompanied his Lordship to the Government School and Sanscrit College; at the latter of which, an interesting discussion took place with the greatest Pundits of Benares; who were so discomfited, that they angrily ordered their disciples, who were attentively listening to the discussion, to go to their respective departments.

The Bishop behaved very kindly to us at Benares, and likewise to me at Ghazeepore; and we felt that we had a father with us, and not our superior. Our beloved Diocesan has greatly endeared himself to us, and has a full share in our affections. Our prayer to the Lord is, that he may be long preserved to India, and be a blessing whithersoever he goes.

Benares' Orphan Institution.

The Committee cannot close their Report of the Benares' Mission without noticing the Seminary formed there for Orphans, chiefly for those made such by the famine which produced such terrible distress in the Upper Provinces.

In the Report of the Benares Church-Missionary Association, April 19th, 1838, it is stated, that there were 56 Boys in the Institution. In the Benares' Native Girls' School were 12 Orphan Girls. The Report, after detailing the course of instruction in the Boys' Orphan Institution, states, from the Rev. C. B. Leupolt—

But while I rejoice at the progress which the Boys make in a literary point of view, my chief joy consists in seeing their minds unfolding for the reception of the Gospel. As our first design, with regard to them, is to train them up for Christ, and for fellow-labourers in the Gospel—and as, for that purpose, an intimate acquaintance with the Gospel, with themselves, and the real state of the Heathen, is necessary—I have endeavoured, as far as in my power, to approve myself a faithful servant, by leading them to a knowledge of Christ, and of the state of condemnation in which those are who do not believe in Jesus;—and, thank God! I have already reason to think that my labours have not been in vain. In some of them, I humbly trust, the Lord has commenced His work: and I am convinced, that could our friends have seen four or five of the Boys, on one occasion, kneeling round my sick bed, and could they have heard them offer up fervent petitions to the Father of mercies for my restoration, supposing all the time that I was asleep—or could they have seen them in their private prayers, bending their knees, and with child-like confidence entreating our Heavenly Father in behalf of themselves, of us, of those who support them, and in behalf of all men, especially their countrymen—they would, with me, have shed tears of joy, and, with sincere gratitude, thanked the Lord, and taken courage:—they would, also, have felt themselves more than recompensed for all the trouble taken, and money expended, for these orphans.

The Orphans thus collected in Mission Schools being wholly separated from Heathen associations, kept constantly under Christian instruction and Mission superintendence, and retained under education for as long a period as is deemed advisable, there is peculiar ground for hope, that, under the Divine blessing upon this training, many of these orphans may be prepared to become Native Missionaries—that great desideratum in Missionary plans and labours.

General Views of the State of the Benares' Mission.

The Report above mentioned, contains the following passages, illustrating the state and progress of the Mission:—

A good large pucka [brick] Chapel, was built by private subscription, last year, in Casheepoor, one of the most populous and frequented parts of the city. This Chapel is open three or four times a week, and once a week during the whole day, for preaching and discussion.

The Rev. C. B. Leupolt, as quoted in the Report, observes—

The work of the Lord in the city is going on slowly; but, I fully believe, steadily. The people are more attentive than ever; and I have frequently had a number of people listening outside the Chapel for three-quarters of an hour; and after that, the greater part of them, at least, coming inside, and remaining the same length of time there also. When disputing with the people, I have found a confident appeal to the Scriptures, as the only standard by which to determine the truth or falsehood of any subject, of the greatest service. The greater number bow to the authority of the Bible; and acknowledge that its doctrines are sublime, and its morals far superior to any of their own. Though I cannot speak of having seen much fruit of my preaching, yet I go on by faith; assured that His word will not return void, but will accomplish that which the Lord pleases, and prosper in the thing whereunto He sends it.

The Rev. W. Smith, in the same Report, thus cheeringly expresses himself:—

In conclusion, I would remark, that, after having laboured here for six years, I see more cause to continue in the field; and am more and more assured of final victory. I would only entreat the Church to remember, that we are in the situation of Joshua and his men fighting with the Amalekites; and that they are in circumstances similar to those of Moses on the Hill:—then, I would say, "Lift up the hands that hang down, and cease not to pray for us." I think I can engage for myself, and my associates, that, God helping, we will fight, if our Brethren on the Hill will pray.

CHUNAR.

The Rev. W. Bowley continues to be diligently employed in preaching to the Natives, and itinerating in the surrounding country. The advantages of the Chunar Station are thus described by him:—

The Schools must be considered very important for Chunar; the inhabitants not caring to avail themselves of any other means of hearing the Word. With respect to access to the Heathen, I beg to say, that, as a centre, I consider Chunar inferior to no Station, especially for a Missionary's access to the country south-east of this place; where, in the short space of a fortnight, a circuit of 150 miles may be made, to scores of populous towns and extensive villages; which, but for this Missionary Station, might not have been thought of, for the next quarter of a century. Besides, there is the great city of Mirzapore, one day's journey up the river, and all the places between this and the annual fair on both banks of the Ganges.

Hopeful Death of a Hindoo Youth.

The Rev. W. Bowley relates the following particulars of a Native Youth, who died at Chunar on the 6th of December 1837. The name of this Youth was Bhajan. He was of the Kshatriya Caste; and resided at Buxar, where his parents died when he was about eleven or twelve years of age. He was taken into the Society's School at that place, in 1829; and received his first instruction in Christianity from David Thakoor, a Native Christian, formerly a Brahmin, who was then Superintendant of the school. Having expressed a wish to become a Christian, Bhajan was removed to Chunar, and placed under the care of the Rev. W. Bowley, the Missionary at the Station. He behaved so well, and was so attentive to the instruction given him, that he was admitted to baptism on the 6th of December 1830, by the name of David Bickersteth Bhajan. His subsequent conduct corresponded with this beginning. He suffered early under a species of leprosy, which was supposed to be hereditary; and of which, after severe and protracted suffering, he died, as above stated, on the 6th of December 1837, just seven years after his baptism. As his sickness advanced, the probability that he would soon appear before the bar of Christ was pressed upon him: to which he replied, "That he meditated upon Christ; —that he was not only a sinner, but was born a sinner; but that Christ had promised to cast out none that come to Him." His young friends, who read to him, and prayed with him, he constantly exhorted "to keep close to Christ, and not to forsake Him." This he repeated to them an hour-and-a-half before he breathed his last. The closing scene is thus related by Mr. Bowley:—

On the morning of the day on which Bhajan died—Dec. 6—being informed that his speech faltered, the Missionary called upon him early; and then it was, for the first time for many weeks, that he appeared to be devoid of pain. He answered all the questions put to him readily, though not intelligibly. He was asked, if he meant to answer in the affirmative, whether he trusted in Christ, to lift up his hand. "Yes, yes," was the reply; and he gave the sign required, by lifting up the quilt which covered his hands.

At two P.M. the reader, as usual, read to him; and at three, his schoolfellows did the same; when he exhorted them, as usual, to keep close to Christ, and not to forget Him. About midday, it appears he spoke clearly and distinctly, and so continued to the last. At four P.M. he entreated that the Missionary, the Readers—mentioning them by name—and all his schoolfellows, might be called in, that he might take a last farewell of them, as Christ called him. The woman who attended him, being alone, did not like to quit her charge at such a time. She, however, called a Native Christian, who came and held up his head a little; when, without a single struggle or groan, he resigned his soul into the hands of his God and Saviour.

Mr. Bowley remarks, in conclusion:—

Such a death of an orphan is worth all the expense, labour and anxiety that can be bestowed upon these Institutions—amply repays those who engage in them—and is a great encouragement to Missionaries who undertake the training up of orphans. All glory and praise be ascribed to the ever-blessed Trinity, for His sovereign grace and mercy!

GORRUCKPORE.

A passage in Mr. Wilkinson's journal illustrates the strong hold which the doctrine of the metempsychosis has taken on the Hindoos:—

Mansurawa.—After a little introductory conversation, I read chap. iii. of St. John's Gospel, and commented as I read. The attention was very unusual; and it was evident that they had never heard the like before. A great many interesting questions were asked; such as, How many times must a man be born again? supposing, that to be born again was to be subject to a metempsychosis. It is inconceivable, to those who have not had much intercourse with the Hindoos as a religious people, how strong a hold this doctrine has on the mind; how it mingles with all their thoughts; and their ideas exactly correspond with the Greek μετεμψύχωσις.

MEERUT.

Mr. R. A. Richards, previously employed as a Catechist of the Society at Meerut, was admitted to Deacon's Orders at that place, by the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Calcutta, in October 1837, during the course of his Lordship's Visitation.

The Report of the Meerut Association of the Church Missionary Society for 1837 states:—

In the past year, 1836, seven converts were admitted into the Church. Five of these were females, all adults; and were baptized after several months of examination, and attendance at Divine worship;—four Hindoos, and three Mussulmans.

KURNAUL.

Anund Messeeh continues his labours at this Station. No details of his proceedings have reached the Committee.

AGRA.

The Rev. J. J. Moore's appointment to Agra was noticed in the last Report. This important Station, the scene of Abdool Messeeh's labours, has been reinforced by two German Missionaries, the Rev. Messrs. Hoernle and Schneider. Messrs. Hoernle and Schneider were formerly in connexion with the Basle Missionary Society's Mission at Shusha; and on that Mission being broken up, in consequence of the obstacles encountered by the Missionaries, they were recommended to the Committee, and their services engaged with a view to the re-occupying of Agra. Messrs. Hoernle and Schneider arrived at Calcutta on the 26th of October last, and left that place for Agra on the 9th of November.

MADRAS.

Arrival of the Bishop of Madras.

THE Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Madras arrived at his See on the 3d of November last. His Lordship has, with much cordiality, accepted the office of President of the Corresponding Committee.

State of the Mission.

At this Station there are no European Missionaries, except the Rev. J. Tucker, the Secretary of the Corresponding Committee, and the Rev. J. H. Gray, Master of the Christian Institution.

Mr. Gray, in a Report to the Madras Corresponding Committee, June 26th, 1838, after noticing that many erroneous opinions, which he had formed as to the trials of a Missionary in India, had been corrected since his arrival at Madras; and describing the discouraging state of the Mission for want of an adequate supply of Missionaries; states:—

When we look at the progress made in the education of the young; when we find the high and low-caste boys in the same School receiving instruction from the same Teacher; and, above all, when we see the progress made in an acquaintance with the sacred scriptures; we cannot but hope that better days are at hand, when Jesus shall be received as the Lord and God of this people. Yet such must be a work of patience and faith—a work in which we may expect many disappointments; so that often the weapons with which we furnish others may be turned first to our own wounding; yet, in the end, the Lord will have mercy, and save some.

With regard to the urgent want of Missionaries, he writes:—

Unless some greater efforts be used by men in behalf of the evangelization of the heathen world, it is presumptuous to expect any very large amount of blessing to attend our labours. Besides, it is not only so that at any one period of time there is in this or other Stations but a solitary workman labouring, but scarcely has that workman been able to gird on his armour, till, by the very nature of his work, he is worn out; there is none to supply his place; and, in consequence, this naturally weak people seem, in spiritual things, never to pass the age of babes; they must always be fed with milk; they never leave the first principles of the doctrine of Christ;—and so it would seem, humanly speaking, that from generation to generation we should continue for ever without evangelizing the Heathen. O that the Lord, by His Spirit, would sound the cry of heathen nations in the ears of some of my fellow-students in Dublin; or that Cambridge and Oxford might awake from their slumbers of ease, and, with feelings devoid of all excitement, save a holy zeal and love for Christ, come forth to labour!

Educational Measures.

In prosecution of the general views relative to the leading importance of training Natives as Christian Teachers, which have been referred to in the preceding part of this Report, the Committee have long been solicitous to form an efficient establishment of this description at Madras, called THE CHRISTIAN INSTITUTION. This, through the gracious providence of God, they have at length been able to accomplish. The Institution was re-opened on the 11th of January last, with hopeful Youths, under the charge of Mr. Gray, assisted by Mr. J. J. H. Elouis. The Bishop of Madras opened the Institution, with an address to the Youths, and prayer suitable to the occasion. "Our Bishop," Mr. Tucker says, "takes a deep and unfeigned interest in its prosperity."

With a view to secure, as far as possible, the continued efficiency of this important establishment, the Committee have set apart another Ordained Missionary in connexion with it; who will, it is proposed, sail for his destination at the close of the ensuing month.

Bishop Corrie's Grammar School.

The formation of this School, under the auspices of the lamented Bishop Corrie, was noticed in our last Report. Its progress continues to be highly satisfactory. It is found so suitable to the present circumstances of the population of India, that it is greatly to be desired that similar establishments were formed in the other Presidencies. The usual Half-yearly Examination, which took place on the 17th of December last, evinced the increased utility and efficiency of the Institution, in the steady progress of the Scholars. The Bishop of Madras has accepted the office of President; and intended to preside at the Examination, but was prevented by indisposition. The Chair was, in consequence, taken by His Excellency Sir Peregrine Maitland. Of the first fourteen Boys, ten are connected with the Church Missionary Society. In reference to these Boys, the Rev. J. Tucker remarks:—

It will be gratifying to the Parent Committee, to read the following List of the highest Boys in each class, and to observe how large a proportion of them are placed at this important Institution by the Church Missionary Society; and I have every reason to believe that nearly the whole of them are leading Christian lives.

Mr. Tucker adds:—

Our friends in England will, I am sure, not forget either the Church-Missionary Institution, or Bishop Corrie's Grammar School, in their prayers and thanksgivings.

Ordination.

His Lordship admitted Mr. Gray to Priest's Orders, on the 6th of January.

Disposal of the Printing Establishment.

The Corresponding Committee being of opinion that it would be more advisable, in future, to have the printing requisite for the purposes of the Mission executed at the presses of the Presidency, than to keep up a printing establishment at the Society's expense, the printing presses and materials belonging to the Society have been disposed of.

MAYAVERAM.

The Committee have still been unable to supply this important Station with a European Missionary: it therefore continues under the charge of Devaperasadem, the Head Catechist.

TINNEVELLY.

Death of the Rev. C. T. E. Rhenius.

Important changes have taken place in Tinnevelly, since the last Report. On the 6th of June last, it pleased God to remove the Rev. C. T. E. Rhenius from the scene of his earthly cares and labours, after a short illness. Immediately on receiving intelligence of this painful event, the Corresponding Committee adopted a Resolution, expressive of their wish that Mrs. Rhenius should regard herself and her family in the same light as if Mr. Rhenius's separation from the Society had never taken place, and tendering to her the Society's usual allowance to the widow and children of a Missionary. This proceeding was cordially approved by the Parent Committee. The Resolution of the Corresponding Committee was communicated to Mrs. Rhenius by the Rev. J. Tucker, through the Rev. P. P. Schaffter, in a letter under date of June 12th, 1838. Mr. Tucker thus expresses the feelings of the Corresponding Committee on the occasion:—

Whilst many hearts are sympathizing with you and all your dear family, and many a prayer is poured out to God for you, that you may be especially strengthened and comforted in your deep and unexpected affliction, I am charged by our Committee to lose no time in assuring you how unfeignedly we all participate with you in your sorrow, and remember you in our prayers.

We have also a favour to ask of you, which we are persuaded you will not decline, unless for some good reason commending itself strongly to your mind. We beg you will permit us to consider all the painful circumstances of the last three years as though they had not been, and, until we can receive the final sanction of the Parent Committee, to regard you and your children in the same light as we should, had the tie between your lamented husband and the Society never been dissolved.

Changes consequent on Mr. Rhenius's Death.

The death of Mr. Rhenius led to communications between the Rev. P. P. Schaffter, the Rev. J. J. Müller, two of Mr. Rhenius's late associates, and the Corresponding Committee; which issued in Mr. Schaffter's re-instatement in connexion with the Society. This arrangement was cordially approved by the Parent Committee; and Mr. Schaffter is now prosecuting his labours in Tinnevelly, as one of the Society's Missionaries.

Mr. Schaffter's return to the Society led to the restoration of peace in the Mission, to a certain extent. The full accomplishment of this most desirable event was hindered by Mr. Müller's eventually declining, on ecclesiastical grounds, to re-unite himself with the Society. Mr. Müller subsequently joined the District Committee of the London Missionary Society, in Travancore, as a Missionary of that Society; still residing in Tinnevelly, and retaining in connexion with himself as many of the Catechists and people as would adhere to him. This proceeding led to communications between the Parent Committee and Directors of the London Missionary Society; the result of which, the Committee are happy to state, was entirely satisfactory. The Directors, though willing to receive Mr. Müller into connexion with them as a Missionary in Travancore, declined to sanction his being located in Tinnevelly. The Committee therefore are encouraged to hope that the painful state of things which has so long existed in Tinnevelly will now cease, and that the whole Mission will at length be re-united under the Missionaries of the Society. May it please the God of all peace to confirm these expectations!

Organization of the Mission.

Among other changes consequent on the separation of the German Missionaries from the Society in 1835, was the adoption of a different geographical arrangement in the Mission, and a different distribution of the agency of the Missionaries. The Mission is now divided into five Districts: 1. The Palamcottah. 2. The Northern. 3. The Shenkoollam. 4. The Satankoollam; and 5. The Meignanapooram District. In the Palamcottah District the Rev. Messrs. Pettitt, Devasagayam, and Dent are located. In the Northern District, the Rev. P. P. Schaffter. In the Shenkoollam District, the Rev. J. C. Barclay. In the Satankoollam District, the Rev. C. Blackman. In the Meignanapooram District, the Rev. J. Thomas.

General State of the Mission.

We copy the following passages from the Half-yearly Reports of the Mission, June 30, 1838:—

MISSIONARIES.—We have to record, with thankfulness, that none of our number have been removed, or even laid aside by illness; and that health and strength necessary for the discharge of our duties have been graciously vouchsafed.

CATECHISTS.—It has been gratifying to see the greater part of those sent from the Preparandi Class, during the last two years, conducting themselves satisfactorily, and taking pains to improve in knowledge. The real knowledge of the Catechists is pretty well ascertained, as well as a suitable stimulus applied to advance in knowledge, by examining a portion of them for about two hours at the Monthly Meetings.

CONGREGATIONS.—Regarding the proper government and spiritual progress of the persons already brought under the means of grace, as even more important than obtaining fresh accessions, we deem it our duty to pay especial attention to this point. Very painful cases, requiring the exercise of discipline, sometimes occur; but, upon the whole, we have to be thankful for the manner in which it is submitted to.

A very pleasing instance of the effect of the Gospel upon a whole village has lately occurred. The Shanar village of Pragasapooram is entirely Christian; and the people, who have been ten or more years under instruction, and have made great progress in Christian knowledge, and of whom many are baptized, and a few communicants, have become very desirous of seeing a church in the village, which shall not only last their life-time, but stand and testify to their children's children the sincerity of their Christian profession. Accordingly, they set on foot a subscription among themselves, their friends, the Missionaries, and others, and applied to the Corresponding Committee in Madras for especial aid. The Committee, approving their object, kindly offered to give them a sum equal to what they could raise among themselves and from other sources. They have, by much exertion, raised 200 Rupees.

The Mission [Satankoollam District] remains in much the same state as it was when last reported on. There are indications of God's blessing resting upon it; but still the number of real conversions from darkness to light bears a very small proportion to the number who assume the profession of Christianity.

SEMINARY.—The usual half-yearly examination was gratifying, and the improvement of the Boys in every respect was very evident; reflecting much credit on Mr. Sargent, both for the assiduous manner in which he has discharged the duties of Teacher, and for the interest and attention which he has paid to the discipline, and the general habits of the boys. The number of Boys now in the Seminary is 21.

SCHOOLS.—There has been a steady increase in the number of Schools. We have seen, with pleasure, both improvement in order, and progress in knowledge, among the scholars.

We are happy to say, that a larger number of female children has been brought under instruction; and that we have now four Girls' schools in various parts of the Mission, besides Mrs. Pettitt's School in Palamcottah.

TRAVANCORE.

State of the Mission.

This Mission has been strengthened, during the past year, by the Rev. W. T. Humphrey and Mr. John Johnson.

The duties of the Missionaries are thus distributed:—The Rev. B. Bailey, Translational and Printing Department. The Rev. H. Baker, and the Rev. J. Peet, Schools, and itinerating among the people. Mr. Humphrey and Mr. Johnson, the charge of the College.

Various circumstances have arisen to impede and embarrass the operations of the Missionaries in Travancore. In consequence, a course of proceeding in the Mission, different from that previously pursued, has been adopted by the Corresponding Committee, with the sanction of their President, the late Bishop Corrie. The state of things in the Mission continues, at present, too unsettled to enable the Committee to enter into details respecting its future course.

Translational Department.

Mr. Bailey thus describes the progress of his department, May 29, 1838:—

We have just completed the printing, in Malayalim, of a new edition of our incomparable Liturgy. The edition consists of 3000 copies; and includes the Psalms and whole Prayer-Book, except the Services used at sea, on the 29th of May, the 5th of November, &c. The translation of our Ordination Services I have also completed, and they will be put to press without delay. An edition of 5000 copies of the Pentateuch, in Malayalim, is now in the press, at the expense of the Madras Auxiliary Bible Society. The Book of Genesis is completed. The work of translation, of preparing matter for the press, and revising all the proof-sheets, &c., is laborious; but it is one in which I delight, although carried on in a weak state of health; and I trust it will be attended with the Divine blessing.

COCHIN.

State of the Mission.

The communications received by the Committee from this Station are very scanty. The health of the Rev. S. Ridsdale and Mrs. Ridsdale has suffered severely, during a fourteen years' residence in India, laboriously spent in their Missionary duties. In June 1836, Mr. Ridsdale presents this general view of the station:—

During the past year, forty-seven have been admitted to the Holy Communion; making, with 103 who were in communion before, a total of 150. Within the same period, 200 copies of the New Testament, from St. Matthew to the Acts of the Apostles inclusive; 500 portions, consisting, some of separate Books, and others of two or more Books united, from the Old and New Testaments; and upward of 2000 Tracts; have been distributed in Cochin and the country around: and I have had several pleasing proofs that the seed thus sown has not been lost.

In October 1838, Mr. Ridsdale wrote to Mr. Tucker—

You will be glad to learn, that, since you were with us, I have received into the Church, 15 Heathens and 10 Romanists; of most of whom I have reason to hope favourably. I have commenced work, also, at a new Station, Puthakadu; where I have stationed a Catechist, and opened a School.

Again, in January last—

Within ten days we have lost eleven of the inmates of our own premises. Several others have been attacked; but, through the Divine blessing on remedies properly administered, they have recovered. Those of the departed, who had arrived at years of discretion, exhibited, I am thankful to say, conviction of sin, and a simple and earnest trust in Christ as their only hope of salvation. It is an interesting fact, that, a short time before the disease commenced its ravages among us, many of our Native Congregation, who had not communicated, became simultaneously impressed with a sense of the obligation and advantages of partaking of that sacred ordinance, and had accordingly been admitted.

Return Home of Mr. and Mrs. Ridsdale.

The Corresponding Committee at Madras having arranged that the Rev. H. Harley should proceed from Tinnevelly to Cochin, the Committee expect the early arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Ridsdale in this country, for the benefit of their health.

ALLEPIE.

General View of the Mission.

The Rev. Thomas Norton finds valuable assistance in his two sons, who are associated with him in his labours. Mr. Norton thus writes concerning his Station, on the 13th of July 1838:—

Were it possible for you to witness our Lord's-Day morning congregation, your heart would be gladdened by seeing such a number of precious souls rescued by the Gospel from that dreadful abyss of wretchedness and misery so faithfully and fully pourtrayed, at your last Meeting, by Mr. Stowell. Yes, my Brother, you would behold 300, sometimes 400 or 500, Natives of India, once the worshippers of idols, now worshipping the living and true God, agreeably to His holy word, by the use of our beautiful Liturgy, and listening to His everlasting Gospel.

Female School.

The late Mrs. Norton, in a Letter to the Rev. J. Tucker, Jan. 26, 1837, records the following incident relative to the conduct of the Girls under her charge:—

Mr. Norton had gone to the Clerical and Translating Meetings at Cottayam; and I was revolving in my mind how to arrange the family worship, when I heard voices singing, most sweetly and correctly, "Shirland." I went into the verandah to listen, and found that the sounds came from the Girls' school-room. I waited till they had concluded; and thinking that they were merely practising the tune, I sent to encourage them, by saying that they need not in future feel timid at singing-time, as they had sung the tune very correctly. My messenger, however, returned, and told me that they were all at prayers. I asked if their Schoolmaster was present, and was told that he was not; but that one of the elder Girls was reading from the family Prayer-book. There was, to my mind, much that was pleasing, connected with this little circumstance, on the evening of their meeting after the holidays.

Activity of the Church of Rome.

In this Mission, also, the Papacy is putting forth its strength. In a Letter just received from Mr. Tucker, and bearing date the 16th of February, he says:—

I cannot close this Letter without adverting to the large arrival of Romish Priests, with their Suffragan Bishop, from Ireland; who are beginning to put forth all their energies, in preaching, opening a College and Seminary, &c.

He adds:—

Let it be our continual prayer that the Lord Jesus Christ will move His Church to put forth all her energies in His strength, that she may be able to meet and defeat her unchangeable foe.

He concludes:—"We need much help in Madras."

BOMBAY AND WESTERN-INDIA MISSION.

COMMENCED 1820.

Mission Establishment:

6 Missionaries.	2 Catechists.
1 Assistant Master of the Money School.	11 Native and Country-born Teachers.

THIS Mission is partly located at Bombay; and partly at Nassuck, in the Deccan, about 150 miles east of Bombay.

BOMBAY.

Educational Establishment.

Preparatory measures are being taken by the Bombay Corresponding Committee, to carry into effect the educational establishment at this Presidency, mentioned in the last Report. The services of the Rev. G. M. Valentine, and Mr. J. S. S. Robertson, were to be employed in this department. Mr. Sargon is still employed in superintending a circle of Schools in Bombay.

The Rev. Cyrus Stone.

The Rev. Cyrus Stone, lately employed in Western India, as a Missionary of the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions, having expressed a wish to join the Church of England and to enter on Missionary labours in connexion with the Church Missionary Society, received the sanction of his American Brethren to his taking these steps. Mr. Stone was in consequence admitted, by the Lord Bishop of Bombay, as a Candidate for Holy Orders, and subsequently received as a Missionary of this Society. Mr. Stone is stationed at Nassuck; and both he and Mrs. Stone being well acquainted with Mahratta, were enabled advantageously to occupy that place, in the Mission which had been vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Farrar, on their coming home.

NASSUCK.

Educational Proceedings.

The following remarks of R. S. Pringle, Esq., Collector of Tannah, after a careful examination of the Schools, will give some idea of the improvement likely to be produced by them in the rising generation. He writes to Mr. Farrar, August 12, 1838:—

I have much pleasure in assuring you of the very great satisfaction which I received from the inspection of your Schools, with which you were so good as to favour me. I confess I was not more pleased than astonished at the attainments of your scholars, both in English and Mahratta Reading, and in Arithmetic, as well as in other branches of general and useful knowledge. I was also particularly struck with their acquaintance with the Bible, and ready and intelligent answers to questions on the history and leading doctrines of our Religion. But the branch of your labours in which I felt most interested—as well from its novelty in a native community, as the important effects to which it may lead—was, the education of the female children; whose progress affords satisfactory evidence of the happy effects to be hoped for from your endeavours to elevate their moral and intellectual character: and this appears to me likely to have a most beneficial influence, both direct and indirect, in the circle with which they are connected. I was also greatly pleased with the cheerful air and orderly behaviour of the children in general; which gave me the impression, that they themselves were happy, and interested in what they were about.

When I recollect how little I could have expected to have witnessed so gratifying an exhibition, when I resided in this district several years ago, and consider the great difficulties which you must have had to contend with in what is reputed to be one of the most sacred localities of the Hindoo religion on this side of India, and which had hitherto been so little resorted to by Europeans, I cannot but admire the success which has accompanied the quiet and unobtrusive efforts of yourself, and the Gentlemen associated with you, toward the improvement of its population; and beg you will accept my cordial wishes, that a no less happy effect may attend the further prosecution of your benevolent exertions.

The Rev. C. P. Farrar thus attests the importance of administering instruction to the Natives through the medium of the English Language:—

The Nassuck English School demands from the Christian Public aids of a more than ordinary nature. Perseverance, in the application of liberal and well-devised plans, will, in a comparatively short time, remove the aversion of the Brahmins to English habits and literature: and when once the tide has set in, there is no town which, from its local position, will present more facilities to the great body of the population, and in which the English language will be cultivated with more diligence, than Nassuck. There is a daily attendance, in the English School, of 30 Boys. The first class consists of seven Boys, who pursue their studies with much assiduity, and who display dispositions of a promising character: their studies include Arithmetic, Grammar, Geography, Geometry, Natural Philosophy, Ancient and Sacred History: they are intimately acquainted with the Gospel; and are not, it would appear, without hope of being among the number of those who believe and live.

Progress of Translations.

The Rev. J. Dixon has been busily employed in prosecuting his translational labours. Since the last Report, the Committee have had the satisfaction to learn, that the translation of the Prophets, by Mr. Dixon, has been completed, printed, and published. The expense of the work was chiefly borne by the Bible Society. From more recent information, it appeared that Mr. Dixon's translation of the Hagiographia, was ready for the press. These translations are very highly estimated by the best Mahratta Scholars.

Difficulties incident to the Mahomedan Population.

Mr. Mengé thus explains the difficulties incident to Missionary labours among the Mahomedans:—

I must confess that it appears to me that my labours among the Mahomedans in Nassuck must be, for some time to come, indirect: for Mussulmans, as they are bitter enemies of our holy religion, wrapped in systematic falsehood and lies, cannot generally be addressed by the Missionary in the same manner as the idolatrous Hindoos around him: for as soon as the Missionary touches the essentials of Christianity in the presence of Mussulmans, he either is declared against, or forsaken, and left alone. Many graces and spiritual gifts are wanted by the Missionary, to gain open hearts and open ears among the Mussulmans: and, as far as I have observed, the humble and godly conversation of the Missionary is watched both by the Hindoos and Mussulmans; and, unhappily, many of those who bear the Christian name are more ashamed of honouring Jesus Christ in word and deed than the deluded Mussulman.

General View of the Mission.

The Rev. C. P. Farrar sums up, at the close of the year 1837, the review of the Mission at Nassuck, as follows:—

The Gospel has been preached at Nassuck both to Hindoos and Mussulmans, by one or other of the Missionaries, almost without intermission, throughout the year. It will be sufficient for general encouragement to state, that it has always found hearers. The Missionaries have always met with larger or smaller numbers, to whom they might discourse of righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come. The readers have always obtained listeners; and Tracts and Books have been constantly demanded, with almost boisterous eagerness. The Daily and Lord's-Day Services in the Mission Chapel have been attended in the week-days by an average of 130, and on the Lord's Day by from 200 to 300.

Visitation of the Lord Bishop of Bombay.

Mr. Mengé thus relates the circumstances connected with the Primary Visitation of the Lord Bishop of Bombay. The Visitation was held at Poonah.

Aug. 5, 1838: Lord's Day—I went to St. Mary's Church, where the Rev. Mr. Hughes, the Chaplain of Sholassor, delivered a sermon.

He had chosen for his text the first three verses of Psalm xiv.; showing, first, the foolishness of all men in not knowing and loving God as He manifests Himself in the kingdom of nature and in the kingdom of grace; secondly, the natural consequence of this foolish, sinful, and wicked life; and, thirdly, the only means of their salvation through faith in Jesus Christ.

In the evening, his Lordship preached from Gen. vi.; where we read that God, at the time when He was about to visit the whole human race with a fearful destruction, commanded Noah and his family to go into the ark to be saved. His Lordship gave, first, the primary meaning of the text; and then made it illustrate that gracious covenant which God has made with sinners through Jesus Christ. It was a solemn and earnest appeal to all who were present to repent and believe in Jesus Christ.

Aug. 7—According to appointment, I breakfasted with his Lordship, at his residence. I had a fatherly welcome from the Bishop. It is my prayer to the Great Head of the Church, that he may be supported in his high and important office by that Holy Spirit, who strengthens and supports all who live by faith in Jesus Christ. The Bishop kindly invited me to stay at his residence; and I found much encouragement in his conversation to pursue that blessed work to which I have devoted myself.

Connexion of the Government with Idolatrous Observances.

In the last Report it was stated, that Memorials had been presented to Her Majesty's Government and the Honourable Court of Directors of the East-India Company, relative to the Pilgrim Tax. Since that period, Papers have been laid before Parliament, explanatory of the measures adopted by the Company on the subject. These despatches do not convey those peremptory orders for abolishing the connexion of the Indian Authorities with the Idolatrous Observances of the Natives which is incumbent on a Christian Government. Viewed, however, in connexion with the pledges given to Parliament by the President of the Board of Controul, and to the Court of Proprietors by the Chairman of the Court of Directors—coupled also with the fact of the partial abolition of the Pilgrim Tax—the Committee are encouraged to hope that participation in those discreditable practices will, at no distant period, be completely relinquished. The Committee are, at the same time, so deeply impressed with the fact, that the connexion of Government with the idolatries of the Natives operates as a serious hindrance to Christian Missions, that they feel bound closely to watch the course of proceedings, until that connexion shall be entirely and for ever abandoned.

Peculiar Claims of India on British Christians.

On reviewing the state of the India Missions, the Committee are more and more impressed with the vast importance of casting the salt of the Gospel into these "bitter waters." With the increase of knowledge, now being rapidly and extensively diffused, there is a rapid increase of scepticism and infidelity. The only sure antidote is Christian Education, and the Preaching of the Gospel. For the application of these means of spiritual life and health, the position of the British Sovereignty in India affords the utmost facility and advantage. The people, at the same time, are crying aloud, Come over, and help us. The Committee are therefore most solicitous to strengthen the present Missions of the Society in India to the utmost extent that a prudent regard to the pecuniary resources of the Society will justify *.

CEYLON MISSION.

COMMENCED 1818.

Mission Establishment:

9 Missionaries.	88 Native Teachers.
1 Lay Agent.	10 Native Schoolmistresses.

It affords the Committee very lively satisfaction to report, that the good feeling with which this Mission has been uniformly characterized still continues to prevail among the Missionaries. The Rev. J. Bailey, referring to the Twentieth Annual Meeting of the Missionaries in September last, states:—

The peace and harmony and brotherly love which we have often

* In the charge already referred to, the Bishop of Calcutta thus notices the geographical advantages of India, as a centre of Missionary operations:—

India seems, to me, given to us as the Field of Missions. Palestine, in the heart of Western Asia, was scarcely more calculated for a centre for the diffusion of the Gospel in the time of the Apostles, than Hindostan, in the heart of Eastern Asia, is now.

had to record, have prevailed, during our past Meeting, to as great an extent as on any former occasion. To the Lord be all the praise!

Death of the Rev. T. Browning.

It has pleased God to remove, by death, the Rev. Thomas Browning. Mr. Browning had discharged his duties in the Mission, for upward of seventeen years, with eminent diligence, faithfulness and zeal: his loss is deeply felt by his fellow-labourers and the Missions.

The following details are collected from the Reports to the Annual Meeting in September:—

COTTA.

Schools.

In reference to the Schools, it is stated in the Cotta Report:—

Occasionally some of those who are more constant in their attendance are visited at their houses, and spoken to on what they have heard; and they then appear to have retained on their minds some parts of the sermon they had heard; by which there is reason to hope that they will, in due time, receive the Gospel in simplicity of heart, and be saved.

COTTA INSTITUTION.

Twenty-four Youths were under instruction in the Cotta Institution. The Annual Examination of the Institution took place on the 11th of December last, and was attended by the Governor, the Right Hon. James Alexander Stewart Mackenzie: at the conclusion of which, His Excellency expressed his satisfaction at the progress which the Youths had made in their various studies, and exhorted them to renewed application. The Governor afterward gave a book each to four of the most promising students.

His Excellency has shown himself very favourable to the Mission ever since his arrival in the Colony; and made a donation to it of £25, from Government, for the purpose of enabling it to extend its Schools.

Girls' School.

Of the Native Girls' School Mrs. Bailey writes, Oct. 15, 1838:—

In my last letter, I gave you rather a gloomy statement of the Native School under my superintendence. I am now thankful to inform you, that it is in a very flourishing state, and has been so for some time. I have 68 day-children and 25 grown-up girls on Lord's Days, making in all 93. The conduct and behaviour of these dear children give me the greatest satisfaction. We have not had a thing stolen during the last two years; and I have every reason to hope that they would feel that they were committing a great sin, in taking what is not their own. Another pleasing feature is, that the parents of the children are now as desirous that their children should be instructed, as they formerly showed themselves opposed to it.

I trust that, by the blessing of God upon our labour, the seed we have sown has not been altogether in vain. Many of the elder girls appear deeply interested in those things which are able to make them wise unto salvation. A very pleasing instance of this was brought to me, a short time ago, by one of our Catechists, who was informed of it by the mother of the girl. The girl was extremely ill, and the mother sat by her couch, weeping. She said: "O mother, don't cry! I am not afraid to die; for I feel now such love in my heart to the true God and Jesus Christ, that I feel sure, that, if I die, God will take me to heaven."

BADDAGAME.

Seminary.

The Seminary at this Station contains Twelve Students.

Girls' School.

Of the Girls' School it is stated:—

Their attendance has been regular, their behaviour orderly, and their progress in knowledge very satisfactory.

General Views of the Station.

In reference to the general circumstances of the Station, the Missionaries report:—

That which gives most satisfaction is, the knowledge of Religion which we know is acquired by so large a number of children in this and the neighbouring villages, and that a knowledge of the Truth is more widely diffused.

The general state of the nominally Christian population of the district is most afflictive. The Report thus describes it:—

It is awful to consider that we are surrounded by a nominally Christian population, of which there is not probably one family, unless connected with us, that abstains, on religious principles, from the practice of devil-worship.

KANDY.

Administration of Baptism.

The Kandy Report contains the following relation of the admission of a Singhalese to Baptism:—

At the commencement of the present year, the man brought me a very large collection of native books on Astrology, Devil-worship, &c.; saying that he had fully determined to give up all his old practices, and wished to have his books destroyed, lest they should prove temptations to him or his children. His knowledge of the Christian Religion is very correct, and he appears to be very serious. The testimony borne to his character by his neighbours, some of whom are very angry with him for having forsaken his old religion, is very satisfactory. "Before he embraced your religion," said they, "he was a very bad man, a conjurer, devil-worshipper, and almost every thing else that is bad, and we were all very much afraid of him; but now he is kind and gentle, and injures no one; and he often speaks to us about your Religion." This testimony was privately given to two of the Catechists, who visited his village about a fortnight before his baptism. He was baptized on Wednesday, June 3.

NELLORE.

Decay of Heathenism.

The gradual decay of heathenism is thus noticed in the Nellore Report:—

The strong man armed is evidently straining every nerve to keep the millions of idolaters within his power; but a stronger than he is overcoming; and the rivets and the links of the chains of sin, by which they have so long been bound, are rusting, and must decay; and these enslaved, these captives of Satan, be made free indeed by the Son of God. Not a few are the proofs that heathenism is losing its hold upon the affections and the interests of the people. Though, from various causes, there has been a considerable increase of expenditure in the district, chiefly arising from extensive works of Government, in road-making, &c., and evident growing prosperity among the people, as evinced by the enclosure of waste lands to a large extent, and the improvements of their houses by the addition of entrances, &c., yet the temple revenues have greatly failed, and the holders of these, in two of the largest and most celebrated temples in the district—that of Kanda Swamy at Nellore, and the Sivan Kail at Vannarpore—are both, with their families, reduced from affluence to comparative poverty. In the case of the former temple, some of the parties have been in jail for several months, in consequence of pecuniary embarrassment.

Again, in the same Report:—

There are the beginnings of several temples in the district, commenced many years since, either new erections or re-buildings on a larger scale, remaining unfinished, and likely to go to decay, Four of these are within a short distance of the Mission House, and may yet perhaps fall into better hands, and become the site of a school-room, or a temple to the living God.

Hopeful Death of a Seminarist.

The hopeful death of a Youth trained in the Seminary at this Station, and subsequently in the Cotta Institution, is thus related:—

He was an orphan, having lost both his parents. His relations were Romanists, and they used every persuasion to induce him to see the priest; but he was firm in refusing their repeated solicitations, and begged them to send for me; which they delayed to do, and I thus lost the opportunity of an interview with him. His last expressions intimated his hope of being saved entirely through the merits and intercession of Christ, and requested his relations to send for me, that he might have Protestant burial. His request was attended to; and the impression made by his conduct upon some of his friends was such as to call forth the rebuke of the Roman priest. Thus another has, I would hope, been taken from the prey of the spoiler, and safely housed, where death and the curse, and sin and sorrow and pain, are no more for ever.

Distribution of Tracts.

The distribution of Tracts at this Station has increased from 123,000 in 1835, to 409,300 in 1838. The Word of God has also been largely distributed. In reference to this part of their work, the Missionaries remark:—

Both Tracts and Scriptures are willingly received, and to a large extent, attentively read.

General View of the Mission.

The Rev. J. Bailey, writing October 16, 1838, says:—

You will perceive, from the Reports, Returns, &c., sent by the "Agnes," that the state of the Mission generally is at present very encouraging. The Lord has not left His servants without evidence of the power of His truth; and facilities seem to be presenting themselves on all sides for the extension of our labours.

Movement of the Papacy.

This island has witnessed the arrival of a Vicar Apostolic from the See of Rome, accompanied by a body of Priests, to extend, in this quarter, the pernicious influence of the Man of sin.

NEW-HOLLAND MISSION.

COMMENCED 1832.

Mission Establishment:

3 Missionaries. | 1 Farmer.

Object and Progress of the Mission.

THIS Mission is exclusively on behalf of the Aborigines of New Holland. It was undertaken at the instance of Her Majesty's Government, and is supported by grants from the Colonial Funds of New South-Wales. The difficulties with which this Mission has to contend are exceedingly great; arising not more out of the deeply-degraded condition of the Aborigines by nature, than out of the demoralizing influence upon them of the convict population on the outskirts of the Colony. The labours of the Missionaries are, in consequence, rendered peculiarly difficult, afflictive, and discouraging. The Missionaries, however, are not left without tokens of the Divine blessing on their labours. On the 9th of August, 1837, the Rev. J. Günther makes the following entry in his Journal:—

In catechizing the children to-day I was much pleased and surprised at the progress which they have made; not only in reading the English, but also in Scriptural knowledge: some of them would put many European children to shame. However degraded they may be, they afford at least a decisive proof that they are quite as capable of cultivation of mind as other nations. Therefore, I feel encouraged, in spite of the despairing hope entertained by almost all Europeans in the colony, as it regards the civilizing and evangelizing of the poor Aborigines of this country. To convert them, is God's work. Let us, with faith and patience, sow the heavenly seed: in due time it will bring forth fruit.

The general state of the Mission, at the close of the year 1837, is thus detailed by the Missionaries, in their Report to the Government of New South-Wales:—

The Missionaries, in presenting this their fifth Annual Report, are happy to state, that their prospects of success among the Aboriginal Natives are gradually becoming brighter; and that the progress made by the Natives during the past year, in the respective departments of instruction, civilization, &c., afford abundant encouragement for perseverance.

The order and regularity with which they respond, their singing, and, indeed, their whole behaviour at Divine Service, present a most pleasing and interesting spectacle, especially when contrasted with their early wild heathen habits. It is a circumstance as pleasing as it is remarkable, that all the children taught to read at the Mission House are much attached to books, consider it a severe punishment to be deprived of them, and esteem the gift of a new one preferable almost to any thing else. While they are learning the alphabet, and to spell, they feel no interest, and the work of instruction is tedious to both the teacher and pupil; but when they have overcome these preliminary difficulties, and are able to read so as to understand, their attention becomes excited, they begin to feel a pleasure in the employment, and never appear to be wearied with it. The Aboriginal Natives are indeed capable of attaining to the knowledge of any thing in which they may be instructed.

An increasing attachment to the Missionaries is evident in the natives, and a greater willingness to leave their children at the Mission House than was formerly the case with them. Perhaps no attempt to attain the unwritten language of Aborigines has had difficulties to encounter greater than those experienced by the Missionaries at Wellington Valley. The broken English which the Natives have acquired, their frequent use of barbarisms which have no radical signification, the rapidity with which they speak, and, above all, their extreme unwillingness to teach their own language, renders the attainment of it long and tedious. But as no extensive good could be expected to result from instruction, unless communicated through the medium of their own language, the Missionary has ever considered the attainment of it as one of his first and most important duties, and to which he has endeavoured to devote as much of his time and attention as his circumstances would allow. Accordingly, there have been, during the past year—including the revision of former attempts—translated into the Aboriginal language the first nine chapters of the Book of Genesis, the whole of St. John's Gospel, the first nine chapters of the Acts of the Apostles, and most of the Liturgy of the Church of England. A portion of these translations is regularly read with the Natives in Divine Service, and which they all profess to understand. But it is not to be supposed that a perfect knowledge of the idiom and construction of this very peculiar language has been already acquired.

During the past year many of the Natives have been usefully employed in various departments of labour; as, thrashing, tending sheep and cattle, fetching wood and water with the dray, ploughing, working in the garden, &c. In the harvest season, more than twenty were employed in reaping, loading, stacking, &c.

A disposition to locate themselves, and to reside with the Missionaries, is becoming prevalent among them: several are engaged in building two substantial huts for themselves, each containing a sleeping-room and a room for cooking and sleeping in. One of the huts measures 27 feet by 12, and the other 25 by 12, without the chimneys, which are erected outside the buildings.

Had the Missionaries to labour among the Aborigines, apart from the influence of such an European population as is everywhere in the interior planted among them, or had the Aboriginal Natives those resources which they possessed when they were the sole proprietors of the soil, the Mission would have few difficulties to encounter, and the annual expenditure would be comparatively trifling. But it is a well-known fact, that wherever Europeans have been located for any length of time, the natural resources of the Aborigines for food are in a great measure cut off. Hence these houseless wanderers are seldom found living in the bush, except when on a fighting expedition; but generally in the immediate neighbourhood of Europeans. The dialect spoken by the Aborigines at Wellington Valley is spoken by Natives over a tract of country of not less extent than 200 miles by 150 miles. The Natives scattered over this wide range constitute the principal charge of the Missionaries at Wellington Valley. Mingling with these Natives there are perhaps not fewer than 2000 Europeans.

The Missionaries conclude:—

It must clearly appear, to all who seriously consider it, that nothing but Missionary effort can save these wretchedly-corrupted Natives from becoming extinct; but Missionary effort, if duly supported and properly directed, is capable of doing this: and more, it will, under the Divine blessing, raise them to a level with civilized nations, and elevate them to the standard and enjoyment of true believers in Jesus Christ.

Mr. W. Porter, who was engaged by the Committee to take charge of the agricultural concerns of the Mission, arrived at his destination at the latter end of July last.

Proceedings at Moreton Bay.

The Rev. J. C. S. Handt has been appointed, by the Government of New South-Wales, to the Ministerial charge of the Penal Settlement at Moreton Bay, with the concurrence of the Corresponding Committee. It was intended that he should attend to the Aboriginal Population of the neighbourhood, as circumstances may permit. A more unhopeful charge of ministerial duty cannot be imagined than that in which Mr. Handt is here engaged. Yet, even here, there are not wanting indications of the influence of Divine truth on the minds of some of these outcasts from human society. Mr. Handt, in his Journal, January 21st, 1838, remarks:—

The prisoners often visit me, particularly on Lord's Days, in the afternoon, and, in a respectful manner, request the loan of some Tracts, or the gift of a Testament or Bible.

1 Farmer.	4 Artisans, and other Assistants.
1 Superintendant of the Press and Assistant Editor.	2 Female Teachers.
	23 Native Teachers.

Death of the Rev. S. Marsden.

In connexion with this Mission, it devolves upon the Committee to record the death of the Rev. Samuel Marsden, Senior Chaplain of New South-Wales, and President of the Corresponding Committee of the Society in that Colony. With Mr. Marsden originated the Society's Mission in New Zealand; the interests and welfare of which he continued to watch over and promote to the last hour of his life. At the Monthly Meeting of the Committee on the 12th of November last a Minute was adopted, expressive of the feelings cherished by the Committee for his memory:—

The Committee of the Church Missionary Society record the death of the late Rev. Samuel Marsden with feelings of deep respect for his personal character, and gratitude to the Great Head of the Church, who raised up, and who so long preserved, this distinguished man, for the good of his own and of future generations.

In him, the Committee recognise an individual whom Providence had endowed with a vigorous constitution both of body and mind, suited to meet the circumstances which ever attend a course of new and arduous labours. Entering upon the duties of his Chaplaincy forty-five years ago, at a time when the Colonists of New South-Wales were, for the most part, of abandoned character and suffering the penalty of the law, he, with admirable foresight, anticipated the probable future destinies of that singular and important Colony; and never ceased to call the attention of both the Local and the Home Governments to the great duty of providing for the interests, both temporal and spiritual, of the rapidly-increasing population, by a proportionate increase in the number of Colonial Chaplains.

In the discharge of his diversified duties, the native energy of his mind was conspicuously exhibited in the unsubdued ardour, public spirit, and steady perseverance, with which his various plans of usefulness were prosecuted; while his high natural gifts were sanctified by those Christian principles, which, from his youth up, he maintained and adorned, both by his teaching and by his life.

But it is to his exertions in behalf of Christian Missions that the Committee are bound especially to call the attention of the Society. While he omitted no duty of his proper Ministerial Calling, his comprehensive mind quickly embraced the vast spiritual interests, till then well-nigh entirely unheeded, of the innumerable Islands of the Pacific Ocean, whose inhabitants were sitting in darkness and the shadow of death.

Under the influence of these considerations, Mr. Marsden zealously promoted the labours of the different Societies which have established Missions in the South Seas. And it is to his visits to New Zealand, begun twenty-five years ago, and often since repeated, and to his earnest appeals on behalf of that people, that the commencement and consolidation of the Society's Missions in the Northern Island are to be attributed.

In calling to mind the long series of eminent services rendered to the Society by Mr. Marsden, the Committee notice with peculiar satisfaction the last visit made by him, in the year 1836, to the Society's Missions in New Zealand,—a visit justly termed by the Lord Bishop of Australia "Apostolical." With paternal authority and affection, and with the solemnity of one who felt himself to be standing on the verge of eternity, he then gave his parting benediction to the Missionaries and the Native Converts.

The Committee, while acknowledging, with thankfulness to Almighty God, that combination of superior powers, largeness of sphere of action, length of days, and signal success, which was graciously bestowed on this eminent Servant of Christ, and which generally must fall to the lot of very few men, desire, at the same time, to express their humble hope and earnest prayer that it may please God to raise up and sustain, by the power of His Spirit, a large band of faithful and efficient Labourers, to tread in his steps, to follow up his holy designs, and to carry forward the blessed work of imparting to all those vast regions the fulness of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ.

Episcopal Relations with the Mission.

In the last Report it was stated that the Committee had opened a communication with the Lord Bishop of Australia, with a view to acquire for the Mission, through his Lordship's instrumentality, such an exercise of the Episcopal functions as the nature of the case would admit. With the request of the Committee the Lord Bishop most willingly complied; and thus expressed himself, in a Letter to the Rev. W. Cowper, Secretary of the Corresponding Committee of the Church Missionary Society in Sydney, Dec. 26, 1837:—

> I am preparing to proceed shortly to New Zealand; hoping to set in order the things which are wanting, and to confirm the Native Converts in their adherence to the doctrines of that Church, whose teaching first conveyed to them the glad tidings of Redemption.

Circumstances prevented the Lord Bishop from fulfilling his intentions at that period. He did not, however, relinquish the intention of visiting the Mission. In September last, Mr. Cowper recurs to the subject as follows:—

Twelve months ago, his Lordship had purposed, that, in January last, he would visit the Church Missionary Stations in New Zealand; but the Queen's ship, in which he had engaged to proceed, did not return to Sydney at the time expected; and, in consequence, his Lordship's arrangements for other special duties, and visitations more immediately connected with his office and charge in Australia, would not, even to this moment, allow him to take a voyage to New Zealand, although he anxiously desired to see the progress of Christianity, and to encourage the Missionaries on that island in their arduous and holy work. The Bishop now earnestly hopes to be able very soon to accomplish what he has long designed, and sincerely desired—a visit to the Society's Mission in New Zealand.

The Committee are earnestly expecting the Report of the Bishop of Australia's visit to the Mission, in the full confidence that it will, in conjunction with previous communications with his Lordship, lead to such an arrangement as may secure to the Mission the advantages of the Episcopal Office on its behalf.

Schemes for the Colonization of New Zealand.

Allusion was made in the last Report to plans formed for the colonization of New Zealand. On the 29th of March, 1838, a Select Committee was appointed by the House of Lords to "inquire into the present state of the Islands of New Zealand, and the expediency of regulating the settlement of British subjects therein."

The Report of the Committee was made in these terms:—

Resolved—That it appears to this Committee, that the extension of the colonial possessions of the Crown is a question of public policy, which belongs to the decision of Her Majesty's Government; but that it appears to this Committee, that support, in whatever way it may be deemed most expedient to afford it, of the exertions which have already beneficially effected the rapid advancement of the religious and social condition of the Aborigines of New Zealand, affords the best present hopes of their future progress in civilization.

Subsequently, a Bill was brought into the House of Commons, by the New-Zealand Association, "for the Provisional Government of British Settlements in the Islands of New Zealand." The provisions of this Bill appeared to the Committee to be so strongly objectionable, that a Petition against it was presented by them to both Houses of Parliament.* This Bill, on the motion for the second reading, was rejected by a large majority.

* See Appendix IV.

On that event, the Committee addressed a Letter to Lord Glenelg, then Colonial Secretary, explanatory of the measures which, in the judgment of the Committee, appeared to be called for, on the part of Her Majesty's Government, for remedying the evils inflicted upon the Natives of New Zealand, chiefly by British subjects. The Committee have subsequently been in communication with the Colonial Office, with a view to induce the Government themselves to devise, and carry into execution, measures adapted to the exigencies of the case; which, while they effectually corrected existing evils, might respect the legitimate rights, and tend to the moral and religious improvement, of the Aboriginal race.

New Testament in the New-Zealand Language.

Among the topics of a general nature, it affords peculiar satisfaction to the Committee to report that the printing of an edition of 5000 copies of the New Testament in the New-Zealand language has been completed. Many copies have been circulated; and great avidity is manifested by the Natives who can read to possess it. In the Report of the Waimate Station for 1838, the Rev. W. Williams remarks:—

> The difficulty, however, of meeting the wants of the Natives, who are exceedingly anxious to possess this book, renders it necessary to send a number of copies to New South-Wales, to be bound. Many copies of this edition of the New Testament have also been circulated by the Wesleyan Missionaries. Thus, through the blessing of God on the labours of the Missionaries, do the savages of New Zealand hear, in their own tongue, the wonderful works of God. Were this the only fruit of the Mission, it would be esteemed by the Committee an abundant compensation for all the labour and cost bestowed upon it.

Proposed Appointment of a Clergyman to the New-Zealand Mission.

In the actual circumstances of New Zealand, the Committee are solicitous to engage the services of a person, possessed of suitable qualifications, to investigate on the spot the state both of the Island and of the Mission, with a view to their adoption of such further measures as the present conjuncture may call for.

Ordination of Mr. Octavius Hadfield.

When Mr. Hadfield went out, he was presented, by the Corresponding Committee, to the Bishop of Australia, as a Candidate for Holy Orders. At his Lordship's following Ordination, Mr. Hadfield was received as a Candidate, and admitted to Deacon's Orders, on the 23d of September last.

Mr. Hadfield was to proceed to New Zealand in October. The Rev. Richard Taylor and family expected to go thither at the same time. As a temporary arrangement, Mr. Taylor had, at the instance of the Bishop of Australia, been performing the Chaplaincy duties at Liverpool.

Proceedings in the Mission.

Northern District.

The Committee now proceed to lay before the Society some details of the progress of the Mission, taking the Stations in the order in which they were formed.

TEPUNA.

This Station continues in charge of Mr. John King. In June 1837, Mr. King thus reports on the Station:—

There have been circumstances of a painful nature among some of the Natives, who had openly professed to believe the Gospel. While the servants of Christ have been struggling and labouring, in season and out of season, at home and abroad, in the highways and hedges, inviting and pointing sinners to Christ, and among the warriors, to entreat them to peace and good-will, they have had to mourn, and go forth weeping; but great will be their reward in heaven! I hope to see better days. The work of the Lord is going on in the hearts and lives of many; though the work has been sorely let and hindered through the malice of Satan, the wars of the Natives, and the instability of some of the Christian professors, together with the immoral lives of the Europeans who live on shore among the Natives, without law or rule to guide or check them. Divine Service has been regularly held on Lord's Days, and the Natives visited at their dwellings; but the majority of Natives about this place continue to hear without evident profit. At the same time, I trust that there is a work of grace going on in the hearts of a few; but they are slow in coming forward and declaring fully on the Lord's side.

In July 1838, Mr. King reports:—

Although some have turned aside for a time, after professing the Gospel, and others are halting between two opinions, yet many are seeking the bread of life, and are enabled, through grace, to press forward. In the midst of thick gloom and darkness, coldness and carelessness, one and another are coming forward, to tell what the Lord has done for their souls, and declaring on the Lord's side; which affords encouragement in the work, and is a further confirmation of the power of the Gospel.

KERIKERI.

Mr. Kemp reports of this Station, June 1838:—

The spiritual duties of the Kerikeri Station have been regularly attended to on the Lord's Day, and Tuesday and Thursday evenings: the Congregations often vary. Occasionally, parties resident on the banks of the Kerikeri River have attended. The state of the Natives in connexion with us has not been so encouraging as we could have wished; but we trust that there is a revival among them.

The Native Men's School has, of late, been progressing, and I hope some are making a little advancement. The School is conducted by one of the Christian Natives, under the superintendence of Mrs. Kemp.

Mary Taua, a Native Female, has continued rendering her services to the Infant School on the Week-days. The Infant School, it is pleasing to add, though but few in number, amounting to twelve children only, can read the Scriptures, rehearse the Catechisms, write, and sew.

The late visitation of sickness, we have reason to believe, has aroused many of the poor Natives to think more on eternal things.

PAIHIA.

Respecting this Station, the Committee quote the following passages from the Rev. H. Williams's Report of June 1838:—

The clouds which so long hung over us have been gradually dispersing, and a brighter day has now dawned upon us. In much mercy have we been permitted to prosecute our work in the name of the Lord, and we trust that our labours have not been in vain.

The Native Service commences at eight in the morning; the English Service at eleven, and at three in the afternoon; and Native Service at six in the evening. During the week, a Lecture has been given every Tuesday and Thursday evening. The Natives are assembled also every morning and evening at the Chapel, to attend Prayers.

At the Kauakaua, the congregation consists of about 150, who are regular in their attendance. The Services at this place are held, on the Lord's-Day morning and afternoon, by one of the Christian Natives, when no member from Paihía is there for that purpose.

The Schools at the Kauakaua have been conducted with tolerable regularity by the Christian Natives. The attendance on the Lord's Day is particularly good.

We are thankful to observe, that Catechisms are generally known, and also that numbers of persons are enabled to read and write, in many places at which Schools are not formed.

We have, indeed, to mourn the great insensibility of very many around us to the things which relate to their eternal state; yet have we encouragement in the steady conduct of those Christian Natives who are connected with us, and the desire of several distant families for instruction in Divine knowledge.

WAIMATE.

The Rev. W. Williams thus details the proceedings at this important Station, in July 1838:—

Among the Natives who have been removed from among us are several members of our Christian congregations, respecting whose departure we can rejoice in the Lord, in the sure and certain hope of a joyful resurrection. Broughton Ripi is one of this number: he continued to the last to encourage his people to press onward in their course. These afflictions have, without doubt, been sent in mercy by the great Head of the Church; and we believe, that we can already trace the beneficial results among our people, in an increased attention to spiritual concerns. Although there is still, alas! much apathy in many, yet there is evidently an increase of diligence in the outward deportment of others, from which we may infer an increase of the spirit of prayer. There are a few, also, who formerly stood aloof from us, who are now anxious to obtain instruction.

The Congregations in the neighbourhood have been, for the most part, attended to with regularity; and a journey was made in the summer, among the Natives of the East Cape, in which quarter it is hoped that a door will be opened for extensive usefulness.

The number of Baptisms during the year has been 51 Adults and 38 Children. The average number of Native Communicants has been about 115.

The revision of the translation of the Testament has been carried on to the end of the Revelation.

The Farm, under the direction of Mr. Davis, assisted by his son William, has yielded a fair produce. Forty acres of wheat were reaped in January last, and five acres of potatoes. Forty acres of wheat have been sown for the next season, and about thirty acres of new land have been cleared, ready for the breaking-plough. A flock of 100 sheep was purchased by Mr. Davis in New South-Wales, in December last; which arrived in New Zealand without much loss, making the Society's flock amount to 135. This addition will tend materially to facilitate the farming operations. The wheat grown on the Society's farm, together with what has been purchased, has yielded 54,790 lb. of flour; of which, 22,660 lb. have been consumed on the Station, and the remaining 32,130 lb. have been conveyed to Kerikeri, for the use of other Stations.

A substantial bridge over the River Waitangi, on the road to Kerikeri, has been erected.

Two material points may be observed, with respect to the occurrences of the past year;—first, that the old ground has been held; and secondly, that a little advance has been made into the territory of the enemy: and we may hope, that, through the blessing of God on the reading of His Word, which is now beginning to be circulated among a few, that those who profess the Gospel will be built up a spiritual temple unto the Lord.

In reference to this Station, Mr. Richard Davis writes, July 18, 1838:—

At Waimate, the influence of the Gospel is increasing. We have lost Broughton; but the Lord will raise up others to fill his place. I feel and mourn his removal; but all is well. Since his death, many have joined the Christian party; and I believe the Mission, in the Northern District, was never so healthful as at present.

KAITAIA.

Mr. W. G. Puckey, the senior Catechist at this Station, thus relates its circumstances, July 1, 1838:—

Wherever we go we meet with a welcome; and our Native Teachers, whom we send into every place, are generally well received, with invitations to continue their visits.

In the neighbourhood of the Station a considerable awakening has taken place during the past year; which has been manifested by a regular attendance of many Natives on the Means of Grace, and their applying to us for instruction.

On Tuesday, April 24th, thirty-eight Adults and eleven Infants were admitted into Christ's visible Church by Baptism. Thirty of those formerly baptized were admitted to the Lord's Supper.

We feel thankful in stating, that, with very few exceptions, our Christian Natives walk agreeably to their profession: many of them render much assistance in the instruction of their fellow-countrymen.

We have lately adopted a plan, by which we hope to keep out a certain number of Native Teachers in the more distant districts; and we have reason to hope that our prospects are still opening upon us.

As we have finished our houses, we feel more at liberty to attend to the spiritual and temporal wants of the Natives.

We regret to say that the mortality among the Natives around us has exceeded that of former years. With submission to the will of God, we have to regret the loss of two Christian Chiefs, who were removed from the troubles of this transitory scene a few months since. One of them, Broughton, had, during three years, boldly declared the love of Christ to his heathen brethren, once his companions in crime. During twelve months of bodily suffering, in addition to the loss of his wife and child, he manifested the most calm resignation to the will of God. The other man, named Paul, had an equal trial of suffering allotted him. He could not read; but, from attention to the word read and expounded, he treasured up many passages in his heart. In his affliction, he showed that he fed upon this spiritual food, and that Christ was his portion. For a week before his demise he appeared unusually tranquil; and said, that the dark earth under him alone told him that he was not in heaven; "for," said he, "Christ is with me."

The number of men and boys who attend the School is 40; the number of infants 20. A Girls' School has also been conducted by Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. Puckey. The average in attendance is 30.

Mr. Davis, leaving this Station in July last, thus describes what he witnessed:—

The change which has been wrought here is wonderful! It is the hand of God; and to Him be all the glory! The country, from having possessed a wild, now possesses a peaceful and social appearance. Much credit is due to my sons-in-law, on account of the manner in which they have carried on their temporal concerns. They have built, with the assistance of their Natives, each of them a comfortable dwelling-house, with all the necessary out-buildings, to render their Settlement convenient. The bridge which they have built over the river is a noble edifice of timber-work, and was a great undertaking. They are now preparing materials for their new Church: by next Fall they hope to have it fit for use. Their Settlement congregation is increasing: on Lord's Day it is supposed to consist of nearly 600 people. On that day I was confined to the house; but on Monday I conversed, in a catechetical way, with a large party. Last night I addressed a very attentive congregation. The influence of the Gospel is great, and is being extended.

The people in this District are anxious to grow wheat. They have here a small steel mill, which you kindly sent me a few years ago. Wheat has been grown here; they have seen it ground and made into bread; and from seeing the capabilities of their country, they are desirous to turn the benefit to their own account. Something must be done for them, in order that they may possess a more eligible way of getting their wheat ground.

Prevalence of Disease among the Natives.

Sickness has prevailed extensively among the Natives, and many have been carried off by it. Under these circumstances, the professional services of Mr. Ford, a surgeon sent out by the Committee, were very seasonable. Mr. Ford, writing under date of June 1838, thus describes the condition of the Natives:—

I regret to state, that there appears to have been more disease among them during this period, than has ever been observed at any previous part of their history. Its nature, also, appears to have been quite new, and such as they appear never to have suffered from before. It has, in many of its features, resembled the influenza prevailing of late years in England, which brought with it so much mortality; and this, in like manner, has been very destructive.

In its commencement, it presented a rather singular character, affecting the stomach and bowels, and producing in them such excessive distension, as materially to obstruct respiration, and, in some cases, to cause death by suffocation. The name which the Natives have given to this form of the malady is somewhat descriptive of the condition it produces: they have called it the "Korowa Mate" (Clover disease), from its striking similarity to the effect of clover upon cattle. We have reason to be thankful that the mortality arising from it has not been great; although, when it first appeared, many were carried off by it. It was found, however, that by furnishing the Natives around us with some active purgative medicine, to be administered on its first appearance, its effects, for the most part, were speedily removed.

An epidemic disease of a different character, which had also prevailed among the Natives, is thus described by Mr. Ford:—

The epidemic from which they have been more recently suffering, has been more general, and of much more serious results to them. By it, their numbers have been sadly thinned, and many have been carried off in a sudden and unexpected manner. It appears to have been of an erysipelatous character, and produced by the same causes as the former affection. The parts attacked by it have been principally the cutaneous covering of the face, ears, and eyes; and more internally, the lining membrane of the throat. In some few instances, the muscles of the throat have become so spasmodically affected, as, by their powerful contraction upon the windpipe, to have caused suffocation. During the last two months, the applications from the Natives for the relief of this disease have been almost incessant; and at Paihía alone, I should think medicine has been administered to not fewer than 1200 patients.

In connexion with this fact, it may afford some degree of satistion, to be informed, that great benefit has resulted, under the blessing of God, from the means used; and this epidemic, which a few weeks since was extending its ravages almost universally among the Natives, appears now for the most part to have subsided.

A passage or two from the Journal of the Rev. W. Williams will further illustrate the state of the Mission:—

March 31, 1837—I gave a set of Reading Lessons to a Native who is going on a visit to the Mahia, below the East Cape. I was much gratified to learn that a Native, whom I left there three years ago, though not a Christian, has introduced the observance of the Lord's Day, and has kept up an outward form, at least, of worship.

April 1—I spoke with twenty-six Candidates for Baptism; among whom were various grades of character and general information. One poor man, who has been rejected many times on account of his dulness, was at length passed. He was clear at least upon one point—the means by which his sins may be washed away; and being withal exceedingly anxious to be admitted to this ordinance, I cannot but think that Christ will receive him. They have all much, very much, to learn; but it will depend on the use which they may make of the appointed means, whether they grow in grace and knowledge.

April 2: Lord's Day—I baptized, during the Morning Service, the twenty-six Natives mentioned yesterday. It was interesting to observe in the congregation many of the relatives of those who were about to be admitted to this ordinance, anxiously waiting to witness, having themselves been previously gathered into the fold. Some had to welcome their wives, some their brothers; and, in the case of one, an aged mother, who had for a long time been under the instruction of her favoured son.

Introduction of Popery into New Zealand.

One of the most striking signs of the times, is the activity of the Papacy to regain its pernicious ascendancy. In prosecution of this design, it is avowedly engaged in an extensive plan, skilfully laid, and energetically executed, to counteract the operations of Protestant Missions. In December 1837, a Roman-Catholic Bishop, and two Priests, landed in New Zealand. They located themselves on the Hokianga, on the coast opposite to the Bay of Islands, in the midst of the Wesleyan Mission. The following passage, from a Letter of the Rev. H. Williams, June 1838, shows, that at that time they had extended their influence and operations into the Society's Mission:—

The French Roman-Catholic Bishop from Hokianga has paid two visits to this place. He has baptized some European Children; and it is proposed to erect a Chapel for him at Kororarika.

What a call on Protestants—on the members of the chief of the Protestant Churches—for prayer, faith, zeal, love, labour—the most prompt, earnest, and persevering use of all the means providentially placed so largely at their disposal, to counteract deadly error, and to propagate, throughout the length and breadth of the earth, the truth as it is in Jesus!

Southern District.

The Cessation of War in this District.

The disastrous wars which have ravaged the Southern District were alluded to in the last Report. Full details on this painful subject were subsequently given in the Church Missionary Record for June last year. Two of the newly-formed Stations in the South—Matamata and Rotorua—were plundered and destroyed, in the desolating conflicts of the Tribes engaged in the war, in the midst of which those Stations were situated. In July 1838, there seemed to be an approach to peace. On the 20th of that month, Mr. Chapman writes from Tauranga:—

At the period at which I am writing, peace seems to be established between Waikato, Rotorua, and Tauranga; but it is only a few days since a party from the Thames made an unexpected and treacherous attack upon Matamata; and although they succeeded in killing only one woman, yet we have much reason to fear that matters will not end here. It is impossible to describe the scenes we have passed through—in perils—in watchings often; but these have passed over, and no harm has happened to us. To the care and mercy of our God be all the praise!

On the 23d of June, in that year, Mr. W. Fairburn writes from Puriri—

With regard to the Thames Station, I can only say, that, amidst all the confusion and tumult consequent upon a state of warfare, we have been mercifully kept in a state of comparative quietness; although there are many hot-headed young Chiefs in our neighbourhood, who were, and still are, desirous of trying their guns, to see if they will carry straight.

On March 8, 1838, Mr Chapman, writing from Tauranga, expresses himself to the following effect:—

The Natives of Rotorua having again occupied Maketu, from whence they were driven by Waharoa at the commencement of the late war, we are again threatened with a continuation of past proceedings. It is mournful, when we consider the waste of time and money that has already taken place—without at all referring to other inevitable consequences of war—to take up the anticipation of the like evils; checking, as they do, our designs, and staying us in our advances toward doing good.

He adds—

As to our work, we have some little encouragement; as there are many young men who are beginning to inquire after the Truth.

To the same effect, Mr. J. Morgan writes from Rotorua, February 18, 1838:—

We know not when or where these things will end, or what will happen on the morrow. I suppose that at least 600 men, women, and children fell during the late war; and many were carried into slavery. Wives lost their husbands, and husbands their wives: parents lost their children, and children their parents. Some were slain on the field of battle, and others were cruelly murdered and eaten. And all this in consequence of one murder! The murderer escapes; and is now living near our Station, while many innocent perish for his guilt. So much for the land where every man, without fear of punishment, does what is good in his own eyes! These things weaken our hands, and our hearts are cast down within us. We do not fear any thing for our own personal safety. I trust we look to Him who has protected and kept us in dangers past; but we fear, and mourn for those around us. How many souls may be hurried, unprepared, into the presence of their Judge! Brethren, pray for us, that we may be strengthened continually to lift up our eyes unto the Hills, from whence cometh our help. Our help cometh from the Lord, who made heaven and earth. Brethren, pray for us, that we may have grace to go forward in our work; that Satan's power may be broken; and Jesu's Kingdom come, and His will be done on earth as it is in heaven.

By the latest advices from this District, war had not actually commenced, though the Natives continued in an unsettled and excited state.

Hopeful Death of a Native Youth.

Though the war, and its consequences, have greatly obstructed the Missionaries in their work, they have not been left without tokens of the Divine favour and blessing.

On August 8th, 1838, the Rev. R. Maunsell relates the death of a Native Youth, under his ministerial charge:—

I have lately administered baptism to five of our people, who have been for many months candidates for that ordinance. One of them, Henry Martyn, a youth, was in a consumption, which induced me more readily to admit him.

Shortly after baptism, he was carried outside, to try the benefit of change of air; and yesterday was brought in to be buried. His aged father, a fine old Chief, and the head of his Tribe—Ngatiteata—has just been giving me an account of his end. It was truly affecting to myself, while his whole demeanour exemplified the superficial nature of heathen affection. "While he was gasping for breath," said he, "I mihi'd down to him"—sighed toward him, as is their custom;—"and he replied, 'Be strong in prayer, be strong in prayer; pray with sincerity, pray with love, pray with the energy with which you used to animate the assembled fight.' Just as he was expiring," continued he, "I applied my forehead to his, and sighed. He looked up at me, and said, 'Cleave to Christ, cleave to Christ, cleave to your Saviour. Be in no hurry to get baptized. I have sinned since my baptism.—I am going. I am a poor sinner. You are better than I. Take care that I don't outstrip you in the race. O that we may live together!' "—I thought, for the moment, that the old man felt affected, and looked for the tear in his glistening eye; but could not help groaning, when he immediately turned the subject, by asking for an adze for a canoe which I had bought, and which he claims as his.

I trust that this dear lad is gone to Heaven. Though he never expressed the ardent hopes of the rejoicing Christian, yet he seemed not only to know, but to feel, the love of the Saviour, and his need of it. He possessed considerable natural powers; though he seldom spoke much. When conversing with him, as well in the presence of his aged father as of the other Candidates, I was more than once obliged to pause, to repress my feelings; particularly when he said, that the chief thing that gave him pain, in the prospect of dying, was, his love for those whom he was on the point of leaving.

Effects of the Labours of the Missionaries on the Natives.

The Rev. R. Maunsell having learned the representation made in this country as to the little effects produced by the labours of the Society's Missionaries upon the Natives, thus remarks upon them :—

It is, moreover, truly unjust to represent our labours here as resulting in merely 150 converts. If, by "converts," Mr. —— means persons who adopt our principles, receive our instructions, and have among themselves public and private Services, we could fearlessly state, that they are more in number than 3500. Our Reports, that we every year fill up and send home, would, I dare say, evince this: though they, indeed, cannot give an accurate conception of the vast salutary effect which our influence has on the body at large, or of the numbers collaterally instructed by us; because there are numbers of whom we know but little, who have learned the Catechisms, and to read the Scriptures, &c. Last Saturday, for example, I visited a place, for the first time, where, beside the fact that the Chapel—built entirely at their own suggestion—could not contain more than two-thirds of those that mustered, there came to the Reading Evening Meeting, fourteen adults, some of forty years of age, most of whom I had not before been aware could read; and yet they all made a fair attempt at reading, and at answering questions grounded on the chapter read. Now, these had never been reported by us, and perhaps never will be, from the fact that they have not a fixed School; but each, in his little hut, occupies himself in poring over and repeating passages that he has learned by heart, till he recognises each separate word—thus gradually advancing to a knowledge of reading. This seems to us an odd process; but some learn to read remarkably soon. The party I have just alluded to, have only begun to listen to our instructions during the last six months.

The Rev. S. Marsden's Visit to New Zealand.

The removal of this eminent servant of Christ, to his eternal rest, has been already mentioned. This circumstance renders his last visit to New Zealand more deeply interesting. The following extracts from his Letters detail his views of the state of the Mission, just twenty-three years after he had had the distinguished privilege of planting the first Missionaries among this barbarous people. Mr. Marsden landed in the Hokianga District; and crossed from thence to the Society's Stations on the opposite side of the Island. Writing in April 1837, he states :—

When I left Hokianga, a number accompanied me—upward of seventy. Some met us from Waimate. We had to travel about forty miles, by land and water. The road lay through a very thick wood. The Natives carried me, on something like a hammock, for twenty miles. We reached Waimate as the sun went down; where we were kindly received by the Rev. W. Williams and his colleagues. One principal Chief, who has embraced the Gospel, and has been baptized, accompanied us all the way. He told me he was so unhappy at Hokianga, that he could not get to converse with me, from the crowds that attended; and that he had come to Waimate to speak with me. I found him to be a very intelligent man, and anxious to know the way to Heaven. I met with numbers, wherever I went, who were anxious after the knowledge of God. I was much pleased to find, that wherever I went I found some who could read and write. The Church Service has been translated into the native language, with the Catechism, Hymns, and some other useful pieces. They are all fond of reading; and there are many who have never had an opportunity of attending the Schools, who nevertheless can read. They teach one another in all parts of the country, from the North to the East Cape. The prospect of success to the Mission is very great. Since my arrival at the Missionary Station, I have not heard one oath spoken, either by European or Native. The Schools and Church are well attended; and the greatest order is observed among all classes.

In the midst of all the miseries of war, God is prospering the Mission. Since my arrival, I have visited many of the Stations within the compass of a hundred miles, and have observed that a wonderful change has taken place within the last seven years. The portions of the Sacred Scriptures which have been printed have had a most astonishing effect. They are read by the Natives at every place where I have been. The Natives teach one another, and find great pleasure in the Word of God, and carry that sacred treasure with them wherever they go. Great numbers have been baptized, both Chiefs and their people. I have met with some very pious Chiefs, who have been invited by Pomare and Titore to join them in their present war; but they have refused. I met with one pious Chief who had been a great warrior, and was severely wounded in action the very day I arrived in New Zealand on my last visit; who informed me that Titore had sent for him, but that he would fight no more. I visited his Station: he has built a neat clean Place of Public Worship, which is visited by the Missionaries: in this he teaches school, as well as his son. I am at present at Waimate, which was formerly one of the most warlike districts in the island; and I could not learn that one individual had joined the contending parties. Waimate is the most moral and orderly place I ever was in. A great number of the inhabitants, for some miles, have been baptized, and live like Christians. There are neither riots nor drunkenness, neither swearing nor quarrels; but all is order and peace. The same effects I have observed to be produced by the Scriptures, and labours of the Missionaries, in other districts. My own mind has been exceedingly gratified with what I have seen and heard; and I have no doubt that New Zealand will become a civilized nation. I consider the Missionaries, as a body, very pious, prudent, and laborious men; and that they and their children are walking in the admonition of the Lord, so as to make them a national blessing, when they have finished their labours.

The Rev. A. N. Brown, who accompanied Mr. Marsden in a voyage to Cook's Straits, on board Her Majesty's Ship the "Rattlesnake," relates the following affecting conversation with the aged Minister:—

We enjoyed a most lovely evening. In a long conversation with Mr. Marsden on deck, he spoke of almost all his old friends having preceded him to the Eternal World—Romaine, Newton, the Milners, Scott, Atkinson, Robinson, Buchanan, Good, Thomason, Rowland Hill, Legh Richmond, Simeon, and others. He then alluded, in a very touching manner, to his late wife. They had passed, he observed, more than forty years of their pilgrimage through this wilderness in company; and he felt their separation the more severely as the months rolled on. I remarked, that their separation would be but for a short period longer. "God grant it!" was his reply; and then, lifting his eyes toward the moon, which was peacefully shedding her beams on the sails of our gallant bark, he exclaimed, with intense feeling—

"Prepare me, Lord, for thy right-hand;
Then come the joyful day!"

WEST-INDIES' MISSIONS.

BRITISH-GUIANA MISSION.

COMMENCED 1827.

Mission Establishment:

3 Missionaries. 4 Catechists.

This Mission is divided into Two Branches: one to the Negroes within the Parish of St. Matthew; the other to the Indians at Bartica Point.

ST. MATTHEW'S PARISH.

Mr. Charles Carter, who has been employed in this parish several years as a Catechist, was admitted to Deacon's Orders by the Lord Bishop of Barbadoes, on the 29th of July last. Mr. Carter is now engaged in ministerial duties in the parish.

BARTICA GROVE.

The Mission located here is directed to the Indians of the extensive regions which constitute British Guiana.

Writing, July 21, 1838, the Rev. J. H. Bernau thus describes the circumstances of his Station :—

With regard to our own proceedings, as immediately connected with Bartica Grove, I regret that I am left destitute of an able assistant—a Schoolmaster. Should Mr. Youd remain in the interior, it will be necessary for me to look out for a coloured young man, who, by his punctual and decent behaviour, as well as by his ability in teaching, and piety, may prove a blessing to the people; for helpers we want, who have learnt humility in the School of Christ, and are not ashamed to work with their hands at any thing that occasionally may present itself, conducive to the improvement of the Indians. And this will be the more requisite, should my anticipations of establishing a Normal School be realised. The average attendance at School is twenty-four, among whom are the eight Youths maintained by the Society. There are at present four Akaways, one Warran, two Arrowacks, and one coloured lad. Their progress is encouraging; and soon they will have outstripped the usual range of a common School. Among the most interesting things in which they are instructed, is Psalmody; and often is my heart cheered when I hear them sing so sweetly. Their ear is musical, and their voice capable of improvement. The impression made upon others by their singing is truly striking. The remaining hours are for manual labour; such as, cleaning, weeding, planting, or carpentering; and though patience is often put to the test, their behaviour, on the whole, is satisfactory. In ability in learning they far surpass the coloured children, and, in many instances, even the Negro Children. Aramoosy's son is the only one that has a father and mother living: the others are all orphans. He is an able lad, about eight or nine years of age. When his father came down the other day from the interior, I asked him, "Will you go with your father again to the bush?" He looked at me with tears in his eyes, and said, "No, Sir; I wish to be with you."

On the 16th of November, Mr. Bernau thus reviews the circumstances of the Station :—

There are here, as in other places, some discouraging and some encouraging features; but though of a melancholy disposition myself, I have been taught by grace to subordinate them to the praise of the Redeemer, and to wait for the help that cometh from above. It is verily a different thing altogether, to behold from far, and to be actually engaged in the battle. But as the battle is the Lord's,

I fear no evil; for victory is ours. Our Schools are prospering; the Ordinances of Religion are sought for; the number of those who come to rear their lowly cottages around us is increasing. Thus we see that the Lord is working with us;—praised be His name!

Mr. Latrobe's Testimony to the Indian Mission.

Mr. Latrobe, appointed by Government to inspect the Schools erected by Parliamentary Grants in the West Indies, in his Report to Lord Glenelg thus notices the Society's Mission to the Indians:—

With reference to the Indians, the establishment of these Missionary Stations must be considered of equal, if not of yet greater importance, particularly if the altered position of the different classes of society in the colony should eventually tend to bring the Aborigines into more frequent and closer contact with the Races hitherto confined to the coasts. The disorder and dangers resulting from such a contact are too notorious not to point out the necessity of bringing the Indians, as far as practicable, within the pale and protection of the laws; and of furnishing them with instructors and moral guides, whose influence, even if it cannot prevent the intercourse, may at least diminish the dangers of that collision, which the experience of all times and countries has shown to be attended with so little moral advantage to either party.

And again:—

The experience made by the Clergy attached to the Church Missionary Society at the present day, accords with that of the Moravian Missionaries. The docility of many of the Tribes, and the aptitude of the Indian to receive instruction, are placed beyond a doubt. The great difficulty to be overcome here, as elsewhere, is that strong natural antipathy to fixed abodes and sedentary habits, which is so marked a characteristic of the Indian, both of the Northern and Southern American Continents; but even this, experience has proved, is more easy to be overcome in Southern than in the Northern latitudes.

I can be guilty of no indiscretion in urging the claim of the Aborigines of a British colony upon your Lordship's attention; or in praying that they also may be made participants in the philanthropic plans of the Mother Country.

Proceedings in the Interior.

On the 5th of April 1838, the Rev. T. Youd proceeded into the interior, to visit the Macushi Indians, and to take preparatory steps with a view to the formation of a Mission Station among them. He still continued in the interior at the date of the Committee's last advice from him, which came down to the end of September last. He reached Perarara, a principal post of the Macushi Indians, on the 15th of May, by whom he was kindly received and invited to settle among them. He had for the present fixed himself at Perarara, which he thus describes:—

The village of Perarara is situated on a rising ground, amidst a vast extent of almost clear savannahs; with here and there a single shrub, which in no way obstructs the sight. A range of mountains runs between Perarara and Annie, and forms a sort of boundary to the view that presents itself from the village; running north-west, at a distance of twenty miles. Between Perarara and the above mountains is a fine plain, on which immense herds of cattle may be seen feeding. These cattle long ago strayed from the Portuguese cattle farms, and have now, in their wild state, increased to thousands.

On the 21st of July, he writes:—

It is pleasing to me to hear the Macushis each morning and evening, both old and young, lifting their voices to Heaven in hymns of praise, in their own language; some with apparent devotion. Three couples have been married, and others are giving in their names for publication. The Evening Lectures are variously attended; sometimes by thirty or forty, and at others by fifty and upwards; chiefly depending on the number that may be at work in their distant fields for a few days. A third of the people is always away, in turn, engaged in the above way, if the weather be suitable for cutting or planting.

On the 18th of August, Mr. Youd records the admission to baptism of the daughter of a Macushi Chief:—

Two couples were married to-day, which created a good deal of interest in the village. Several guns were fired on the occasion, and much pleasure was manifested. Rachel, wife of Avaristo Josā Telsārā, and child, were both admitted to the ordinance of Baptism, she having given satisfactory evidence of being a subject of Divine Grace for some time past; which has been a cause of no small joy to me, and for which I thank the Lord and take courage. Rachel is a daughter of our old veteran Chief, Claude, of the Macushi Tribe, who seemed to feel himself honoured in having a daughter who had become a Christian.

On the 9th of September Mr. Youd commenced preaching in the Macushi Language.

On the same day, he observes:—

When walking round my house, some time after dark this evening, I was agreeably surprised on hearing two or three engaged in prayer in the Chapel, apparently in great sincerity. The Chapel being dark, I could not discover who they were, neither did I go in to disturb them. Shall I not hope that this is of God?

Arrival of Roman-Catholic Priests in Demerara.

It has been stated to the Committee, that, in December last, ten or eleven Roman-Catholic Priests landed at Demerara.

TRINIDAD MISSION.

COMMENCED 1836.

Mission Establishment:

2 Missionaries.
5 Catechists and Schoolmasters.
5 Country-born Schoolmasters.

Deaths of Labourers.

THE prevalence of sickness in this Mission was noticed in the last Report; and the Committee have to deplore the death of two of the Catechists employed in it—Mr. J. N. Williams, and Mr. S. King. Their places were supplied by Mr. Hawkins and Mr. Gilbert, who reached their destination on the 24th of December last. With regard to Mr. Williams's death, the Rev. J. G. Mühlhauser states, May 25, 1838:—

Mr. Williams's end was peace. I was with him almost the whole day on which the melancholy event took place. He was entirely resigned to the will of his Heavenly Father. He said that his Saviour was precious to him, and that he was relying entirely upon Him. Being asked by Mrs. Williams, whether he supposed he was now passing through the valley of the shadow of death, he replied, "Yes; but it is not dark."

In reference to the death of Mr. King, Mr. Mühlhauser wrote:—

His end was peace, and his death a triumph.

He adds:—

Mr. King laboured with cheerfulness. He was beloved and esteemed; and I trust, that though his time of sowing has been short, yet the time will come when the seed which he sowed will bring fruit to eternal life.

Two days before his death, Mr. King dictated a Letter to the Committee, being too weak to write himself, which thus concludes:—

Although my prospects are blasted thus early, still I do not regret having engaged in the Missionary work; even though I was not enabled to realize my expectation with regard to the now-promising Missionary field around me. With regard to my present state, I can only say, that death, though frightful to nature, has lost its sting; whilst I believe that death has no power over me, but to hasten me to Him, whom I had the mercy to believe in, to love, and in whom I now entirely and altogether confide for the salvation of my soul.

State of the Mission.

Mr. Mühlhauser, on the 15th of February last, thus reviews his Stations:—

The prospect of this part of the Mission—San-Fernando District—seems to become every day more interesting and more promising. It is cheering to see, on a Lord's Day, the Belmont-Chapel School-house altogether crowded with Negroes: and, generally speaking, they are very attentive, and very anxious to be instructed in our most Holy Religion, to abandon the ways of sin, and to walk in the paths of righteousness. A great number of Roman Catholics, nominally so, are now approaching us very close; and many of them have expressed themselves to the effect, that they will no longer attend the French Church. If the people continue flocking to Belmont Chapel as they have done for some time past, we shall be obliged to enlarge that building; which, if necessity require it, can be done by a gallery, in the west part of the house. Formerly, or rather at the commencement of the Mission, I had but few, generally speaking, in attendance at Belmont, and these were collected chiefly by dint of persuasion; but now they flock willingly to the house, and gratefully hear the Gospel of Christ preached. A favourable symptom of better prospects is a desire manifested by the Negroes to be married. At present, I have eleven banns of marriage on my book, all of which are from Negroes. A great many more will marry shortly, if, as they say, they can make it convenient; that is, have more money to make a greater show—to give a better dinner, &c. Belmont is not the only place we preach at: there are several other places at which we assemble the people. As soon as I have built the School-houses, I shall make every one a central place, to preach to the Negroes, &c. With regard to Schools, I am glad to say that we are doing pretty well, and have reason to hope that we shall do better; for all our Schools have considerably increased since the commencement of this year.

In January 1838, Mr. Mühlhauser thus describes the state of the Mission:—

Looking back upon the time past, upon almost two years, during which I have been in Trinidad, I see much reason for humbling myself in the eyes of Him who searcheth our hearts, much to be repented of, and much to ask pardon for. But while I must take all shame upon myself—while I must ascribe greatly to my sinfulness the slow progress of the work—I dare not be silent in ascribing all praise and honour to Him to whom they are due, for that blessing which He has been pleased to vouchsafe to the work of the Missionaries in Trinidad. Indeed, we cannot yet speak of much fruit; but, then, we must also recollect, that we were almost the first who sowed the good seed in this part of Trinidad; and while we are sowing we cannot expect to reap; but we may expect that some of the incorruptible seed will in future grow, and bring forth fruit to eternal life. When I recollect what the state of things was when we came to this part of the island, I cannot help thinking that it has undergone, or is undergoing, a change for the better. As it regards the Negroes, it must be expected that the conviction and conversion of them must be according to the light of the Gospel, of which they partake; and, therefore, it will have its time for penetrating the darkness of the darkest places; but, nevertheless, I can observe the appearances of the silent working of the Holy Ghost in many a heart, and trust that many more will experience that most blessed influence. I cannot state exactly the number of adults who receive instruction from us; but it is, considering the small population of Trinidad, a considerable number. Ignorance is the great idol with which we have to contend; and after this, superstition. If the one be dispelled by the Sun of Righteousness, and the other beheaded by the two-edged sword of the Word of God, the Negroes will enjoy the liberty of the children of God.

Mr. Redford writes, March 31, 1839:—

I commenced keeping a school on Monday, Jan. 8th. I had only six children the first day; but the number has gradually increased each week: I have now fifty-one. They are not all of them children: some of them are adults, who have sons and daughters in the school. The Romish Priest opposes us very much in this department of the work. He opened a school, I believe, on the same day that I did. He appears to be most anxious to secure the children of Protestant parents.

In reference to the proceedings of the Society in Trinidad, Mr. C. J. Latrobe thus speaks, in his Report to Lord Glenelg, above mentioned:—

The details which I have the honour of laying before your Lordship, relative to the proceedings of the Clergy in connexion with the Church Missionary Society in this Colony, will, it is trusted, place the importance and the judicious character of their labours among the labouring classes and the American refugees in a proper point of view; and will convince your Lordship, that whatever assistance has been afforded to this Society for the propagation of the Gospel, has been well bestowed and applied.

JAMAICA MISSION.

COMMENCED 1826.

Mission Establishment:

8 Missionaries.	10 Colonial Catechists.
14 European Catechists.	3 Female Teachers.

Observance of the Day of Emancipation by the Negroes.

THE great event, unparalleled in History, of the transition of nearly the entire population of an extensive district from a state of bondage to a state of freedom, took place in Jamaica in the most favourable manner.

On the 14th of August, the Rev. W. K. Betts reports—

The great change, from Apprenticeship to complete and Universal Freedom, has taken place! The First of August was kept most sacredly by the Negro Population: all places of Worship were filled to overflowing, and the day wore the appearance of a Lord's Day. The 2d of August was made a day of festivity; but even in the midst of music and fireworks and illumination, which attracted about 10,000 to the Race-course at Kingston, nothing like riot took place: it is said that there was not a single complaint at the Police Office, next morning. Even in the midst of these less-sacred demonstrations, there was a strong feeling of thankfulness to God in the minds of many, evinced by audible ejaculations of praise. All is quiet to this time; but many have not yet made agreement respecting wages; both parties, of course, trying to make a good bargain.

The Rev. D. Seddon, writing from the Parish of Manchester, Aug. 7, gives the following details concerning this propitious day:—

On Wednesday last, before the sun rose upon this beautiful Island, the light of Liberty hailed its long-enslaved inhabitants as fellow-subjects with us of the same Nation, and enjoying all the blessings of civil and religious freedom. Very early, our small bell was rung, to remind the people of the particular object which would engage their minds on that festive day. At nine o'clock A.M. the bell was again rung; and we shortly after rode to Elstree; where the crowded attendance, at that early hour, obliged numbers to be seated in the open air, and under a burning sun. Besides ourselves, there were only five white persons present, three of whom were men of considerable influence in the quarter. All through the Service, the congregation outside received fresh additions; but with all this, there was no kind of disorder or noise. "A Form of Prayer" for the day had been printed, and sent forth, under the Bishop's sanction. I disposed of about forty copies of this Form among my people here, whom we had instructed in the use of it for two or three days previously. Great attention was manifested during the Prayers, reading the Scriptures, and singing. The hymns, "Hark the glad sound," &c., and "Jesus shall reign where'er the sun," &c.—both out of the new Hymn Book sanctioned by the Bishop—were sung with much fervour. The chanting and singing were very cheerful, and, I hope, in many cases, attended with that spirituality and faith which praise must possess to be acceptable with God. My Sermon was from the cxxvith Psalm, ver. 3: The Lord hath done great things for us.—On my giving out my text, many stood up, with earnestness imprinted on their countenances; and all were silent and attentive during the whole sermon, which, contrary to my usual custom, lasted an hour. I was afraid that their minds would flag; but it was not so: a deep awe seemed to rest upon their feelings, especially toward the close of the Service; and I cannot but hope, though I may never see it, that God was blessing many souls. Prayer, and Bishop Ken's soul-stirring doxology, "Praise God, from whom all blessings flow," closed this Service.

We then started for Warwick; where we have the use of a coffee-mill-house as a temporary Place of Worship, until Prattville is finished. Warwick is about a mile distant from Prattville; and during our ride of seven miles, in the middle of the day, and through or near several Properties of considerable size, we did not meet with any Negroes, nor overtake any, except just as we left Elstree, when those who had been assembled there were moving slowly toward home. The reason of this was, that all within this district had simultaneously gone either to Elstree or Warwick, to worship and adore that God who had, as they all felt, done such great things for them. At Warwick, we met, already assembled, an overflowing congregation—all Negroes, except four or five whites, and ourselves. The crowd was very great; and though not so orderly as those at Elstree, having nearly all to sit on the ground, they were more so than we could expect.

After Divine Service, both here and at Elstree, I gave out, that as some persons present might desire to show their gratitude to God in some sensible and benevolent manner, I would propose two objects for their attention—the Church Missionary Society and the Bishop's Schools; and that a man would be stationed to receive what they might wish to offer. The result is, that a sum has been placed in my hands of near 8*l.* currency, which I divide as above proposed. This is called "A small offering of gratitude."

In riding home—though greatly fatigued—we could not forbear congratulating most of those whom we met on the event of the day; and the usual answer to our salutation was, "Ah, Minister! for me Saviour very good: me never think to see this day. Bless God, Massa, bless God! It is too good, too good."

We arrived here, in safety, about sun-set: and as soon as we were a little refreshed, our bell was rung for Evening Prayers. Numbers had to stand outside our sitting-room, while we sung a hymn; and I expounded the cxxviith Psalm, and closed with prayer that God would make us all free indeed. Every evening since the First of August, our Family Prayers have had an increased attention, and most have listened with great earnestness. On the 4th, the Lord's Day, I read Prayers, and preached at both Warwick and Elstree; at both of which places a very large congregation had assembled. At Elstree, little more than half the congregation could gain admittance.

Mr. Seddon adds:—

Nothing about this great change surprises us more than the manner in which it is received. There have been few outward demonstrations of delight; and none exceeding the limits of propriety, so far as I have witnessed; and I have seen hundreds upon hundreds of those who have been made happy by the wonderful revolution. We have seen nothing like intoxication. The quiet and order which have prevailed have completely astonished us. Doubtless it is of the Lord, who sitteth above the water-floods.

As for ourselves, we are more than ever disposed to thank God, who has so marvellously and beautifully ushered suddenly into freedom a colony of myriads. O may it please Him shortly to shine into the hearts of multitudes of this renovated people, and give them that eternal liberty which nought could purchase for them and for us, but the precious blood of Christ!

Normal School.

It was stated, in the last Report, that the Normal School was under the care of Mr. E. Corner, who was admitted to Deacon's Orders by the Lord Bishop of Jamaica, on the 10th of June 1838, and was called from his earthly labours to the heavenly rest on the 11th of January last. Mr. Corner had discharged the duties of Master of the Normal School with diligence and ability; and this early termination of the course of this hopeful Missionary is a severe loss to the Mission.

The Rev. W. K. Betts has been appointed to the charge of the Normal School, in consequence of Mr. Corner's death.

In Mr. Corner's Quarterly Report of the Normal School, March 1838, he thus relates a visit of the Lord Bishop of Jamaica to the School:—

It may be gratifying to you to know, that the Lord Bishop of Jamaica, accompanied by the Rev. A. Campbell, Rector of this parish, and the Rev. — Williams, Rector of the Parish of St. Elizabeth, honoured us with a visit on the 23d of January, and examined the Normal School. From the portion of Scripture which his Lordship selected for them to read—Matthew ch. v.—he questioned them closely, and also put various questions in reference to the bearing of other parts of Scripture on the portion read; to which they gave him satisfactory answers. He praised them for their style of reading, as well as for their answers; and expressed himself pleased with their Bible knowledge. He examined their ciphering and copy-books, and appeared to be surprised at the progress made by them. He admired their singing; and advised me to keep up their knowledge of that science, as a most necessary and useful acquirement for their future office.

Deaths of Labourers.

Beside the death of Mr. Corner, already noticed, the Mission has, during the past year, been deprived of the valuable services of Mrs. Betts, and Mr. Withy. Mrs. Betts, after labouring usefully in the Sierra-Leone Mission for seven years, removed to Jamaica in the beginning of 1834, on Mr. Betts's services being transferred to that Mission. Twelve years of her life were consequently employed in the Missionary work. Her death took place on the 4th of November last, in calm dependence on the merits of God her Saviour.

Mr. Withy died on the 19th of September, in the lively exercise of faith in Christ; declaring that his hopes were placed where they had always been—in Him, who is the same yesterday, to-day, and for ever. The Rev. H. L. Dixon, in reporting Mr. Withy's death to the Committee, states:—

He was a man of great industry and remarkable punctuality. He might be said to have lived by rule, and to have had both a time and place for every thing. But I think that the first thing that would strike a stranger, would be the simplicity and innocence which dwelt upon his very countenance, and were exemplified in the conduct and actions of our dear Brother. When he appeared most in the common undress of life, then it was that these features were displayed to the greatest advantage. At such times, too, I have often remarked, within myself, the strict purity of mind, which appeared to be even peculiar to him. Never did an expression escape his lips in my hearing, which I could possibly be ashamed to utter upon my dying bed.

General State of the Mission.

The general state of the Mission is thus noticed by Mr. Betts, July 27th, 1838:—

The Quarterly Reports just received from the different Stations are, upon the whole, very satisfactory: some are particularly interesting.

I will forward them by the first favourable opportunity. The various Day, Evening, and Sunday Schools in the Mission now muster about 4500 Scholars.

During the year, two Youths, trained in the Normal School, have gone forth to be employed in the Mission, as Catechists.

The Lord Bishop of Jamaica has conveyed to the Committee strong expressions of his approbation of the labours of the Society's Missionaries and Catechists, within his Lordship's Diocese.

Nature of the Education required for the Negroes.

Mr. La Trobe, to whose Report reference has been already made, closes it with these just and important remarks on the character of the Education suitable to the state of the enfranchised population of the West Indies:—

The gift of Education is what the Negro must claim, now that the boon of complete political freedom has been bestowed. It is your Lordship's wish, that this claim should be fully answered; and that the education given, should be a sound and religious one. Your Lordship will allow me to add, that, to produce all the good intended, it must be a sober education; one rather calculated to discipline the mind, and to bring its opening powers into wholesome subjection, than to excite it; one suited to the necessities and probable prospects of the class to whom it is presented; and, above all, an education not merely based upon worldly morality, but built upon the Holy Scriptures.

NORTH-WEST-AMERICA MISSION.

COMMENCED 1823.

Mission Establishment:

2 Missionaries. 3 Schoolmasters. 4 Country-born Schoolmasters.

MANY and severe have been the trials of the Missionaries while prosecuting their arduous and self-denying labours in this inhospitable region; but the following statement will show, that, through the blessing of God, those labours have not been in vain.

Progress of the Indian Settlement.

It has pleased God to crown the persevering and indefatigable exertions of the Rev. W. Cockran, in this department of his duties, with encouraging success.

In the following passages, the Rev. D. T. Jones describes the state of the Settlement, as he observed it in different visits:—

June 13, 1838—Mr. Cockran came to breakfast; and afterward we set off together for the Indian Settlement. The road from the Stone Fort, for the first four hours, winds about clumps of oak, aspen, and poplar, in a most beautiful and, apparently, artificial manner. After this, the land becomes miry and swampy to an extreme degree, so that riding becomes very tedious and disagreeable. About eleven we arrived at the point of the river opposite to which the locations have been made. The river here is truly magnificent, being not less than a quarter of a mile in breadth, and, as I was told, sixteen fathoms in depth. Above the Settlement, it is divided by an island, but appears in two extensive arms; while a tributary creek runs in front of the houses, and forms a peninsula of part of the occupied ground. The Church is a very beautiful object in this simple and interesting landscape. Their crops were equal, if not superior, to those of any other part of the colony. Their houses were well constructed of oak and pine, of which there is an abundance in the vicinity.

I was surprised at their dexterity in the use of the axe and the hoe. They have cleared an immense number of oak stumps from their ground; and their little enclosures looked respectable, and well fenced. They build their own houses; of which many are well jointed. In a great many instances, they make their own carts, and, of course, what little furniture their houses contain. Here, then, is a great principle, fully and plainly established; namely, that the Indian may be civilized, has been civilized, and is willing to be civilized. Let the Gospel then be made known, and let the cause be supported, and then will other spots like this appear in the wilderness, with fruits as pleasing, and with an aspect as cheering and refreshing. Christians in England! cherish this vine!

July 1, 1838—I proceeded to the Indian Settlement, in a birch-rind canoe, with two Indians; feeling my strength quite inadequate to riding. At half-past-three, I found the church well filled, and the singing delightful. I never saw a more picturesque object than this little church, now that the clump of trees in which it is built is in full foliage. The heat of the weather rendering it necessary to have the windows and doors wide open, the eye, from the desk, catches several glimpses of the river, gliding past in glassy smoothness, between the trunks of the ancient and decaying trees. The people around one are all Indians, the feeble representatives of Nations swept into oblivion. These now lift their voices in praise of Redeeming Love.

Pastoral Labours.

The Committee select, from Mr. Cockran's Journal, a few particulars of his pastoral intercourse with the people who are under his immediate charge:—

Dec. 25, 1837—After the usual Service and Sermon, I administered the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The Church was crowded to excess. It is delightful to see so many immortal beings attending to the Word of Life, and renewing their covenant with the Lord. The contrast between the weather without, and the Service within the Church, was truly striking. The wind was high; the snow flying as fine as dust, obscuring the whole face of the sky and every surrounding object. Noise, confusion, and destruction, were wafted over and around; but within, a solemn silence, interrupted only by the offer of mercy through Him who has borne away the sins of the world.

Dec. 29—Out all day. I visited the Schools; and called upon a sick person, and prayed with him. I was happy to learn that his whole trust was in the righteousness of Christ. I said: "My friend, I shall not see you again: before I can pay a visit to this part again, you will have entered into the invisible world. Tell me, if you rest in any thing of your own; or if you build on any other foundation except that which God hath laid, even Jesus Christ?" He turned his head, and gazed. "What have I to trust to? I am a sinner;" and, raising his hands, exclaimed, "God forbid that I should trust in any but in the Lord Jesus, who has redeemed me!"

March 16, 1838—I visited a Youth who had been blind for six years, and is now under a deep decay. I conversed with him on the concerns of his soul, and found him perfectly resigned, and willing to depart. On being asked how he had employed his mind since he had lost his sight, he said, "In going over those things which I learned at school. I have not been able to distinguish day from night; but I have felt such a pleasure in reflecting on the love of God in sending His Son to seek and to save lost sinners, that I have not thought the days and nights long."

April 10—I spent the forenoon with those who were coming to the Sacrament for the first time; and was truly delighted to witness the sincere resolutions which they had formed of fighting the good fight. One, while bathed in tears, said, "I know I am a sinner; but I say to myself, 'None can save me but Christ:' I wish to go and commemorate His death, and put in my open claim for mercy."—Another, "I know I have been a very bad man; but have been trying to make myself good, and cannot. Christ helps all who come to Him: I shall now try Him: He will help me."—I might add many more of the like import, from the thirteen members whom I received to-day; but as God only knows who among us shall hold out unto the end, I have an aversion to say much about those who are only girding on the armour to fight the most subtle of enemies; namely, the world, the flesh, and the devil.

Appeal of the Indians for Missionaries.

Mr. Jones was the bearer to the Committee of Letters and Messages from the Indians; urging, with affectionate earnestness, the sending out additional Missionaries to them.—The Chief, Pigwys, bears the Christian name of William King:—

August 9—When Service was over, I addressed them in regard to some enemy having sent abroad a report that I was leaving the country in disgust with the Indians, and Natives in general. After this, the old Chief, Pigwys, stepped into the aisle, and said: "You have spoken as you always do, as a father would to his children: I wish all would listen to you. I send by you a Letter to the Missionary men in England: tell them not to forget me: I want the Word of Life to be always spoken in my land." He then put the Letter herewith sent on the desk. This done, another Indian, seemingly taking the lead among the Muscaigoes, got up, and spoke to the same purpose; adding, with much vehemence and gesture—"Tell them to make haste; time is short, and Death is snatching away our friends and relations very fast; tell them to make haste."

Progress of Popery.

This remote region is not overlooked by the Papacy: its rigorous climate opposes no obstacle to Romish zeal. Under the date of July 10, 1838, Mr. Jones notes the arrival of three Popish Priests at the Red River. Two of them were on their way to the Columbia, on the Pacific Ocean, to establish a Roman-Catholic Mission there. It is lamentable to see the Papacy thus forestalling Protestants in the occupation of this interesting field of Missionary Labour. When will the Members of the Church of England rise to the level of their means and advantages, in sending forth Missions to dispense the unsearchable riches of Christ to the benighted Heathen!

In reference to these Romish Missionaries, Pigwys writes in his Letter:—

My friends, what are you about? It is true, there is not a summer but some of the French Praying-Masters arrive; but it is not my wish to go and seek them to teach me the Word of Life. As you began with us, I wish you alone to teach me the Word of God.

Indians' Appeal for Missionaries.

The Indians at the same time sent an affectionate appeal to the Committee by Mr. Jones. They say:—

Mr. Jones is now going to leave us. Mr. Cockran is talking of leaving us. Must we turn to our idols and gods again? or must we turn to the French Praying-Masters for protection and assistance, where a good few of our children and relations are gone to? We see not less than three French Praying-Masters have arrived in the River, and not one for us. What is this, our friends? The Word of God says, that one soul is worth more than all the world. Surely then, our friends, 300 souls is worthy of one Praying-Master. Can it be expected that once or twice teaching to a child can be sufficient to make him wise, or to enable him to guide himself through life? No, our friends; and we are the same. Is not once or twice a week teaching can be sufficient to make us wise: we have bad hearts; and we hate our bad hearts, and all our evil ways, and we wish to cast them all away; and we hope in time, by the help of God, to be able to do it.

In consequence of these appeals, communications were entered into with the Hudson's-Bay Company, through Benjamin Harrison, Esq., with a view to meet these affecting appeals of this aged Chief and other Indians. Mr. Harrison attended a meeting of the Committee, to confer with them personally on the subject. They had the satisfaction to find that the Company were disposed to countenance and promote the formation of a Mission Station at Cumberland House, one of their Posts; and that any number of Missionaries might be located there, which the Committee might be able to send out. The present circumstances of the Society prevent their availing themselves of the opening thus presented, to the extent which they would otherwise be glad to do. They have, however, set apart one of the Ordained Students of the Institution for this Mission; who, they expect, will proceed to his destination in June next.

MISCELLANEOUS.

DEATH OF THE REV. T. BLUMHARDT.

It is with feelings of deep concern that the Committee report the death of the Rev. Christian Theophilus Blumhardt, Inspector of the Basle Institution. Over that Institution Mr. Blumhardt had presided for more than twenty-two years; and his whole course had been eminently marked by wisdom, love, zeal, and entire devotedness of heart and life to the service and glory of his Lord and Master. The following Minute was recorded by the Committee on the 14th of January, in expression of their feeling of respect and affection for one to whose labours this Society had, under the Divine blessing, been deeply indebted in training for usefulness many of the most valuable Missionaries of this Society:—

The Committee, in recording the lamented death of the Rev. Theophilus Blumhardt, Inspector of the Missionary Institution at Basle, desire to express their deep sense of the mercy of God in raising up that eminently-gifted individual, and in so long continuing to His Church Mr. Blumhardt's valuable labours.

Mr. Blumhardt had largely contributed to the formation of that Institution over which, for upward of twenty years, he so ably presided. It was at the termination of the war in 1815, that a few pious individuals, grateful for the remarkable preservation of the city of Basle from destruction by bombardment, resolved to rear some appropriate monument to the praise of their great Deliverer. A Missionary Seminary was in consequence projected, and gradually established. To this Institution, Mr. Blumhardt, from its commencement, devoted all his powers, in the training of Candidates—in correspondence with the Continent, and Missionary Stations—and in co-operation with the general labours of the German Missionary Society.

This Committee having twice had the advantage of a personal visit from Mr. Blumhardt in this country, and having been in constant communication with him on occasion of their annually receiving Students from Basle, feel themselves specially bound to express their strongest sympathy with the Committee of the Basle Institution; being able, in some measure, to appreciate the magnitude of the loss which they have sustained.

Several individuals of this Committee can likewise, from personal acquaintance with Basle, bear witness to that rare combination of firm authority and tenderly affectionate deportment which characterized the late Inspector; and the Committee therefore cannot forbear expressing their sympathy toward those, whether Missionaries or Students, who have formerly enjoyed, or were at this time enjoying, the benefits of his counsel and example, and who now feel as children bereaved of a parent.

The Committee, with lively thankfulness, express their gratitude to God that his valuable life was so long spared to the Missionary Cause; and that, when about to be separated from his beloved charge and mourning family, he was enabled to exhibit to all around the brightest evidences of his possessing peace and joy in the Holy Ghost.

On the removal of this beloved and venerated Father in the Missionary Work, the Committee earnestly entreat the prayers of all who love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity, that He, as Head of the Church, would renew the strength of every Member of His mystical Body; and that He would be pleased to raise up a succession of faithful and simple-hearted Labourers, men sound in the faith and abounding in the spirit of love, to meet, at this momentous period, the spiritual wants of Europe, and of the whole world.

CONCLUSION.

Your Committee, on reviewing the proceedings of the past year, are anxious to draw the attention of the Members and Friends of the Society to the subject of the actual progress making in the Missionary Cause.

In some important points, indeed, it is matter of deep regret to acknowledge that the work has been retarded, and, for a time at least, apparently extinguished. The Committee refer more especially to the Mediterranean and the South-East-Africa Missions. In these afflictive hindrances of the work, it becomes us humbly to adore the Inscrutable Wisdom of God, who not unfrequently permits the wrath of man to prevail to a certain extent; while, in the end, He causes greater glory to redound to His Name, and crowns the exertions of His faithful and persevering Servants with more enlarged success.

But, surveying the entire range of the Society's operations, your Committee feel that they are bound to lift up the voice of gratitude and praise, for the manifest and varied blessing which attends those labours.

For, is it the simple and affectionate and effectual Preaching of the Gospel that Christians contemplate, as an evidence that God is blessing His Church, whether at home or abroad? or, is it the Translation of the Holy Scriptures, and of our Liturgy, that encourages us with the prospect of seeing Congregations of faithful worshippers built up in every part of the earth? Then—not to name other Missions—with what delight may the Members of the Society view the seeking-out of the scattered and lost sheep in New Zealand; and the in-gathering, and collecting into regular folds, of the well-taught population of West Africa! It is especially to be observed, that, during the past year, your Committee have received printed copies of the complete New Testament, in the Language of New Zealand. Even in New Holland also, in the barbarous tongue of the Aborigines, the Prayers of our Liturgy are offered up by the Natives, who, three or four years ago, scarcely knew of the existence of a God.

Does the importance of sound Christian Education fix at this time the hearts of all the attached Members of the United Church of England and Ireland? On this subject, your Committee can gratefully record, that all the Society's operations are governed by the principle, that the Education of the Young ought to be essentially Scriptural and Christian throughout. There is not an Institution, a Seminary, or a School, in connexion with the Society, of which the Bible is not the foundation.

In the Institutions formed or forming in the Three Presidencies of India, and in Ceylon, and in the Normal Schools in the West Indies, this principle of Scriptural Education is becoming yet more fully developed, from the arrangements being made by the Society, that these Establishments should become the nurseries from which a Native Ministry may be supplied.

Closely allied to this subject is another topic upon which your Committee feel that there is ground of congratulation; namely, the extension of the advantages of Episcopal Authority and Influence in those regions wherein the Missions of the Society are situated. It is true, that no new Diocese has, during the past year, been created in foreign parts, though more than one be called for. But the benefits of Episcopal Superintendence have been, during this year, increasingly felt in various parts, where Dioceses, more or less new, had previously existed: and your Committee trust that the advantages of our Protestant Episcopal relations will be yet more and more extended to every Branch of the Society's operations.

But the advances made by this Society may be estimated, not only by its visible success;—progress in the affairs of the Church of Christ may likewise, to a certain degree, be calculated by observing those re-acting Powers, which are quickened to purposes of greater evil, by the very success which attends the propagation of the Gospel in these modern times.

Two such counteracting powers—Infidelity and Popery—have long been seen putting forth their baneful energies in Europe. With respect to Infidelity, it has not as yet, in an overt way, in foreign countries thwarted the operations of this Society. But Popery has assumed—and that especially during the past year—an attitude of direct and undisguised hostility to the cause of Protestant Missions.

Your Committee advert to this truly afflicting state of things, as giving an indirect but certain proof, that the labours of this Society were in a course of successful progress. For it is an axiom established by the history of the Gospel, that wherever the soil has been best cultivated, and wherever the hopes of a future harvest are most promising, there the enemy will be the most busy in sowing tares. The very activity of Rome, therefore, now so prominently brought to view before all the world, is an attestation to the progress of the propagation of the pure Gospel.

It is clearly a time, therefore, for this Society to call on all its Members fervently to adhere to those great Christian principles from which the blessing of God may be expected in the proceedings of this Institution. To know nothing but Jesus Christ and Him crucified, has hitherto, the Committee humbly trust, been the rule of the labours of the Society. Is it, they would ask, a time to depart from that principle? Should we not rather implore help from above, that the knowledge and love of the doctrines of grace may be yet more deeply established in the hearts of all who labour in this cause? Should we not especially pray that our Missionaries may be preserved from all false doctrine—that they may, in scenes of danger, be delivered from unreasonable and wicked men—that the Lord would deliver them from every evil work, and cause His Word to have free course, and be glorified, through their labours?

It is a time, moreover, for faithful Christians to lay out their time, their money, and all their talents, more systematically and devotedly, with a simple view to the glory of Christ. The state of the Society's Funds this year constrains the Committee to urge this subject. The alternative, in fact, now lies before our Church—whether she will respond to the cry of millions, who force upon her ears their spiritual wants and their extreme misery; or, whether she will coldly withdraw her hand, and contract her noblest charities?—Can it be, that the Members of a Church blest with so many privileges should repel these millions, saying, Send them away, for this is a desert place? Surely the voice of the Master should rather be heard, saying to us, They need not depart: give ye them to eat. May all the Members of our Communion yield a cheerful obedience to that commanding voice; and may they partake more largely of the grace of Him, who, though He was rich, yet for our sakes became poor, that we through His poverty might be rich!

Most of all, it is a time for exercising faith in our exalted Saviour and King, convinced that He will make all the dispensations of His providence subservient to the establishment of His kingdom of grace in the earth. Your Committee take encouragement from the declaration of Scripture, that all things shall work together for good to them that love God. In the persuasion of this truth, your Committee would claim all the promises of God, which in Christ Jesus are yea, and in Him amen, to the glory of God. They are assured, that He will pour out His Spirit upon all flesh—that when the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him—that all nations shall do Him service—that kings shall be the nursing-fathers, and their queens the nursing-mothers, of the Church of Christ. This confident hope they gladly transmit to their successors of the ensuing year, in the glowing language of the Word of God—So shall they fear the Lord from the West, and His glory from the rising of the sun. For—as Jehovah himself proclaims—from the rising of the sun, even unto the going down of the same, My Name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered, and a pure offering: for My Name shall be great among the Heathen, saith the Lord of Hosts.

(See Page 28.)

STATEMENT ON THE FINANCIAL SITUATION OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

DEEPLY impressed with the serious difficulties of the Society's situation, from the state of its finances, a Special Meeting of the Committee was held at the Church Missionary House, on the 7th May—the Right Hon. Sir G. H. ROSE, M. P. in the Chair—for the purpose of considering the course which, under these circumstances, it behoved the Committee to pursue. After mature deliberation at that Meeting, and at a subsequent one on the 13th inst., the following Statement was adopted, explanatory of the Society's Financial situation, and the measures which the present exigency demands.

STATE OF THE SOCIETY'S FINANCES.

I. The Total Receipts or Income of the Society for the year 1837-38 amounted to .....£ 82,701 11 8
In 1838-39, to..... 71,306 19 8

Being a diminution of £11,394 12 0

It is satisfactory to be enabled to state, that this reduction in the Receipts is not attributable to any falling-off in the Contributions of the Associations.

At first sight, there appears, upon a comparison of the last year with the preceding one, a diminution of Income from this source, of 3348*l.* 8*s.* 1*d.*; but, in point of fact, that apparent defalcation arose from accidental delays in remittances from some of the most considerable Associations, occasioning sums to the amount of upward of 4000*l.* to fall into the account of the year 1839-40.

The real diminution of the Income of the year was under the heads of—

BENEFACTIONS, to the amount of,	5432	18	7
LEGACIES, to the amount of.....	3551	9	5
	8984	8	0
From the deferred Remittances of ASSOCIATIONS, there was an apparent reduction under that head of.....	3348	8	1
Making together	12,332	16	1

This amount was lessened by an increase of the Parliamentary Grant, for the West-Indies' Schools, of 1000 0 0

Leaving a reduction of the Receipts, under those heads, of £11,332 16 1

II. While the Income of last year was thus reduced in comparison of 1837-38, the Expenditure exceeded that of the preceding year to the amount of 4912*l.* 11*s.* 11*d.*

Expenditure 1837-38	86,540	17	2
1838-39	91,453	9	1
INCREASE ....£	4912	11	11

The whole of this increase occurred in the Foreign or Mission Expenditure. The Home Expenditure was below that of the year preceding.

In the West-Africa Mission, an excess was occasioned by the erection of buildings which the Government were pledged to erect and maintain; but which the Society have been compelled to provide.

In the New-Zealand Mission, an increased expenditure was occasioned by the destruction of Buildings and property during the recent wars in that country.

But the increase in the West-Indies'

Mission alone, amounting to 4949*l.* 16*s.* 6*d.* will account for the excess shown above. This increased expenditure has been occasioned by the great cost of School-houses, to which the Society was pledged by its engagements with Government, and other buildings; and by the general enlargement of the Society's Establishments, to meet, as far as possible, the crisis of the change in the state of the Negro Population. Since the commencement of the measures for emancipating the Slaves, Forty Missionaries and Catechists, including females, have been sent out to the different Stations of the Society in the West Indies; and the expense of this Mission has advanced from 905*l.* 14*s.* 10*d.*, which was the amount in 1833-34, to the sum of 19,193*l.* 19*s.* 1*d.*, which was the expense of last year.

III. The financial situation of the Society, as ascertained at the close of the year 1838-39, and thus summarily explained, is as follows :—

	£	s.	d.
Amount of the Income	71,306	19	8
..... of the Expenditure ...	91,453	9	1
Producing a Deficiency of	20,146	9	5
Allowing for the deferred Remittances from certain Associations, subsequent to the 31st March, as stated above, and reckoned at	4000	0	0
the actual Deficiency of the year may be computed at...	£16,146	9	5

IV. This sum was supplied from the sale of the Funded Property of the Society; which at the beginning of last year amounted to about 25,000*l.*, and is at this time under 10,000*l.*

V. It will be apparent, that for operations upon a scale of expenditure extending from 85,000*l.* to 90,000*l.* a year, there ought to be a capital to meet casual defalcations in the yearly receipts, much beyond its present reduced amount. Without such a resource, a deficiency in the receipts of this year, at all approaching to that of the past year, would, in fact, produce a state of insolvency.

The Committee of the Society, however, entertain no apprehension of such an event. The cause of Missions is the cause of God. And while it becomes the Committee, in the humbling consciousness of infirmity and imperfection inseparable from their measures, to regard the state of the Society's affairs as a trial of faith—as a solemn call to review their proceedings, and consider what it behoves them to do—they would encourage themselves, and the members of the Society at large, in the Lord; while they apply themselves to devise—in dependence on His gracious aid—the fittest means of meeting and overcoming the present exigency.

There are two points which the occasion requires that the Committee should advert to, in this place:—

1. As regards the aspect of the Missions of the Society, it may be truly said of them, in general, that they were never in a more encouraging state. If painful trials have befallen some, as in the instance of the Zoolu and Abyssinian Missions, in both cases, noble examples of fortitude—instructive patterns of suffering—holy devotedness to their high calling—and readiness to resume their perilous labours—have been afforded by our beloved Missionaries, worthy of the best days of the Gospel, and eminently indicating the Divine favour and acceptance of their work, for the edification of the Church; though the direct object of those Missions has been for awhile frustrated, through the machinations of evil men.

On the other hand, the most urgent appeals are before the Committee, to strengthen the existing Missions in every quarter. Some Stations have been painfully, but unavoidably, left destitute; or have been altogether inadequately supported, from the pressure of other claims, and the insufficiency of the resources at the disposal of the Committee. It may be especially remarked, that never were there more promising openings presented for the extension of the Society's labours in India, Ceylon, and West Africa.—The following extract of a Letter from the Rev. John Tucker, dated Madras, Dec. 22, 1838, illustrates this remark :—

The Parent Committee will, I trust, perceive that the great increase in our Estimated Expenditure is not owing to any want of foresight or prudence on our part, or a disposition rashly to engage in any new schemes. The necessity for immediately commencing the rebuilding of the College at Cottayam arose, in the providence of God, out of the circumstances in which we were placed at that particular period; nor can we persuade ourselves that the Parent Committee could have approved of our pursuing a less liberal course toward Mr. Schaffter and his Catechists [on Mr. S.'s rejoining the Society's Missions in Tinnevelly.] The Institution also [at Madras, for training Native Teachers] could have been no longer delayed.

We shall make every effort to make known our wants; ..... and we may trust in Him, whose are not only the silver and gold, but the hearts also of men, to spare us from the painful necessity of retiring from the ground we occupy.

2. As regards the system of the Society's Expenditure—besides the continual review of it maintained in the several Missions, and regularly reported to them—the Parent Committee have lately been engaged in a revision of the Society's Expenditure, extended to its minutest details; the result of which is, that, with the exception of some comparatively small matters, no reduction can be effected in the scale of the Expenditure, except by a contraction of the Missions.

A measure of this nature the Committee cannot contemplate, but as a last and most afflicting resort. They therefore submit to the Friends of the Missionary Cause associated with the Society, the following measures, prompted by the urgency of its present position, in the humble but confident persuasion, that they will respond to the call; and that results will ensue, under the Divine blessing, adequate to the greatness of the occasion which dictates the appeal.

(1) That the members of the Society be invited to make its present circumstances a subject of special prayer—that it would please the God of all grace bountifully to bestow upon it the means of carrying forward the great work in which it is engaged; and that He would more abundantly dispense, by its Missionaries, spiritual blessings to those among whom they labour.

(2) That, to afford solid support for carrying on the Society's operations, those members, whose circumstances admit of their raising their annual contributions, be respectfully solicited to do so. The Missionary field is the World; and individual as well as collective efforts, to compass the vast object, should be commensurate.

(3) That the members be urged to exert themselves to obtain additional Subscribers, from among persons of their own class.

(4) That extraordinary contributions, to meet the actual exigency in the Society's resources, be received from friends possessing the ability and disposed to afford such aid in the present emergency.

(5) That in places where Sermons for the Society have not been hitherto preached, Clergymen, friendly to its objects, be respectfully requested to allow an Annual Sermon in their respective Churches in behalf of the Society.

(6) That it be recommended to the Committee of each Association to hold a Special Meeting, for the purpose of considering this statement, and severally take such steps as may be most suitable to their local circumstances, for giving effect to this appeal.

The Committee having thus laid the financial situation of the Society before the Associations and Members, would, in conclusion, renew their expressions of confident assurance, that the work in which they are engaged, being a work of faith, will not fail. The very success which has attended the past labours of the Society may be regarded as an earnest of future, and yet greater, blessings from on High. But to obtain the glorious end in view, proportionable exertions and sacrifices must be made, by all those who have at heart the extension of Christ's kingdom. The Committee trust, that, by a general and simultaneous effort, their Friends will show that they participate in this feeling. May it please God so effectually to stir up the hearts of His faithful people on this trying occasion, that the plans of the Society may be yet more and more enlarged; and that, from every part of the earth, thanksgivings on this behalf may ascend to our exalted Redeemer, Christ Jesus the Lord!

REMARKS ON THE CONSTITUTION AND PRACTICE OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY, WITH REFERENCE TO ITS ECCLESIASTICAL RELATIONS.

It is the object of the following Remarks, to show that the constitution and practice of the Church Missionary Society are in strict conformity with Ecclesiastical principles, as they are recognised in the constitution and practice of the Church of England.

Throughout the system of the Church of England there is a recognised co-operation of temporal and spiritual functions in matters Ecclesiastical; that is, the Laity and Clergy have not only their separate and distinct provinces, but, in many important respects, they unite their agency for the accomplishing of Ecclesiastical acts.

For instance, in supplying a vacant church, a lay-Patron selects and presents "his Clerk" (as the Clergyman is technically called) to the Bishop; who thereupon invests him with authority to minister in that Church. So, also, there are certain Lay-officers appointed to every church (the Churchwardens or Sidesmen), whose duty it is, not only to guard, in conjunction with the Minister, the temporalities of the Church, but also to watch over the due performance of Divine Service, the morals of the parishioners, and the conduct of the Minister; and to report, from time to time, on each of these matters, to the Ecclesiastical Authorities. The duty of these officers is implied in the old appellation, "Sidesmen," or "Synodsmen"—men summoned to attend and give information at Synods and Visitations.

The distinction and co-operation of lay and spiritual functions in the Church of England might be further illustrated in the case of Ecclesiastical Courts, and various relations which arise out of the principle that the Sovereign is the Supreme Ruler of the Church.

Keeping the foregoing distinction in view, the Church Missionary Society may be regarded as an Institution for discharging the temporal and lay offices necessary for the preaching of the Gospel among the Heathen. It is strictly a Lay Institution: it exercises, as a Society, no spiritual functions whatsoever.

Such being the constitution of the Society in theory—are its proceedings conducted in conformity with this theory, and with the Ecclesiastical principles of the Church of England?

In order to review these proceedings, they may be conveniently arranged under the Four following Heads:—

I. The Collection of the Home Revenue, and the Disbursement of it abroad.

These acts are altogether within the province of Laymen.

II. The Selecting and Educating Candidates for Missionary Employment.

In this department there is no necessary encroachment upon spiritual functions. The Colleges in our Universities are Lay-Corporations, and may, in many cases, be administered and presided over by Laymen.

Yet it may be urged, that in this department there is an approach to the peculiar province of Clergymen; because, spiritual persons seem the more proper judges of a Candidate's fitness for Missionary employment: and it is generally admitted, that a Bishop may exercise a control over the education and training of Candidates to be advanced by himself to Holy Orders. Now, in both these particulars the Church Missionary Society has carefully guarded its proceedings. The examination of Missionary Candidates is referred to a Clerical Sub-Committee; and the General Committee consult and act upon the report of this Clerical trial and judgment. In respect of the other point, the education and training of Candidates for Holy Orders, the Church Missionary College at Islington has the sanction and approbation of the Bishop of London; who, in this country, admits to Holy Orders all the Society's Candidates: and his Lordship has repeatedly expressed his satisfaction at the results of the system of instruction, as they have been manifested in his examinations for Holy Orders.

III. The Third general head of the Society's proceedings is, THE SENDING FORTH, TO PARTICULAR STATIONS, THE MISSIONARIES THUS ORDAINED, OR OTHER CLERGYMEN WHO HAVE BEEN PREVIOUSLY ORDAINED.

Now, here an objection against the Society has been founded on the use of the term "sending forth:"—it sounds like an exercise of Ecclesiastical power. But, Ecclesiastically speaking, the Bishop of London 'sends forth' every Missionary ordained by him. The Law of the land has sanctioned the Two Archbishops, and the Bishop of London, in ordaining persons to officiate abroad. The Secretary of the Church Missionary Society requests, by Letter, the Bishop of London to ordain, in conformity with the provisions of the Act of Parliament, such and such persons, whom the Society is willing to support in some Foreign Station. The Bishop, by the imposition of hands, gives them authority to preach the Gospel, with a view to their foreign location.—In the case of persons already in Holy Orders, who may join the Society, they may be said to go forth by their own voluntary act; but their Letters of Orders, given by a Bishop of our Church, are their mission and commission, Ecclesiastically speaking.

Hence, to call the acts of the Church Missionary Society—in selecting the station, paying the passage-money, and agreeing to provide the Missionary's salary—to call these acts a sending forth of Preachers, in an Ecclesiastical sense, is to confound names with things, and to lose sight of all true Church principles.

IV. The Fourth general head under which the proceedings of the Church Missionary Society may be arranged, is, THE SUPERINTENDENCE OF MISSIONARIES IN THEIR LABOURS AMONG THE HEATHEN.

Here a distinction must be made between the case of those Foreign stations which lie within the jurisdiction of a Colonial Bishop, and other stations, which are not so situated, and may therefore be termed Extra-diocesan.

In the first case, the Church Missionary Society has expressly determined, that all its ordained Missionaries shall be submitted for licence to the Bishop of the diocese in which they may be stationed; and that no Missionary shall exercise his spiritual functions in such diocese without a licence. The Society has further recognised the uncontrolled discretion of the Bishop to grant or withhold his licence, and the propriety of specifying in such licence a particular district as the field of labour; so that a Missionary cannot be removed from one district to another without the sanction of the Bishop.

These principles were stated in a Letter from the Society to the Bishop of Calcutta, signed by the Right Honourable the President (December 17, 1835), in a manner so satisfactory to the Bishop, that he embodied them in the four following Rules, expressed for the most part in the words of the Society's Letter: which were, at the Bishop's request, entered upon the Minutes of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, as the recognised Rules of their practice:—

"1. The Bishop expresses—by granting or withholding his licence, in which the sphere of the Missionary's labour is mentioned—his approbation, or otherwise, of that location.

"2. The Bishop superintends the Missionaries afterward, as the other Clergy, in the discharge of their Ecclesiastical duties.

"3. The Bishop receives from those (the Committee and Secretary) who still stand in the relation of Lay-Patrons to the Missionary, such communications respecting his Ecclesiastical duties as may enable the Bishop to discharge that paternal superintendence to the best advantage.—The Archdeacon of Calcutta or Bombay acting under the Bishop's immediate directions, when he happens to be absent.

"4. If the Bishop * or Archdeacon fills, at the request of the Society, the offices of Patron, President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, &c., he receives, further, all such confidential information, on all topics, as the Bishops officially neither could wish nor properly ask (to receive)."

The Bishop also wrote to the Parent Society in the following terms:—"You seem to me to lay down the principle

* The Three Bishops of India, and the Bishop of Australia, are the Presidents of the Corresponding Committees in their respective dioceses.

"most correctly. . . .This is to me perfectly satisfactory; as I shall instantly "inform the Archbishop of Canterbury, "to whom I report all the proceedings "of the diocese."—(9th June, 1836.)

It will be perceived, that the Missionaries, thus licensed, stand toward the Bishop in the relation rather of Stipendiary Curates, than of Beneficed Clergymen. For a Bishop in England cannot refuse a licence or institution to a benefice, without assigning a reason which will bear investigation before a Court of Common Law; nor can he deprive a Clergyman of his benefice without a judicial process. But no law has provided any such check in the case of Missionaries: the Bishop has the power of withholding a licence, or of withdrawing it, at his sole discretion, without assigning any cause, as in the case of Stipendiary Curates in this country.

If it be asked, What are the checks and safeguards against the undue exercise of this discretionary power of the Bishop?—it may be replied, in the words of the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Parent Society, April 12, 1837:—

"We are not to take for granted that "discretionary power will be abused; "but, on the contrary, to provide, by a "cheerful and friendly spirit and conduct, against the likelihood of such an "occurrence. If the event of arbitrary "conduct should arise, or be supposed "to arise, the remedies are—public "opinion—an appeal to the Archbishop "—and the Society's refusing to make "other appointments and locations than "those unreasonably objected to. No"thing is the least likely (and probabi"lity is the guide of life) to arise to impede or cramp the Committee, since "they unquestionably and avowedly "possess, The choice of men — The "appointment of spheres of labour— "The temporal power, including pe"cuniary support."

But though the Bishop's licence is at once the pledge and proof that the Society's Missionaries are under Episcopal superintendence and jurisdiction, and that the spiritual oversight rests altogether with the Bishop; yet the Society may seem, to some persons, to keep up a kind of spiritual jurisdiction and oversight, by requiring accounts from the Missionaries of all their proceedings, and by giving them directions, from time to time, which may bear upon their spiritual duties. But it must be remembered, that the Society stands toward its Missionaries in the relation of Trustees of the fund out of which their salaries are paid. In the case of a beneficed Clergyman in this country, the Minister is the guardian and possessor of the temporalities of the benefice, because the benefice is an endowment; and the Patron has no further connexion with the Minister whom he has once presented to the Bishop. In our case, the office of Patron is in a sense perpetuated by the payment of the salary, and the possession of all the temporalities of the Mission.

This matter has been well explained by the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, May 26, 1837:—"The Mis"sionary Committees (says his Lordship) "have a far greater latitude in India "than any Lay-Patrons at home. Upon "presenting his Clerk to the Bishop, "the Patron at home is functus officio. "The Clergyman is removed, on being "once instituted and licensed, totally "and for ever from the Patron, and is "transferred to the superintendency of "the Bishop. The Patron has nothing "whatever more to do with him. But "in India, the Committee is (1) the "continued paymaster of the Missio"nary, after he is duly licensed;—for "institution and induction there are "none. (2) They correspond with him. "(3) They supply him with Catechists. "(4) They report his chief proceedings "home. (5) They propose removals "and changes of station to the Bishop. "(6) They exercise, unavoidably, an "influence which does not belong to the "mere Lay-Patron; and are aiding, in "a variety of ways, to the comfortable "and honourable discharge of the "Missionary's most exalted and most "spiritual duties."

It remains to consider the case of those stations which are Extra-diocesan; i. e. where there is no Colonial Bishop of the Church of England having jurisdiction over them.

In these cases, the Society has endeavoured to procure for such stations the benefits of the Episcopal office from the nearest Bishop of the Church of England. Application was made by the Committee both to the late and to the present Bishop of Madras, to extend, as far as circumstances would admit, these benefits to the Mission in Travancore; which, as an independent state, not forming a part of the British Dominions, was not included in the diocese of Madras. A similar application was made on behalf of the New-Zealand Mission, to the Bishop of Australia; who at once acceded to the request, and kindly promised to visit New Zealand as soon as his other duties would permit; stating, in a Letter to the Society's representatives at Sydney, "It is highly "satisfactory to me, that our friends at "home are taking a view of these things, "which proves them to belong, not "only to a Missionary, but also to a "Church Society." (See Annual Report, 1838.)

Such is a General View of the Constitution and Proceedings of the Church Missionary Society.

It is not intended to assert, that errors are not sometimes committed in the application of these principles to matters of detail. It must be remembered, that Missionary operations are, alas! new and anomalous in the system of the Church of England; and that it is not always easy to draw a definite line between the two provinces which belong respectively to the Bishop and the Committee. It has been observed by the Bishop of Calcutta (Letter, May 26, 1837): "The boundaries of the power "of Committees, as they approach to "those of the Bishop, can be ascer-"tained, in many points, only by time "and observation." Perplexities have consequently occurred; and, unhappily, misunderstandings have sometimes arisen between the Representatives of the Society abroad and Ecclesiastical Authorities. But these are the principles by which the Home Committee have endeavoured to guide the proceedings of the Society: and they confidently respond to a sentiment expressed by the Bishop of Calcutta—"The principles of "our new relations are now fully re-"cognised: the details will soon find "their level." — (Letter, 9th June, 1836.)

In reviewing the Ecclesiastical relations of the Church Missionary Society, there are two or three points which it seems very important to notice.

1. Missionary operations, as they are conducted by the Church Missionary Society, though apparently anomalous in the system of the Church of England, are yet in strict conformity with its constitution and principles: they are analogous to many other instances of voluntary exertion for the extension of true religion within the Church, in which Ecclesiastical authority and Lay co-operation unite for the accomplishment of the same end: so that these operations may be regarded as the acts of the Church of England, putting forth its energy for the Conversion of the Heathen World. For it has been shown, that the Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth our Missionaries—that these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same colony. The Services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and discipline of the Church. Even in the few cases in which Lutheran Clergymen are employed, this rule is observed; and all the congregations which are gathered into the fold of Christ are trained up as Members of the Church established in this land.

And here it may be observed, that nothing less than the sanction of a duly-assembled Convocation can more fully identify the acts of any Missionary Society, within the Church of England, with the Church.* Without such sanction, all associations of Churchmen must stand in the same position. Still further, not to notice the present abeyance of Convocations, it may be asserted, that even if the Church were to assemble in her provincial Convocations, and to decree and to regulate Missionary operations, such proceedings could not essentially add to, or alter, those important particulars which, under present circumstances, entitle the operations of the Church Missionary Society to be regarded as Missionary operations of the United Church of England and Ireland.

2. It must be ever borne in mind, that Missionary operations are, in their very nature, temporary and preparative;—that they are to be gradually but eventually superseded by a different order of things, when the Heathen Nations shall have become Christianized. In some cases, as in the West Indies, this change is further advanced than in others. Now, it must be expected, that, in proportion as this change advances, difficulties and perplexities will arise in our Ecclesiastical relations, peculiar to this transition state — from Missionary operations, to that happy consummation when there shall be an endowed and established system of Christian Instruction, and a territorial division of Ministerial labour. This consummation the Church Missionary Society has ever kept in view, and devoutly desired; and, as far as possible, has prepared for its approach.—In an interview with the Bishop of Barbadoes (April 1835), this point was expressly alluded to; and it was stated by the Committee to his Lordship, "that whenever a district should be brought into the state of an organized Christian community, it should assume entirely the Parochial form, and cease to be occupied as a Missionary Station.—The Bishop entirely acquiesced in this view; and only expressed his anxiety that it should not be so acted upon as prematurely to deprive a district of the Missionary's services." (Extract from Committee's Minute.)

3. Lastly, it must be evident, from a review of the whole subject, that our Ecclesiastical relations depend, in many important respects, upon a mutual confidence and good understanding between the Committee and its representatives, and the Ecclesiastical Authorities both at home and abroad. This must be the case, to argue upon no higher grounds, while those relations are governed by Ecclesiastical laws and canons made without reference to Missionary operations, for an Established Church in a Christian country; and where so much is also necessarily left to the discretion of both parties. If we look to our Home operations, the Committee places confidence in the Bishop of London, that he will continue to ordain the Missionary Candidates introduced to his Lordship by the Society according to the provisions of the Act: and the Lord Bishop of London relies upon the Committee's using every means to select, train, and duly qualify proper candidates to be thus introduced to him.

So also, in its Foreign operations, the Society places confidence in the Colonial Bishops (as it has been already shown, in a quotation from the Letter of Bishop Wilson), that they will not exercise an unreasonable or arbitrary discretion, in withholding or withdrawing licences from our Missionaries, or in refusing ordination to our Candidates. And the Bishops, by granting licences and ordination to the Missionaries of a voluntary Society, whose income is liable to fluctuations, and whose agents are constantly changing, manifestly place confidence in the Committees, that they will use every endeavour to keep up the Missions once established; and that they will not, on their part, act in an unreasonable or arbitrary manner, or withdraw the salary from a licensed Missionary, without reason sufficient to prove to the licensing Bishop the necessity of the proceeding.

It seems impossible to supersede this Conventional understanding (as it may be termed), till Missions are supported by endowments, or till a code of Missionary canons be established by competent authority.

This mutual confidence and good understanding now exists, it may be thankfully asserted, between the Committee of the Society and the Ecclesiastical Authorities of every Colonial Diocese in which Missionaries are labouring. And may He, who is the God, "not of confusion, but of peace," and "the great Shepherd and Bishop of Souls," unite together the hearts and hands of those who are labouring in this Holy Cause — "that all and every of these may, in their several callings, serve truly and painfully, to the glory of His Name!"

MR. G. T. LAY TO THE SECRETARIES.

DEAR BRETHREN,

I am not going to occupy you at any length; but feel it my duty to call your attention to a few facts, which are the subject of every day's observation, and such as may be verified by any person who will take the trouble to look abroad here, and reflect on what he sees.

In the first place, we can reside at Canton and at Macao, upon the borders of China, without any personal risk whatsoever; and converse with, and visit, as many Chinese at their own homes as we please. At a rough guess, we may say that there is half-a-million to whom we may have access; and, besides that, persons from every part of the empire, who always show the greatest complacency when they meet with a foreigner who can address them in their own dialect. Our welcome among the Chinese is in the compound ratio of our acquaintance with the language, the gentleness of our demeanour, and the frequency of our visits. There are certain limits which we cannot pass at present; but there is a wide field for doing something within those limits. May God Almighty stir up the hearts of my countrymen to occupy what we have, instead of seeking for what we have not! Every nook and corner swarm with inhabitants, who listen to the accents of their mother tongue, when they drop from the lips of a foreigner, with admiration, and catch the drift of his meaning with marks of the liveliest interest. Now, will the Christian Public allow itself to be tossed to and fro with the alternation of "China open," "China not open," instead of taking advantage of what lies at our very thresholds? Here we can talk with the Natives at their homes, and are treated with every becoming act of courtesy. We may see them at our dwellings, and make them proud of our hospitality: we may inquire about their arts and usages, and descant upon the advantages of our own, with mutual delight and instruction. Surely I am not mistaken, when I say that these things are an earnest of something better: for the longer our books are distributed, the more acceptance they find; the more they see of our conduct, the more kindness and esteem they evince for our persons and character. I have been in the country a little more than a year; but what a change do I find in my reception among the people! a change so delightful, that I never think of it without feeling the keenest sentiments of joy and thankfulness. I am most anxious that others should share with me in these sentiments, that something may be attempted with the patience and well-concerted effort of a permanent system.

When it shall be known in the empire that there is an order of men who are harmless, learned, devoid of selfish projects, and kind-hearted, with a graciousness of manner, this single fact will do more toward throwing open the doors that are now shut, than any other means or second cause that can be imagined. A Chinese is reared and nursed up with such a veneration for moral excellence, that, whatever may be the propensities of his own evil heart, he cannot resist the force of it. He will brave an antagonist with threats and the flourish of hard words, or ensnare him with the wiles of a cautious policy; but a display of the self-denying meekness of the Gospel lays him flat. He remembers that the sages have set their stamp upon something like this; and feels the greater awe for it, because he is conscious that the semblance only, and not the substance, is found in himself.

In the refinements of social and polished life, no nation surpasses the Chinese; which renders them susceptible, in the highest degree, of any kind impression. A word uttered in the tone of civility is not thrown away upon either high or low; and such is their sagacity in translating the human countenance, that they seem to understand the feelings of a stranger at the first glance. I have been in large assemblies, where every eye was directed toward me, beaming with admiration. I felt a love toward them, which they could read; and they paid me back my own with increase. To feel a complacency in them, and to mingle it with a little esteem and love, constitute the secret of managing a Chinese, be his character and situation what they may. He has too much respect for himself to sit at our feet and learn; but when placed upon the same level, his respect is just in proportion to our kindness. When I began to distribute the Scriptures, I found it a very dull business; but interest is kindling here and there, for I give my heart with the books: it is becoming fashionable to read them; and I am asked, where I least expected to find any such desire. All this is the result of cultivation: and I am persuaded, that if we would obtain any reward of this sort, we must be at the pains to earn it. To issue books by wholesale, and to run up an arithmetic of thousands and tens of thousands, may seem a great matter in England; but it is an infinitesimal quantity in China, for it leaves no traces behind it. Methods must be adopted to recommend the books; and there are none more efficient than the ordinary motives of friendship. If the books are read, then there is room to hope that some light may be poured into the mind —some new spirit of inquiry awakened; but if they be laid upon the shelf, our expectations are at a stand. The Chinese regard us as a gain-seeking people, with little or no moral sense, and very few of the civilities of life about us;—an opinion too well founded in past experience, and still countenancrd by that infernal engine of cruelty and mischief, the opium traffic. It is difficult to convince a Chinaman that we have any thing like education at home — any schools, or colleges, or institutes for learned men. This has grown partly out of his ignorance, and partly from observing that we treat his arts, refinements, and opinions, with silent disdain, or the sneer of contempt. He imputes this to a want of taste, which he knows to be the fruit of culture and training; and therefore infers that we have nothing of the kind. It is high time that we should have a better savour among them—that our books and our instructions may have a seal of grace and acceptance upon them. Now, a good report must be sought for here, in the same way as it is in our own country; namely, by wisdom, patience, and goodwill toward all. He that will take this method to win a fair name in China will find the pursuit a delightful business, and the first step and preliminary toward the attainment of a higher end—the bringing of this people from the worship of many deities to the service of one true Jehovah, and from the vain dream of a thousand intercessors to the knowledge of one Mediator between God and man, the man Christ Jesus.

If we take a collective view of the Missionary Field, we shall perceive, that, upon the average, there is a sort of counterpoise between advantage and disadvantage in different countries. In China, we have one great disadvantage, as we cannot sojourn nor travel wherever we please, which would be such happy and concise methods of making the people acquainted with us, and ourselves with them. But we have many advantages. In no country is education more valued, learning more esteemed, or moral excellence more admired. In the virtues of industry and economy they are not surpassed by the best of us. In a sacred regard for marriage, with all the ties and charities that flow out of it, in their views of the reciprocal duties of parent and offspring, and the obligations of private friendship, they seem to leave us a great way behind. What has been so often said about the degraded state of females is full of scandal and absurdity, and is refuted by every thing we see.

In their superstitions there is no bloody rite, no savage custom. A Chinese thinks a God to be altogether such a one as himself—to be gratified with sweet odours, charmed with music, or allured by the splendour of shows and entertainments. His rites are often costly, but never cruel—often childish, but never unseemly. In funeral obsequies, and in the stated acts of respect that are paid to the dead, we find two or three admissions of no small importance —the existence of the soul in a separate state; its liability to pain or pleasure; and the efficacy of some mediator in bringing the soul to sojourn with good beings in the happier regions above.

In these, and a multitude of other instances, the Christian Missionary might find means and instruments to bring the truths of Revelation home to the understandings and hearts of the Chinese. All their usages, both civil and religious, deserve to be studied afresh, with kindlier feelings, and with a discreet reference to the precise work we have to accomplish among them. Their literature presents a fine scope for antiquarian research, as a recompence by the way for all who will take the trouble to follow the study with an enlightened curiosity. Their written language may be reduced to principles analogous to those upon which all other languages are constructed, and so made an easy and delightful study: the difficulties lie wholly in the mode of treating it, and may all be obviated by a rational system, with a beautiful harvest of philosophical, historical, and moral truths. This, if life and health last, I will prove in a most complete manner, by systematizing the language, and by adding many new and interesting details.

In all I have to say, either in private or public, or to write about China, my aim, in the first instance, is to show, that the Chinese are men and women like ourselves; that the human mind and the human heart take a similar course, in all similar situations; and that the difference between us and them consists in this—that they have retained all the customs of their forefathers, whereas we have forgotten ours, through the successive displacement of fresh discoveries. I do this, that I may dispel, in some measure, the mist through which it has been customary to look at every thing that is Chinese. This medium, so full of distorted imagery, puzzles the mind, damps the heart, and frightens away all the hopes of the Christian Philanthropist. It is time to seek for a better atmosphere, to restore the sobriety of reason, and set up common sense in her usual place: for, till this is the case, great things will be said, but very small matters executed.

Before us, my honoured friends, we have ample materials for making a noble commencement: around us, on every side, we have God's assurance, that to Him every knee shall bow, every tongue confess. I ask, with submission, whether we shall set-to with what we have, or wait till we see more? I am shortly to return home; but I leave China with the full persuasion, that all our present disadvantages, if assailed by the principles and practices of the Gospel, will soon give way and fall before the Missionary. They are built upon a total misconception of our character as Christians; and must, therefore, come to the ground, when that misconception is taken away.

I remain, &c.

APPENDIX IV.

(See Page 98.)

To the Honourable the COMMONS of the UNITED KINGDOM of Great Britain and Ireland, in Parliament assembled:

The Humble PETITION of the COMMITTEE of the CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY for AFRICA and the EAST—

Sheweth—

That your Petitioners are Members of the Church of England, engaged in forming and carrying on Missions to the Heathen, according to the Doctrines, Government, and Discipline of that Church.

That in the year 1814, your Petitioners commenced a Mission to the Natives of the Northern Island of New Zealand; the object of which was, under the Divine Blessing, their Conversion to Christianity, and their participation, thereby, in Eternal Salvation, and the temporal benefits and comforts which the civilizing influence of the Gospel imparts.

That, at the period when the formation of this Mission was first contemplated, such was the barbarous state of the Natives, and so powerful was the impression of the danger of intercourse with them, that the Rev. Samuel Marsden, then and now Senior Chaplain of New South-Wales, and the Correspondent and Agent of the Church Missionary Society in prosecuting its designs in that part of the world, found that no Master of a vessel would venture to New Zealand, for fear of his ship and crew being cut off by the Natives.

That since the formation of the Mission in 1814, your Petitioners have steadily prosecuted it; gradually enlarging their operations, until it at present consists of four Ordained Missionaries, Clergymen of the Church of England, one Surgeon, one Farmer, one Printer, and twenty-five Catechists and Artisans; — that its Schools contain about 1500 Scholars;—that its Congregations comprise 2500 persons, of whom 180 are Communicants;—that the Lord's Day is not only religiously observed at the Mission Stations, but, by many of the Natives, far beyond their limits;—that, from materials supplied by the Missionaries of the Society, the Language of New Zealand was fixed, in a Grammar prepared by the Rev. Samuel Lee, Professor of Hebrew in the University of Cambridge, in 1820;—that portions of the Old Testament, and the whole of the New Testament, have been translated into the Native Language; — that a Printing Press has been established in the Mission, at which the Scriptures translated, the Liturgy of the Church of England, the Catechism, and other Religious and Educational Books, have been printed; copies of which are eagerly sought and highly prized by the Natives;—that a Farming Establishment has been formed, intended to provide supplies for the Mission, and at the same time stimulate and encourage the Natives to engage in Agriculture; and which has been attended with considerable success, in both these respects; —that a Water Mill, for grinding Corn, has been erected; and a Thrashing Machine sent out, which is now worked on the Farm;—that, through the means of the Missionaries, cattle, sheep, and horses have been introduced into New Zealand, and also the most useful European fruits, seeds, and plants; whereby the production of good and wholesome food is increased; and the depopulating tendency of a scarcity of such food, to which the Natives were previously exposed, and from which they frequently suffered severely, is counteracted;—that beside the Schools at the Mission Stations, other Schools are established, and Religious Instruction is given at places distant from the Mission Stations, by Natives who had themselves received instruction from the Missionaries; — that the influence of the Missionaries has repeatedly been successfully employed in preventing and in terminating wars between the different Tribes;—that, in the wars which lately prevailed in the Islands, that in the Northern part, where Missionaries have long been labouring, was of a mitigated character, and of short continuance, compared with that in the Southern part, where Missionaries have only recently been established;—that the entire result of the labours of the Missionaries has been, under the Blessing of Almighty God, to diffuse, to a considerable extent, the influence of Christianity, and the advantages of Civilization, among the Natives of New Zealand;—and that, by the well-directed and unimpeded application of the same means, especially if aided by the judicious exercise of the fostering influence and friendly offices of Her Majesty's Government, your Petitioners are persuaded that, at no distant period, the Chiefs and their people may be reasonably expected to assume the form of settled and well-regulated communities, enjoying at once the blessings of true Religion, and of a suitably-adapted civil polity, government, order, and the multiplied benefits which flow from these beneficent institutions.

That, under these circumstances, it is with anxiety and alarm that your Petitioners have learned that a Bill has been introduced into your Honourable House, intituled, "A Bill for the Provisional Government of British Settlements in the Islands of New Zealand:" it appearing, from the preamble and provisions of the Bill, that it is intended thereby to acquire the cession to Her Majesty of certain parts of the Islands of New Zealand, for the purpose of founding and maintaining Settlements thereon of Colonists, Her Majesty's subjects.

That, adverting to the disastrous consequences to the Aborigines of uncivilized countries, in their rights, their persons, their property, and moral condition, which have uniformly followed European Colonization in every country wherein it has been carried on—in attestation of which deplorable fact, your Petitioners appeal to the Evidence delivered before the Aborigines' Committee of your Honourable House in 1836 and 1837—your Petitioners most earnestly deprecate the establishment of British Settlements in New Zealand, for the purposes of Colonization, in the manner proposed by the Bill in question.

That, fraught with evils to the Aborigines of uncivilized countries, as European Colonization has been proved, by unvarying experience, to be, your Petitioners greatly fear that its injurious tendency could not be effectually controlled by the appointment of a Board of Commissioners resident in this country, for the administration of the powers to be conferred by the Bill: and the apprehensions of your Petitioners on this head are confirmed by the recollection, that this principle of government, which was adopted in the first Virginia Charter, 1606, was found inoperative to protect from wrong the Aborigines of that country.

That, while your Petitioners remark with satisfaction that the New-Zealand Bill contemplates, in its preamble, the instruction of the Natives in the knowledge of Religion, and the diffusion among them of the blessings of Christianity, under the favour of Divine Providence, as objects to be aimed at in the proposed colonization of that country;—yet, when your Petitioners call to mind the fact, that many of the Charters for the Colonization of North America professed in like manner to embrace the propagation of Christianity among the Natives as part of their plan, and that, in some of those Charters, the "winning and inviting the Natives of the country to the knowledge and obedience of the only true God and Saviour of Mankind and the Christian Faith" was asserted to be "the only and principal end" of the undertaking; and that, notwithstanding, the result of these schemes of Colonization was, to deprive the Natives of their lands, to demoralize their condition, and well nigh to depopulate the country—they cannot anticipate any other than like consequences in the case of New Zealand.

That, with regard to the alleged ground for Colonization of the Islands of New Zealand, as proposed by the Bill, that the Natives have been "grievously injured" by Runaway Convicts, and other British subjects of abandoned character resident in the Islands, your Petitioners admit and deplore the existence of this evil; though they have reason to believe that its extent has been exaggerated, and are most solicitous that it should be corrected;—but that they most respectfully submit to your Honourable House, that it is the province of Her Majesty's Government to devise and apply a remedy, which shall be just in its principle, and consistent with the rights and liberties of New Zealand as an Independent State.

That this course is the more obligatory on Her Majesty's Government, because the recognition of such independence has been clearly made by the Crown, through an accredited Agent instructed to treat with the Chiefs of New Zealand, and to promise them the protection of Great Britain against the outrages of her own lawless subjects.

That, on examining the provisions of the New-Zealand Bill, your Petitioners are constrained to regard many of them as injurious equally to the Natives and to the Mission of the Church Missionary Society.

That the arrangements, under which it is proposed to acquire the cession to Her Majesty of sovereign rights, territories, lands, or hereditaments within the Islands of New Zealand, and also power for the Courts, in the proposed Settlements, to exercise a criminal jurisdiction over territories the sovereignty whereof may not be ceded to Her Majesty, would be essentially unjust; the uncivilized state of the Natives rendering them unavoidably ignorant of the full effect of such bargains.

That as the objects and interests of the Colonists would naturally lead to their location on the coasts of the Islands, the Natives, by parting with their lands in that situation, would, in the event, find themselves shut out from the free access which they now enjoy to the sea, for purposes of fishing and for commerce; for both which objects they now resort to it, from the interior.

That the selection of those parts of the Islands best adapted for commercial purposes would necessarily involve interference with the operations of the Society's Mission; the Missionaries being stationed on or in the vicinity of some of the principal waters, as the most advantageous situations for free intercourse with Natives.

That the Missionaries now prosecute their labour among the Natives, trusting to the protection of Divine Providence, and exhibiting that trust in the whole of their intercourse with the Natives; and, in pursuing this course, have acquired their confidence, and have been blessed with remarkable success in their labours;—but that their position will be wholly changed by the operation of the measure proposed in the Bill;—and that, surrounded as they will then be by the Military and Civil Power to be created in the intended British Settlements, they will, where those Settlements are formed in districts now occupied by the Missionaries, both be, and appear to the Natives, in a new and different relation; and the success of their Missionary labours will be thereby materially impeded.

That your Petitioners further regard the following provision of the Bill—"No title or claim of any person or persons whomsoever, not being inhabitants of the Native Race, to any lands or hereditaments within the said Islands or any part thereof, or to the occupation or enjoyment of the same, which shall be acquired or derived through or under any grant, gift, contract, or conveyance, or otherwise howsoever, from any of the inhabitants of the Native Race in the said Islands, after the time of the making of the said Proclamation, shall have any force or validity, other than such titles or claims as shall be acquired or derived by or through the said Commissioners, according to the provisions of this Act"—as essentially unjust; conferring as it does, upon the Commissioners named in the Bill, an exorbitant and despotic power over the whole territory of both Islands, and, by consequence, rendering the Missionaries wholly dependent on the Commissioners for every foot of land for the most necessary objects of the Mission.

That your Petitioners further view with alarm the project of committing powers the most extensive, both legislative, executive, civil and military, to a Board of Commissioners authorised to supply vacancies in their own body; but responsible neither to the Crown nor to Parliament, except as any Member may be removed by the majority of their own body with the consent of Her Majesty.

That, in the present circumstances of New Zealand, passing from a state of barbarism to a state of civilization based on Christianity—and needing during that period, probably not of long duration, if not broken in upon by the proposed process of colonization, the fostering counsel and influence of a Country happy in the possession of well-matured institutions—it would, your Petitioners earnestly represent, confer distinguished honour on this Country, beneficently to take upon itself this office of international charity, by aiding the Chiefs of New Zealand, as the Heads of an Independent Foreign State, in introducing law and government into their country; and thus to enable the Great Britain of the Southern Hemisphere to rise to that position among the Nations of the earth to which her geographical position, her insular situation, her climate, her waters, and her natural productions, entitle her to aspire.

That, in adverting to the situation and natural advantages of the Islands of New Zealand, your Petitioners may be permitted to press on the attention of your Honourable House the vast importance of the bearing of the measures which may now be adopted, not only on the well-being and existence of the Aboriginal Race of New Zealand, but on the present state and future prospects of the inhabitants of the countless Islands of the Pacific, and even on the great Continents of which they form the connecting link.

Your Petitioners, therefore, respectfully implore your Honourable House not to pass the New-Zealand Bill, nor to adopt any measure involving, as your Petitioners are persuaded the Bill in question does, a violation of the Rights and Liberties of the Natives of the Islands of New Zealand; and tending to impede and interrupt those labours of the Missionaries which have already so largely benefitted the Natives; and which, if not so impeded or interrupted, promise fully to impart to them the blessings of true Religion and Civilization.

That your Petitioners further pray, that they may be heard by Counsel against the Bill, on behalf of the Natives of New Zealand, whose rights and independence are affected by the provisions of the Bill, and whose progress in Christianity and Civilization is thereby endangered.

And your Petitioners will ever pray, &c.

By Order of the Committee of the Church Missionary Society,

☞ It is requested that Committees of Associations will transmit a List of Contributors to their respective Associations, with a copy of the BALANCE SHEET, to the Society's Office, made up to the period of their several Anniversaries.

ASSOCIATIONS IN AND NEAR LONDON.

 Some misapprehension having arisen with regard to the Association Balance Sheets appended to the Society's Report, the Committee beg to state that there is no connexion between those Balance Sheets and the Balance Sheet of the Parent Committee. The Association Accounts are, for the most part, made up to the period of their respective Anniversary Meetings, and thus, necessarily, vary from the Parent Committee's Balance Sheet, which includes the actual payments made at the Society's House between April 1st and 31st March in each year, and is, therefore, quite irrespective of the periods at which, for local convenience, Association Accounts are made up and balanced. An Account Current is kept at the Society's Office with each Association, by which the actual transmission of its receipts to the Parent Committee is shown. The appending to the Society's Report of the Balance Sheets of the Associations may be regarded as a universal acknowledgment to the local Contributors that their Contributions have been received by the Parent Committee; though the varying periods at which, as above stated, those Accounts are made up, render it impossible that their totals should correspond with the amount received from Associations, specified in the Parent Committee's Balance Sheet.

It is further to be observed, that there are other causes of discrepancy, beside that of difference in time, which has the effect of swelling the amount acknowledged in the Association Balance Sheets beyond that which is exhibited in the Balance Sheet appended to the Report; inasmuch as Legacies, Benefactions, &c., although paid direct, are frequently claimed by an Association, the Benefactor having lived within the limits of such Association, though the payment was made direct to the Parent Society. As these Accounts have no reference to the Parent Committee's printed Balance Sheet, there has been no hesitation in transferring such amounts, as desired. The effect, however, of this has unavoidably been, in some instances, that the sums transferred have been twice acknowledged; the Committee's Balance Sheet having been made up before notice desiring such transfer was received at the Society's Office.

N.B. Benefactors of Ten Guineas and upward, whose Names have appeared in former Lists of the Associations, will now find them in the General List.

Note.—The Accounts of the Teignmouth Association have been generally made up to the time of the Anniversary. This year, however, they have been made up to Christmas, to agree with the system adopted by the County Association; and the surplus of remittance, 10*l.* 17*s.*, is the sum received between the Anniversary, 1837, and the Christmas of that year; and is to be considered as belonging to that year.

Note.—The Committee being anxious to secure the publication of the Report, in future, at an early period after the Annual Meeting; and the Accounts of this Association not being closed until about June in each year, it has been thought advisable—the List printed in the last Report being for the year ending June 1838—to detain the account for the year ending June 1839, until the next Report.
